is necessary in the public interest or for the protection of investors, it can suspend trading immediately in any security and commence delisting under Section 804.00 of the NYSE's Listed Company Manual. Indeed, the Commission expects the NYSE to suspend trading quickly and commence delisting proceedings immediately against any late filer continuing to trade under these new provisions should it be necessary to do so based on the facts of the particular situation. The Commission intends to monitor the NYSE's use of the proposed exception to its delisting requirement to ensure that such use is in compliance with the procedures and safeguards set forth in this filing.

Finally, the Commission notes that Section 802.01E of the Exchange's Listed Company Manual currently requires the delisting of the securities of any company that is nine months late in filing its annual report on Form 10-K, unless the Exchange determines that an additional three months is appropriate. The Commission believes that changing the initial time frame that a late filer has to be delisted under the rule from nine months to six months is an improvement. However, because in conjunction with this change, the NYSE is proposing to lengthen the additional period the Exchange can allow a late filer to continue to trade from three months to six months, the total specified time periods under the rule for late filers remains 12 months. While the change will have companies reevaluated more quickly for delisting with no assurance the additional six months will be granted, the Commission continues to believe that the NYSE should consider shortening the total timeframes specified under Rule 802.01E for delisting a late filer, as well as extending such requirements to issuers that are late in filing their quarterly reports with the Commission.17

V. Conclusion

It is therefore ordered, pursuant to Section 19(b)(2) of the Act, 18 that the proposed rule change (SR–NYSE–2005–75) is approved.

For the Commission, by the Division of Market Regulation, pursuant to delegated authority.¹⁹

J. Lynn Taylor,

Assistant Secretary.
