

Indian Tribal Governments

This proposed rule does not have tribal implications under Executive Order 13175, Consultation and Coordination with Indian Tribal Governments, because it would not have a substantial direct effect on one or more Indian tribes, on the relationship between the Federal Government and Indian tribes, or on the distribution of power and responsibilities between the Federal Government and Indian tribes.

Energy Effects

We have analyzed this proposed rule under Executive Order 13211, Actions Concerning Regulations That Significantly Affect Energy Supply, Distribution, or Use. We have determined that it is not a "significant energy action" under that order because it is not a "significant regulatory action" under Executive Order 12866 and is not likely to have a significant adverse effect on the supply, distribution, or use of energy. The Administrator of the Office of Information and Regulatory Affairs has not designated it as a significant energy action. Therefore, it does not require a Statement of Energy Effects under Executive Order 13211.

Technical Standards

The National Technology Transfer and Advancement Act (NTTAA) (15 U.S.C. 272 note) directs agencies to use voluntary consensus standards in their regulatory activities unless the agency provides Congress, through the Office of Management and Budget, with an explanation of why using these standards would be inconsistent with applicable law or otherwise impractical. Voluntary consensus standards are technical standards (e.g., specifications of materials, performance, design, or operation; test methods; sampling procedures; and related management systems practices) that are developed or adopted by voluntary consensus standards bodies.

This proposed rule does not use technical standards. Therefore, we did not consider the use of voluntary consensus standards.

Environment

We have analyzed this proposed rule under Commandant Instruction M16475.ID, which guides the Coast Guard in complying with the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969 (NEPA) (42 U.S.C. 4321-4370f), and have concluded that there are no factors in this case that would limit the use of a categorical exclusion under section 2.B.2 of the Instruction. Therefore, this proposed rule is categorically excluded, under figure 2-1, paragraph (32)(e) of the Instruction, from further environmental documentation.

II. Background

EPA is announcing the availability of a draft schedule for the registration review of pesticides. To develop the draft schedule, EPA used procedures described in proposed procedural regulations for the registration review of pesticides published in the Federal Register of July 13, 2005 (70 FR 40251).

The draft schedule is, in effect, a model schedule which shows how the Agency could sequence pesticide reviews to meet the goal of reviewing each pesticide's registration every 15 years. As explained in the proposed rule, EPA plans to issue a registration review schedule after completing the final registration review rule, and then update the schedule annually.

The Agency has placed the draft schedule in the docket for the proposed procedural regulations for the registration review of pesticides, OPP-2004-0404. You may electronically access the draft schedule and the proposed procedural regulations from the Agency's E-docket at <http://www.epa.gov/edocket/>.

EPA is making the draft schedule available to assist the public in its review of the proposed procedural regulations for the registration review of pesticides. This notice provides additional information that can be considered when reviewing the proposed regulations, but does not impact the public comment period on the proposed procedural regulations for the registration review of pesticides that ends on October 11, 2005. Although the Agency is not seeking comment on the draft schedule, you may include comments on the draft schedule in your comments on the proposed procedural regulations for the registration review of pesticides. Instructions for submitting comments on the proposed regulations are provided in the Federal Register notice of July 13, 2005 (70 FR 40251).

EPA issued the proposed regulations for the registration review of pesticides under section 3(g) of FIFRA. The statute requires EPA to establish regulations for the periodic review of pesticides to assure that each pesticide registration continues to satisfy the FIFRA standard for registration. The goal is to review each pesticide every 15 years. The registration review program will replace the tolerance reassessment program and the reregistration program as the Agency's means for systematically reviewing existing pesticides.
