

Background and Brief Description

Persistent organic pollutants (POPs) are a group of man-made chemicals that can stay in the environment for long periods of time and can be transported long distances in the environment. Heavy metals such as lead and mercury are naturally found substances that can also be released into the environment as a result of human activities (e.g., smelting). Exposure to these contaminants, even at low levels, may lead to adverse health effects, particularly in high-risk groups such as the unborn child. However, before we attempt to determine if these contaminants are associated with health effects, we have to find out if these contaminants are present in our blood and in what amounts. The Arctic Monitoring and Assessment Program (AMAP), established in 1991 under the Arctic Environmental Protection Strategy (AEPS), has the responsibility to monitor levels and assess effects of selected pollutants (i.e., POPs and heavy metals) in all Arctic locations. To our knowledge, a similar integrated program for monitoring exposure to POPs and metals does not exist in North America.

The proposed program will monitor levels of POPs and heavy metals in first-time pregnant (Primiparous) women. The program will help determine geographical and temporal trends of these exposures in selected cities within the United States, Canada, and Mexico. CDC will be responsible for the investigation in the United States; Canada and Mexico will be responsible for the investigation in their countries. The findings will inform first-time pregnant women in the vicinity of the study sites of their exposure to selected POPs and heavy metals. This program will also provide unique information regarding accumulation of POPs and heavy metals in relation to dietary patterns, and will allow assessment of trends in diet, which is critical public health information. Biomonitoring for POPs and metals will enhance awareness among this vulnerable population of the risks posed by these chemicals in various regions of North America and help identify ways to reduce exposure. The program will enroll 25 pregnant women (20–25 years of age) per site (United States: 5 sites; Canada: 5 sites; Mexico: 10 sites). The current protocol only describes and seeks approval for enrollment of 75 pregnant women from three of the five U.S. sites. Two U.S. sites have ongoing studies, in collaboration with CDC, where they are testing maternal blood for POPs and metals; these two sites are non-federal, academic institutions, and CDC does not have a formal funding agreement with these institutions. Data from previous projects in the United States and Canada will be used for comparing results of the current project. As there has been little national or regional monitoring in Mexico, more sites will be selected in Mexico than in the United States and Canada.

In collaboration with obstetricians at the local sites, study participants will be recruited during their prenatal clinic visit, after their 36th week of pregnancy but prior to delivery. One person from the study team will approach the mother during a routine prenatal visit, explain the project, and obtain signed consent if the mother is willing to participate. The study will involve administering an exposure questionnaire and collection of blood and urine samples during the 3rd trimester of the pregnancy. This is only a one-time study; blood collection and administration of the questionnaire will only be done once. All samples will be analyzed at a single laboratory in each country, and the results will be distributed to the study participants and their physicians prior to publication. There are no costs to respondents other than their time. The estimated total annualized burden hours are 53 hours.

Estimate of Annualized Burden Table:

Type or respondents	Number of respondents	Number of responses per respondent	Average burden per response (in hrs.)
Screening First-time Pregnant Women	106	1	5/60
Demographic and Health History Questionnaire	75	1	10/60
Food Frequency Questionnaire	75	1	25/60

Announcement Type: Initial.

Funding Opportunity Number: HHS–2005–ACF–ACYF–EV–0031.

CFDA Number: 93.592.

Due Date For Letter of Intent: Letter of Intent is due June 29, 2005.

Due Date for Applications: Application is due July 25, 2005.

Executive Summary Demonstration of Enhanced Services to Children and Youth Who Have Been Exposed to Domestic Violence

The Administration for Children and Families (ACF) announces this funding opportunity to offer awards for the demonstration of enhanced services for children and youth who have been exposed to domestic violence.

I. Funding Opportunity Description

Authorizing Statutes and Regulations: The Family Violence Prevention and Services Act (the Act) was originally enacted in sections 301–313 of Title III of the “Child Abuse Amendments of 1984” (Pub. L. 98–457, 10/9/84). The Act was most recently amended by the “Keeping Children and Families Safe Act of 2003” (Pub. L. 108–36).

Program and Focus Areas: It is the purpose of these demonstration grants to provide enhanced services and support to the children and youth who have been exposed to domestic violence in order to mitigate the impact of that exposure and increase the opportunity for these children and youth to lead healthy, non-violent, and safe lives as adults. The proposed demonstrations require the collaboration of the State agency that administers the family violence prevention and services programs and the State domestic violence coalition within that state. The collaboration need not be limited to the above entities but must include them as principal participants. The lead applicant may be the coalition or the family violence administrating State agency. The demonstration will address the specific effects of exposure to domestic violence, including the traumatic responses which may inhibit the positive development of children and youth.

Priority Area 1: Demonstration of Enhanced Services to Children and Youth Who Have Been Exposed to Domestic Violence

1. Description

Background: The Safe and Bright Futures Departmental initiative afforded the Family and Youth Services Bureau (FYSB), within the Administration on Children, Youth and Families (ACYF), Administration for Children and Families (ACF), the opportunity to support the development of a more comprehensive set of improved children's services, particularly for children and youth who have been exposed to domestic violence. There exists an abundance of documentation that have as their major premise that growing up in a violent home can dramatically impact children. Various studies have identified the emotional and cognitive costs to children exposed to domestic violence.

In an article for the National Electronic Network on Violence Against Women (VAWnet, 1997) Edleson cited the associated problems with children witnessing violence. (Our use of "witness" should not be equated with the legal sense of the word.) Children who witnessed violence were also found to show more anxiety, loss of self-esteem, depression, anger and temperament problems. These children were also shown to exhibit less skill in understanding how others feel and [to examine] situations from other [persons] perspectives when compared to children from non-violent households. In addition to the behavioral and emotional problems, Edleson also cited cognitive, attitude, and physical functioning inadequacies of children who have witnessed or have been exposed to domestic violence.

Parent-child relationships have been shown to be a key factor in how children are affected by witnessing (being exposed to) domestic violence (Wolfe, Jaffe, Wilson and Zak, 1985). Durant, et al. (1994) found that family support and children's perception of their parental relationship were key parental-child variables in how children were affected. Edleson argues, however, that we need to be aware of the over reliance on a single reporter in the studies that are available, that few investigators have ventured beyond the repeated use of the Child Behavior Checklist or the Trauma Symptoms Checklist. Edleson presses the point that there is not currently a standardized measure developed that addresses the unique problems experienced by children who witness violence at home. These experiences would include: The child's perception of safety, the support network among the family and friends, the effect of visitation arrangements, and changed economic factors. The experience of each child in being exposed to domestic violence is a unique happening. Each child, Edleson argues, depending upon its age, gender, time exposed, and relationships to the adults in their lives, will experience violence in different ways. The ultimate goal is to identify ways to provide safety and services to the children and to the adults who reside in their homes.

The Stop Family Violence Stamp provides the revenue stream for the current funding opportunity in support of enhanced services to children who have been exposed to domestic violence. It is difficult to foretell the length of time that the proceeds from the sale of the stamp will be available but the activity has provided the energy to establish a comprehensive set of enhanced children's services and provide them through a sequence of technical assistance, training and demonstration efforts.

Moreover, the current legislation for the Family Violence Prevention and Services program has projected that at the point that ACF's budget exceeds $130 million a "portion of that excess" must be dedicated to the improvement and provision of services to children who have been exposed to domestic violence. We view this announcement as being preparatory for that activity and providing us with the time and opportunity to engage our State and non-profit partners in the development of those required services, while taking advantage of the work that is progressing with the Safe Start Projects and the Greenbook collaborations.

The need to expand services and supports for children exposed to domestic violence and is particularly acute in at least three areas:

- Expanding the capacity of domestic violence programs to address the needs of children and adolescents coming into emergency shelters. On average, domestic programs provide emergency shelter to twice as many children as adults. As contrasted to those seeking other types of services from a domestic-violence program, those who are seeking emergency shelter are typically experiencing higher levels of violence, are more isolated, and often lack other resources and supports. These children may be at higher risk for ongoing violence and often face the most serious disruptions in their lives due to the violence and their parents' attempts to escape it. This group of sheltered children should be a priority population for any initiative focusing on children exposed to domestic violence.

- Expanding the capacity of domestic violence programs to address the needs of non-sheltered families and their children. The vast majority of families reaching out for services from a domestic violence program neither seek nor need emergency shelter, but instead use other services and supports provided by the programs such as support groups, court and welfare advocacy services, information and referral, and counseling. As with the group of children referenced above, these are children of parents who have sought help in dealing with domestic violence and often need more assistance in dealing with its impact on their children than is currently available.

In both of these two preceding areas, the ability of a community-based domestic violence program, whether shelter-based or not, to provide specialized, age- and culturally-appropriate services and supports to children in the shelter, as well as their abused parent, varies significantly across the country and is primarily a function of the funding available to provide such enhanced children's services.

- Developing and enhancing community-based interventions for children exposed to domestic violence whose parent have not sought services or support from a domestic violence program. For these families, the design and competent use of linguistically- and culturally-competent screening and assessment tools becomes particularly important. Services and treatment, whether provided by faith-based organizations, child and youth agencies, schools, health or mental health agencies, must attend to the safety needs of children AND the abused parent.

Four issues that must be attended to in all program services focusing on children exposed to domestic violence are:

- Ensure that these programs and services attach no stigma to program participation and do not define exposure to domestic violence as per se child abuse or neglect;
- Provide linguistically and culturally competent, as well as developmentally and age appropriate programming and services, which responsibly address confidentiality issues and custody implications;

- Ensure that all professionals working with children as part of these demonstrations receive the training they need to respond appropriately to children exposed to domestic violence; and

- Address the safety of the non-abusing parent and support their ongoing care-giving capacity.

Minimum Requirements: These requirements identify the minimum expectations for the demonstration grants that are to offer and provide services to children who have been exposed to domestic violence. Applicants for these demonstration grants should:

Specifically: Identify, design and test approaches for providing enhanced and direct services for the children of the abused parent being served in shelters or through other services of the domestic violence program; and/or Develop an expanded capacity to work within community collaborations and with institutional efforts focused on responding to children exposed to domestic violence.

Generally: Provide specialized age- and culturally-appropriate services and support to children in the shelter, as well as to the abused parent, related to their role as parent;

Provide the collaborative prevention/intervention services that will be available for children who have been exposed to domestic violence;

Provide the training that needs to be available to service providers to effectively deliver services to children who have been exposed;

Develop the process and assure the confidentiality of the children who have been exposed, and the adult victim of domestic violence, from sharing information without the informed written consent of the adult;

Provide and design specific services that are responsive to the needs of children who have witnessed domestic violence, these services may include: Respite care; mental health care; counseling; child care; transportation; education; legal advocacy; and supervised visitation;

Provide the linkages and cooperation that must be developed with other helping systems and agencies to ensure services and safety to the child and the adult victim;

Provide and develop educational materials that are age appropriate for intervention and prevention services for children who have been exposed to domestic violence;

Agree to cooperate and to participate in evaluation efforts supported by the Family Violence Prevention and Services Program that will measure the impact and effect of the interventions, collaborations, and comprehensive services to the children and youth who have been exposed to domestic violence; and

Develop a dissemination strategy by which the expertise, information and experience generated in these demonstrations can be distributed for maximum application to providers of services to children and the non-abusive adult victim.

4. Intergovernmental Review

State Single Point of Contact (SPOC)

This program is covered under Executive Order 12372, "Intergovernmental Review of Federal Programs," and 45 CFR part 100, "Intergovernmental Review of Department of Health and Human Services Programs and Activities." Under the Order, States may design their own processes for reviewing and commenting on proposed Federal assistance under covered programs.

As of October 1, 2004, the following jurisdictions have elected to participate in the Executive Order process:

Arkansas, California, Delaware, District of Columbia, Florida, Georgia, Illinois, Iowa, Kentucky, Maine, Maryland, Michigan, Mississippi, Missouri, Nevada, New Hampshire, New Mexico, New York, North Dakota, Rhode Island, South Carolina, Texas, Utah, West Virginia, Wisconsin, American Samoa, Guam, North Mariana Islands, Puerto Rico, and Virgin Islands. As these jurisdictions have elected to participate in the Executive Order process, they have established SPOCs. Applicants from participating jurisdictions should contact their SPOC, as soon as possible, to alert them of prospective applications and receive instructions. Applicants must submit all required materials, if any, to the SPOC and indicate the date of this submittal (or the date of contact if no submittal is required) on the Standard Form 424, item 16a.

Under 45 CFR 100.8(a)(2), a SPOC has 60 days from the application deadline to comment on proposed new or competing continuation awards. SPOCs are encouraged to eliminate the submission of routine endorsements as official recommendations. Additionally, SPOCs are requested to clearly differentiate between mere advisory comments and those official State process recommendations which may trigger the "accommodate or explain" rule.

When comments are submitted directly to ACF, they should be addressed to the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, Administration for Children and Families, Office of Grants Management, Division of Discretionary Grants, 370 L'Enfant Promenade SW., 4th floor, Washington, DC 20447.

Although the remaining jurisdictions have chosen not to participate in the process, entities that meet the eligibility requirements of the program are still eligible to apply for a grant even if a State, Territory, Commonwealth, etc. does not have a SPOC. Therefore, applicants from these jurisdictions, or for projects administered by federally-recognized Indian Tribes, need take no action in regard to E.O. 12372.

The official list, including addresses, of the jurisdictions elected to participate in E.O. 12372 can be found on the following URL: <http://www.whitehouse.gov/omb/grants/spoc.html>.

5. Funding Restrictions

Grant awards will not allow reimbursement of pre-award costs.

Construction and purchase of real property are not allowable activities or expenditures under this program.

ACYF will not fund any project where the role of the applicant is to serve as a conduit for funds to organizations other than the applicant. The applicant must have a substantive role in the implementation of the project for which the funding is requested. This prohibition does not bar the making of sub-grants or sub-contracting for specific services or activities needed to conduct the project.

6. Other Submission Requirements

Submission by Mail: An applicant must provide an original application with all attachments, signed by an authorized representative and two copies. The application must be received at the address below by 4:30 p.m. eastern time on or before the closing date. V. Application Review Information

The Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995 (Pub. L. 104-13)

Public reporting burden for this collection of information is estimated to average 25 hours per response, including the time for reviewing instructions, gathering and maintaining the data needed and reviewing the collection information.

The project description is approved under OMB control number 0970-0139 which expires 4/30/2007. An agency may not conduct or sponsor, and a person is not required to respond to, a collection of information unless it displays a currently valid OMB control number.

1. Criteria

Purpose

The project description provides a major means by which an application is evaluated and ranked to compete with other applications for available assistance. The project description should be concise and complete and should address the activity for which Federal funds are being requested. Supporting documents should be included where they can present information clearly and succinctly. In preparing your project description, information responsive to each of the requested evaluation criteria must be provided. Awarding offices use this and other information in making their funding recommendations. It is important, therefore, that this information be included in the application in a manner that is clear and complete.

Introduction

Applicants required to submit a full project description shall prepare the project description statement in accordance with the following instructions while being aware of the specified evaluation criteria. The text options give a broad overview of what your project description should include while the evaluation criteria identifies the measures that will be used to evaluate applications.

Project Summary/Abstract

Provide a summary of the project description (a page or less) with reference to the funding request.

Objectives and Need for Assistance

Clearly identify the physical, economic, social, financial, institutional, and/or other problem(s) requiring a solution. The need for assistance must be demonstrated and the principal and subordinate objectives of the project must be clearly stated; supporting documentation, such as letters of support and testimonials from concerned interests other than the applicant, may be included. Any relevant data based on planning studies should be included or referred to in the endnotes/footnotes. Incorporate demographic data and participant/beneficiary information, as needed. In developing the project description, the applicant may volunteer or be requested to provide information on the total range of projects currently being conducted and supported (or to be initiated), some of which may be outside the scope of the program announcement.

Results or Benefits Expected

Identify the results and benefits to be derived. For example, describe the population to be served by the program. Explain how the project will reach the targeted population; how it will benefit participants.

Approach

Outline a plan of action that describes the scope and detail of how the proposed work will be accomplished. Account for all functions or activities identified in the application. Cite factors that might accelerate or decelerate the work and state your reason for taking the proposed approach rather than others. Describe any unusual features of the project such as design or technological innovations, reductions in cost or time, or extraordinary social and community involvement.

Provide quantitative monthly or quarterly projections of the accomplishments to be achieved for each function or activity in such terms as the number of people to be served and the number of activities accomplished. Account for all functions or activities identified in the application.

When accomplishments cannot be quantified by activity or function, list them in chronological order to show the schedule of accomplishments and their target dates.

If any data is to be collected, maintained, and/or disseminated, clearance may be required from the U.S. Office of Management and Budget (OMB). This clearance pertains to any "collection of information that is conducted or sponsored by ACF."

List organizations, cooperating entities, consultants, or other key individuals who will work on the project along with a short description of the nature of their effort or contribution.

Evaluation

Provide a narrative addressing how the conduct of the project and the results of the project will be evaluated. In addressing the evaluation of results, state how you will determine the extent to which the project has achieved its stated objectives and the extent to which the accomplishment of objectives can be attributed to the project. Discuss the criteria to be used to evaluate results, and explain the methodology that will be used to determine if the needs identified and discussed are being met and if the project results and benefits are being achieved. With respect to the conduct of the project, define the procedures to be employed to determine whether the project is being conducted in a manner consistent with the work plan presented and discuss the impact of the project's various activities on the project's effectiveness.

Staff and Position Data

Provide a biographical sketch and job description for each key person appointed. Job descriptions for each vacant key position should be included as well. As new key staff is appointed, biographical sketches will also be required.

Organizational Profiles

Provide information on the applicant organization(s) and cooperating partners, such as organizational charts, financial statements, audit reports or statements from CPAs/Licensed Public Accountants, Employer Identification Numbers, names of bond carriers, contact persons and telephone numbers, child care licenses and other documentation of professional accreditation, information on compliance with Federal/State/local government standards, documentation of experience in the program area, and other pertinent information. If the applicant is a non-profit organization, submit proof of non-profit status in its application.

The non-profit agency can accomplish this by providing: (a) A reference to the applicant organization's listing in the Internal Revenue Service's (IRS) most recent list of tax-exempt organizations described in the IRS Code; (b) a copy of a currently valid IRS tax exemption certificate, (c) a statement from a State taxing body, State attorney general, or other appropriate State official certifying that the applicant organization has a non-profit status and that none of the net earnings accrue to any private shareholders or individuals; (d) a certified copy of the organization's certificate of incorporation or similar document that clearly establishes non-profit status, (e) any of the items immediately above for a State or national parent organization and a statement signed by the parent organization that the applicant organization is a local non-profit affiliate.

Third-Party Agreements

Provide written and signed agreements between grantees and subgrantees or subcontractors or other cooperating entities. These agreements must detail scope of work to be performed, work schedules, remuneration, and other terms and conditions that structure or define the relationship.

Letters of Support

Provide statements from community, public and commercial leaders that support the project proposed for funding. All submissions should be included in the application OR by application deadline.

Budget and Budget Justification

Provide a budget with line item detail and detailed calculations for each budget object class identified on the Budget Information form. Detailed calculations must include estimation methods, quantities, unit costs, and other similar quantitative detail sufficient for the calculation to be duplicated. Also include a breakout by the funding sources identified in Block 15 of the SF-424.

Provide a narrative budget justification that describes how the categorical costs are derived. Discuss the necessity, reasonableness, and allocability of the proposed costs.

General

Use the following guidelines for preparing the budget and budget justification. Both Federal and non-

Federal resources shall be detailed and justified in the budget and narrative justification. "Federal resources" refers only to the ACF grant for which you are applying. "Non-Federal resources" are all other Federal and non-Federal resources. It is suggested that budget amounts and computations be presented in a columnar format: first column, object class categories; second column, Federal budget; next column(s), non-Federal budget(s), and last column, total budget. The budget justification should be a narrative.

Personnel

Description: Costs of employee salaries and wages.

Justification: Identify the project director or principal investigator, if known. For each staff person, provide the title, time commitment to the project (in months), time commitment to the project (as a percentage or full-time equivalent), annual salary, grant salary, wage rates, etc. Do not include the costs of consultants or personnel costs of delegate agencies or of specific project(s) or businesses to be financed by the applicant.

Fringe Benefits

Description: Costs of employee fringe benefits unless treated as part of an approved indirect cost rate.

Justification: Provide a breakdown of the amounts and percentages that comprise fringe benefit costs such as health insurance, FICA, retirement insurance, taxes, etc.

Travel

Description: Costs of project-related travel by employees of the applicant organization (does not include costs of consultant travel).

Justification: For each trip, show the total number of traveler(s), travel destination, duration of trip, per diem, mileage allowances, if privately owned vehicles will be used, and other transportation costs and subsistence allowances. Travel costs for key staff to attend ACF-sponsored workshops should be detailed in the budget.

Equipment

Description: "Equipment" means an article of nonexpendable, tangible personal property having a useful life of more than one year and an acquisition cost which equals or exceeds the lesser of (a) the capitalization level established by the organization for the financial statement purposes, or (b) $5,000. (Note: Acquisition cost means the net invoice unit price of an item of equipment, including the cost of any modifications, attachments, accessories, or auxiliary apparatus necessary to make it usable for the purpose for which it is acquired. Ancillary charges, such as taxes, duty, protective in-transit insurance, freight, and installation shall be included in or excluded from acquisition cost in accordance with the organization's regular written accounting practices.)

Justification: For each type of equipment requested, provide a description of the equipment, the cost per unit, the number of units, the total cost, and a plan for use on the project, as well as use or disposal of the equipment after the project ends. An applicant organization that uses its own definition for equipment should provide a copy of its policy or section of its policy which includes the equipment definition.

Supplies

Description: Costs of all tangible personal property other than that included under the Equipment category.

Justification: Specify general categories of supplies and their costs. Show computations and provide other information which supports the amount requested.

Contractual

Description: Costs of all contracts for services and goods except for those that belong under other categories such as equipment, supplies, construction, etc. Include third party evaluation contracts (if applicable) and contracts with secondary recipient organizations, including delegate agencies and specific project(s) or businesses to be financed by the applicant.

Justification: Demonstrate that all procurement transactions will be conducted in a manner to provide, to the maximum extent practical, open and free competition. Recipients and subrecipients, other than States that are required to use Part 92 procedures, must justify any anticipated procurement action that is expected to be awarded without competition and exceed the simplified acquisition threshold fixed at 41 U.S.C. 403(11) (currently set at $100,000).

Recipients might be required to make available to ACF pre-award review and procurement documents, such as request for proposals or invitations for bids, independent cost estimates, etc.

Note: Whenever the applicant intends to delegate part of the project to another agency, the applicant must provide a detailed budget and budget narrative for each delegate agency, by agency title, along with the required supporting information referred to in these instructions.

Other

Enter the total of all other costs. Such costs, where applicable and appropriate, may include but are not limited to insurance, food, medical and dental costs (noncontractual), professional services costs, space and equipment rentals, printing and publication, computer use, training costs, such as tuition and stipends, staff development costs, and administrative costs.

Justification: Provide computations, a narrative description and a justification for each cost under this category.

Indirect Charges

Description: Total amount of indirect costs. This category should be used only when the applicant currently has an indirect cost rate approved by the Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) or another cognizant Federal agency.

Justification: An applicant that will charge indirect costs to the grant must enclose a copy of the current rate agreement. If the applicant organization is in the process of initially developing or renegotiating a rate, upon notification that an award will be made, it should immediately develop a tentative indirect cost rate proposal based on its most recently completed fiscal year, in accordance with the cognizant agency's guidelines for establishing indirect cost rates, and submit it to the cognizant agency. Applicants awaiting approval of their indirect cost proposals may also request indirect costs. When an indirect cost rate is requested, those costs included in the indirect cost pool should not also be charged as direct costs to the grant. Also, if the applicant is requesting a rate which is less than what is allowed under the program, the authorized representative of the applicant organization must submit a signed acknowledgement that the applicant is accepting a lower rate than allowed.

Evaluation Criteria: The following evaluation criteria appear in weighted descending order. The corresponding score values indicate the relative importance that ACF places on each evaluation criterion; however, applicants need not develop their applications precisely according to the order presented. Application components may be organized such that a reviewer will be able to follow a seamless and logical flow of information (i.e., from a broad overview of the project to more detailed information about how it will be conducted).

In considering how applicants will carry out the responsibilities addressed under this announcement, competing applications for financial assistance will be reviewed and evaluated against the following criteria:

Approach 30 Points

The extent to which the application outlines a sound and workable plan of action pertaining to the scope of the project, and details how the proposed work will be accomplished, the provision of services and the range of services to be provided; relates each task to the objectives and identifies key staff members who will be the lead persons; provides a chart indicating the timetable for completing each task, the lead person, and the time committed; cites factors which might accelerate or decelerate the work, giving acceptable reasons for taking this approach as opposed to others; describes and supports any unusual features of the project, such as collaborations, agency and organizational relationships, design or technological innovations, reductions in cost or time, or extraordinary social and community involvement in the planning and implementation.

The extent to which the application discusses in detail and provides documentation for any collaborative or coordinated efforts with other agencies or organizations. The extent to which the identification of these agencies or organizations explains how their participation will enhance this project.

2. Review and Selection Process

Since ACF will be using non-Federal reviewers in the process, applicants have the option of omitting from the application copies (not the original) specific salary rates or amounts for individuals specified in the application budget and Social Security Numbers, if otherwise required for individuals. The copies may include summary salary information.

Approved but Unfunded Applications

Applications that are approved but unfunded may be held over for funding in the next funding cycle, pending the availability of funds, for a period not to exceed one year.

BILLING CODE 4184-01-P

DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH AND HUMAN SERVICES

Administration for Children and Families

Administration on Children, Youth and Families, Children's Bureau; Demonstration Projects That Improve Child Well-Being by Fostering Healthy Marriages Within Underserved Communities

Announcement Type: Initial.

Funding Opportunity Number: HHS-2005-ACF-ACYF-CA-0089.

CFDA Number: 93.670.

Due Date for Applications:

Application is due August 8, 2005.

Executive Summary: This funding announcement seeks proposals that improve child well-being by removing barriers to and strengthening family formation and healthy marriage in underserved communities. The Children's Bureau believes that by designing strategies to target funding for healthy marriage activities to community-based agencies in underserved communities where high rates of child protection and foster care resources are used, child well-being may be improved and the rate of children of color in foster care could be reduced. Projects will explore and remove barriers to forming lasting families and healthy marriages as a means to promote the well-being of children and families who are at risk of entering, or are already in the child welfare system. Projects will also explore what particular services, delivery, and outreach efforts designed to support the formation and stability of healthy marriages are most effective at helping children and families in targeted communities.

Grantees must comply with applicable laws, including those that prohibit discrimination on the basis of race, color, national origin, disability, and age in their programs.

I. Funding Opportunity Description

Priority Area 1: Demonstration Projects That Improve Child Well-Being by Fostering Healthy Marriages within Underserved Communities

1. Description

This funding announcement seeks proposals that improve child well-being by removing barriers to and strengthening family formation and healthy marriage in underserved communities. The Children's Bureau believes that by designing strategies to target funding for healthy marriage activities to community-based agencies in underserved communities where high rates of child protection and foster care resources are used, child well-being may be improved and the rate of children of color in foster care could be reduced. Projects will explore and remove barriers to forming lasting families and healthy marriages as a means to promote the well-being of children and families who are at risk of entering, or are already in the child welfare system. Projects will also explore what particular services, delivery, and outreach efforts designed to support the formation and stability of healthy marriages are most effective at helping children and families in targeted communities.

Grantees must comply with applicable laws, including those that prohibit discrimination on the basis of race, color, national origin, disability, and age in their programs.

Background

The Administration for Children and Families (ACF) Healthy Marriage Initiative (HMI) seeks to improve child well-being by helping those who choose marriage for themselves to develop the skills and knowledge necessary to form and sustain healthy marriages. Research demonstrates the strong correlation between family structure and a family's social and economic well-being.
