

income at an inappropriate percentage yield under the Statement of Position. Therefore, the agencies have decided against revising their statement in the March 2005 proposal that decreases in originally expected cash flows on a purchased impaired loan should be recognized as an impairment through an addition to the loan loss allowance.

In its comment letter, the trade group from outside the banking industry did not address the SOP 03-3 revisions, but requested that the agencies revise several other items in the Call Report. The agencies will consider these suggested Call Report changes at a later date.

D. Other Matters

Call Report Schedule RC-R—“Regulatory Capital, does not currently allow a bank to report an amount in column B, “Items Not Subject to Risk-Weighting,” of item 34, “Cash and balances due from depository institutions,” because such items were not expected to exist within this asset category when this schedule was originally designed. However, when amounts are included in column A, “Totals (from Schedule RC⁸),” of item 34 for certain embedded derivatives, these embedded derivatives should be risk-weighted under the rules for derivatives rather than the rules that apply to the cash and due from asset account. As a result, banks contacted the agencies upon finding that they could not properly report the carrying amount of these derivatives in column B when allocating the total carrying amount of their “Cash and balances due from depository institutions” across the columns of item 34. In response to banks’ comments about this reporting difficulty, the agencies are revising Schedule RC-R to permit the use of column B of item 34.

A number of banks have requested that they be permitted to provide USA PATRIOT Act Section 314(a) Anti-Money Laundering contact information for more than two contact persons at their institutions. The agencies are adding text fields for two additional contact persons that will enable a bank, at its option, to supply information for a third and fourth anti-money laundering contact person. This contact information is not released to the public.

III. Request for Comment

(d) Ways to minimize the burden of information collections on respondents, including through the use of automated collection techniques or other forms of information technology; and
