

financial disclosure form to assess that there are no financial conflicts of interest, no appearance of lack of impartiality and no prior involvement with the development of the documents under consideration (including previous scientific peer review) before the candidate is considered further for service on the FIFRA SAP.

Those who are selected from the pool of prospective candidates will be asked to attend the public meetings and to participate in the discussion of key issues and assumptions at these meetings. In addition, they will be asked to review and to help finalize the meeting minutes. The list of FIFRA SAP members participating at this meeting will be posted on the FIFRA SAP web site or may be obtained by contacting the PIRIB at the address or telephone number listed in Unit I.

II. Background

A. Purpose of the FIFRA SAP

Amendments to FIFRA enacted November 28, 1975 (7 U.S.C. 136w(d)), include a requirement under section 25(d) of FIFRA that notices of intent to cancel or reclassify pesticide registrations pursuant to section 6(b)(2) of FIFRA, as well as proposed and final forms of regulations pursuant to section 25(a) of FIFRA, be submitted to a SAP prior to being made public or issued to a registrant. In accordance with section 25(d) of FIFRA, the FIFRA SAP is to have an opportunity to comment on the health and environmental impact of such actions. The FIFRA SAP also shall make comments, evaluations, and recommendations for operating guidelines to improve the effectiveness and quality of analyses made by Agency scientists. Members are scientists who have sufficient professional qualifications, including training and experience, to be capable of providing expert comments as to the impact on health and the environment of regulatory actions under sections 6(b) and 25(a) of FIFRA. The Deputy Administrator appoints seven individuals to serve on the FIFRA SAP for staggered terms of 4 years, based on recommendations from the National Institutes of Health and the National Science Foundation.

Section 104 of FQPA (Public Law 104-170) established the FQPA Science Review Board (SRB). These scientists shall be available to the FIFRA SAP on an ad hoc basis to assist in reviews conducted by the FIFRA SAP.

B. Public Meeting

Acute dietary exposure to pesticides is currently assessed using probabilistic models (DEEM-FCID, LifeLine, CARES) that combine the entire distributions of consumption and residue data. These models perform exposure assessments using total daily 24 hour consumption amounts. It is known, however, that the acute toxic effects of certain classes of chemicals are rapidly reversible. In the case of cholinesterase inhibition by carbamates, reversibility occurs within minutes to hours. Thus, the effect of exposure to carbamates should be assessed using consumption data that refer to single eating occasions, or shorter periods of time (less than 24 hours) to reflect the toxicology profiles of these compounds. The FIFRA Scientific Advisory Panel (February 1999) concurred with the validity of using the time-dependent recovery of acetylcholinesterase to assess risks from repeated exposures to aldicarb.

Recent advances in modeling have provided the capability to conduct exposure modeling in periods less than 24 hours. Two modules, designed for compatibility with the CARES model maintained by the International Life Sciences Institute, will be presented. The first module, referred to as the Dietary Minute Module (DMM) allocates daily consumption amount for an individual by minute of a day as recorded in the CSFII database. A user determined elapsed time interval is then applied that reflects the reversibility of cholinesterase activity for the carbamate of interest based on pharmacodynamic or toxicological studies. The time entered defines discrete eating occasions for an individual's day. Each discrete eating occasion ends when a period of consumption is followed by an elapsed time interval in which no consumption of carbamate residues has occurred. A distribution of exposure for all individuals' discrete eating occasions within a day for all days and individuals in the population of interest is then created. The second module, referred to as the Cholinesterase Activity Module (CAM), is a refinement of the DMM. It incorporates the time course for reversibility of exposure to an acetylcholinesterase inhibitor, rather than assuming a fixed elapsed time period. Time dependent changes in exposure are determined from corresponding changes in acetylcholinesterase activity. A more realistic estimate of exposure can then be calculated from a summation of residual activity from all eating events.

C. FIFRA SAP Meeting Minutes

The FIFRA SAP will prepare meeting minutes summarizing its recommendations to the Agency in approximately 90 days after the meeting. The meeting minutes will be posted on the FIFRA SAP web site or may be obtained by contacting the PIRIB at the address or telephone number listed in Unit I.
