History

As part of the on-going National Airspace Redesign (NAR), the FAA implemented the HAR Program. This program focuses on developing and implementing improvements in navigation structure and operating methods to allow more flexible and efficient en route operations in the high altitude airspace environment. New RNAV routes provide greater freedom to properly equipped users and achieves the economic benefits of flying user selected non-restrictive routings. The new RNAV routes will be identified by the letter prefix "Q," followed by a number consisting of from one to three digits. The International Civil Aviation Organization (ICAO) has allocated the "Q" prefix, along with the number set one through 499, for use by the U.S. for designating domestic RNAV routes.

Related Rulemaking

On April 8, 2003, by final rule the FAA published in the Federal Register the Designation of Class A, B, C, D, and E Airspace Areas; Air Traffic Service Routes, and Reporting Points (68 FR 16943). The purpose of the rule was to facilitate the establishment of RNAV routes in the NAS for use by aircraft with advanced navigation system capabilities. This rule adopted certain amendments proposed in Notice No. 02-20, RNAV and Miscellaneous Amendments. For example, the rule revised and adopted several definitions contained in FAA regulations, including Air Traffic Service Routes, to comport with ICAO definitions; and reorganized the structure of FAA regulations concerning the designation of Class A, B, C, D, and E airspace areas; airways; routes; and reporting points. On May 9, 2003, a final rule was published in the Federal Register establishing new RNAV routes (68 FR 24864). This rule, which supports Phase I of the HAR, established 11 new RNAV routes along high-density air traffic tracks in the western and north central U.S.

The Proposal

The FAA is proposing to amend Title 14 Code of Federal Regulations (14 CFR) part 71 (part 71) to establish three RNAV routes and revise two existing routes in the Western United States within the airspace assigned to the Seattle and Los Angeles Air Route Traffic Control Centers (ARTCC). These routes were developed as part of the HAR Program to allow more efficient routings. They are being proposed to enhance safety, and to facilitate the more flexible and efficient use of the navigable airspace for en route instrument flight rules (IFR) operations within the Los Angeles and Seattle ARTCC area of responsibility.

The FAA has determined that this proposed regulation only involves an established body of technical regulations for which frequent and routine amendments are necessary to keep them operationally current. Therefore, this proposed regulation: (1) Is not a "significant regulatory action" under Executive Order 12866; (2) is not a "significant rule" under Department of Transportation (DOT) Regulatory Policies and Procedures (44 FR 11034; February 26, 1979); and (3) does not warrant preparation of a regulatory evaluation as the anticipated impact is so minimal. Since this is a routine matter that will only affect air traffic procedures and air navigation, it is certified that this proposed rule, when promulgated, will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities under the criteria of the Regulatory Flexibility Act.

Availability of NPRM

An electronic copy of this document may be downloaded through the Internet at <http://dms.dot.gov>. Recently published rulemaking documents can also be accessed through the FAA's Web page at <http://www.faa.gov> or the Superintendent of Document's Web page at <http://www.access.gpo.gov/nara>.

Additionally, any person may obtain a copy of this notice by submitting a request to the Federal Aviation Administration, Western En Route and Oceanic Area Office, Airspace Branch, 1601 Lind Avenue, S.W., Renton, WA 98055. Proposed Rulemaking Distribution System, which describes the application procedures.

The Proposal

This action would amend Title 14 Code of Federal Regulations, part 71 (14 CFR part 71) by establishing Class E airspace at Chehalis-Centralia Airport, Chehalis, WA. The establishment of a new RNAV GPS SIAP requires additional Class E controlled airspace. Additional Class E airspace extending upward from 700 feet above the surface of the earth is necessary for the safety of IFR aircraft executing the new RNAV GPS SIAPs at Chehalis-Centralia Airport. Controlled airspace is necessary where there is a requirement for IFR services, which includes arrival, departure, and transitioning to/from the terminal or en route environment.

Class E airspace designations are published in paragraph 6005 of FAA Order 7400.9M dated August 30, 2004, and effective September 16, 2004, which is incorporated by reference in 14 CFR 71.1. The Class E airspace designation listed in this document will be published subsequently in this order.

The FAA has determined that this proposed regulation only involves an established body of technical regulations for which frequent and routine amendments are necessary to keep them operationally current. Therefore, this proposed regulation: (1) is not a "significant regulatory action" under Executive Order 12866; (2) is not a "significant rule" under DOT Regulatory Policies and Procedures (44 FR 11034; February 26, 1979); and (3) does not warrant preparation of a regulatory evaluation as the anticipated impact is so minimal. Since this is a routine matter that will only affect air traffic procedures and air navigation, it is certified that this proposed rule would not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities under the criteria of the Regulatory Flexibility Act.
