Title: Detroit Children's Health Study: Health Effects of Environmental Exposures among Children Living in the Detroit, Michigan Area.

Abstract: This epidemiologic study will be conducted by EPA's National Health and Environmental Effects Research Laboratory. This study will examine the role of long-term environmental exposures, particularly local sources of ambient air pollution, in children's respiratory health conditions such as allergies and asthma. The participation of parents and children in this collection of information is strictly voluntary.

Children's respiratory health will be assessed by a parent-completed questionnaire and by simple measures of the child's lung function and exhaled breath. The twenty-page questionnaire will be distributed to the parents of children enrolled in the fourth and fifth grades at selected public schools in Detroit and Dearborn. The questionnaire includes a request for permission for their child to participate in measurements of lung parameters. Later, at a subset of these schools, those children with parental consent will be asked to perform simple measurements of air flow rates, lung volumes, and exhaled nitric oxide. The schools will be selected based on school location with respect to major roadways and major emission point sources.

Children's long-term environmental exposures will be assessed based on a detailed lifetime residential history from the questionnaire, supplemental air quality measurements collected at a selected group of schools distributed throughout the school district, and an air quality model incorporating geographic information on local sources of air pollutants. Central site measurements of ambient air pollutants will be collected at the time of the lung function examinations.

The collected information will be used to estimate the epidemiologic associations between respiratory health conditions and long-term exposures to ambient air pollutants in the study community. The epidemiologic analysis will examine the association of air quality parameters with a higher prevalence of respiratory conditions, with lower lung function, or with higher levels of exhaled nitric oxide after appropriate control for other determinants of respiratory health.

An agency may not conduct or sponsor, and a person is not required to respond to, a collection of information unless it displays a currently valid OMB control number. The OMB control numbers for EPA's regulations in 40 CFR are listed in 40 CFR part 9 and are identified on the form and/or instrument, if applicable.

Burden Statement: The annual public reporting and recordkeeping burden for this collection of information is 0.4 hours per parent questionnaire and 0.75 hours per set of child respiratory health measures. This survey will not be repeated. Burden means the total time, effort, or financial resources expended by persons to generate, maintain, retain, or disclose or provide information to or for a Federal agency. This includes the time needed to review instructions; develop, acquire, install, and utilize technology and systems for the purposes of collecting, validating, and verifying information, processing and maintaining information, and disclosing and providing information; adjust the existing ways to comply with any previously applicable instructions and requirements; train personnel to be able to respond to a collection of information; search data sources; complete and review the collection of information; and transmit or otherwise disclose the information.

Respondents/Affected Entities: Entities potentially affected by this action are school officials, parents and children in the Detroit and Dearborn Public Schools.

Estimated Number of Respondents: 18,500.

Frequency of Response: Once.

Estimated Total Annual Hour Burden: 8,250 hours.

Estimated Total Annual Cost: $113,468, includes $0 annualized capital or O&M costs and $113,468 in Labor costs.

Dated: May 3, 2005.

Director, Collection Strategies Division.

Nanoscale Materials; Notice of Public Meeting

AGENCY: Environmental Protection Agency (EPA).

ACTION: Notice.

SUMMARY: EPA will conduct a public meeting on nanoscale materials to discuss a potential voluntary pilot program for certain nanoscale materials and the information needed to adequately inform the conduct of the pilot program. Nanoscale materials are chemical substances containing structures in the length scale of approximately 1 to 100 nanometers, and may have different molecular organizations and properties than the same chemical substances in a larger size. Some of the nanoscale materials are new chemical substances subject to notification requirements under section 5 of the Toxic Substances Control Act (TSCA) and, therefore, are subject to review for potential human health and environmental risks before they are manufactured and enter commerce. Other nanoscale materials are existing chemical substances that may enter commerce without notification to EPA. EPA is considering a potential voluntary pilot program for such nanoscale materials. To that end, EPA is requesting comments at the public meeting on: (1) The scope and purpose of a voluntary pilot program for nanoscale materials that are existing chemical substances, (2) kinds of information that are relevant to the evaluation of potential risks from exposure to nanoscale materials, (3) chemical characterization and nomenclature of nanoscale materials for regulatory purposes, and (4) identification of interested stakeholders. These comments will inform EPA on possible approaches to protect human health and the environment from exposure to such chemical substances.

DATES: The meeting will be held on June 23, 2005, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Requests to provide oral comments at the meeting must be received in writing by the technical person listed under FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: before June 9, 2005. Please note that time for oral comments may be limited, depending on the number of requests received.

Requests to attend the meeting may be submitted to the technical person listed under FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: by June 16, 2005. Please note that this advance request will assist in planning adequate seating; however, members of the public can attend without prior notification to the technical person. Requests for special accommodations may be submitted to the technical person by June 16, 2005.

Written comments, identified by docket identification (ID) number OPPT-2004-0122, may be submitted to the docket at any time before the meeting date.

ADDRESSES: The meeting will be held at the Washington Plaza, 10 Thomas Circle NW., Washington, DC 20005.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: For general information contact: Colby Lintner, Regulatory Coordinator, Environmental Assistance Division (7408M), Office of Pollution Prevention and Toxics, Environmental Protection Agency, 1200 Pennsylvania Ave., NW., Washington, DC 20460-0001; telephone number: (202) 554-1404; e-mail address: TSCA-Hotline@epa.gov.
