

applicators. In addition, EPA is providing interested parties an opportunity to submit risk management proposals for ecological risks of concern including those to birds, mammals, fresh water and marine fish and invertebrates. In targeting these risks of concern, the Agency solicits information on effective and practical risk reduction measures.

EPA seeks to achieve environmental justice, the fair treatment and meaningful involvement of all people, regardless of race, color, national origin, or income, in the development, implementation, and enforcement of environmental laws, regulations, and policies. To help address potential environmental justice issues, the Agency seeks information on any groups or segments of the population who, as a result of their location, cultural practices, or other factors, may have atypical, unusually high exposure to aldicarb, compared to the general population.

EPA is applying the principles of public participation to all pesticides undergoing reregistration and tolerance reassessment. The Agency's Pesticide Tolerance Reassessment and Reregistration; Public Participation Process, published in the Federal Register on May 14, 2004 (69 FR 26819) (FRL-7357-9), explains that in conducting these programs, the Agency is tailoring its public participation process to be commensurate with the level of risk, extent of use, complexity of the issues, and degree of public concern associated with each pesticide. For aldicarb, a modified, 4-Phase process with one comment period and ample opportunity for public consultation seems appropriate in view of its refined risk assessment. However, if as a result of comments received during this comment period EPA finds that additional issues warranting further discussion are raised, the Agency may lengthen the process and include a second comment period, as needed, the decisions presented in the RED may be supplemented by further risk mitigation measures when EPA considers its cumulative assessment of the carbamate pesticides.

All comments should be submitted using the methods in ADDRESSES, and must be received by EPA on or before the closing date. Comments will become part of the Agency docket for aldicarb. Comments received after the close of the comment period will be marked "late." EPA is not required to consider these late comments.

B. What is the Agency's Authority for Taking this Action?

Section 4(g)(2) of FIFRA, as amended, directs that, after submission of all data concerning a pesticide active ingredient, "the Administrator shall determine whether pesticides containing such active ingredient are eligible for reregistration," before calling in product-specific data on individual end-use products and either reregistering products or taking other "appropriate regulatory action."

Section 408(q) of the FFDCA, 21 U.S.C. 346a(q), requires EPA to review tolerances and exemptions for pesticide residues in effect as of August 2, 1996, to determine whether the tolerance or exemption meets the requirements of section 408(b)(2) or (c)(2) of FFDCA. This review is to be completed by August 3, 2006.

1. The Wireless Telecommunications Bureau (Bureau) announces the cancellation of the auction of nine site-based licenses in the 400 MHz general aviation Air-Ground Radiotelephone Service which had been scheduled to begin on August 23, 2006.

2. On March 3, 2006, the Bureau released Auction No. 67 Comment Public Notice, 71 FR 12698, March 13, 2006, announcing the schedule for Auction No. 67 and seeking comment on reserve process or minimum opening bids amount and the procedures to be used in the auction. Participation in Auction No. 67 was to be limited to certain identified parties that had previously filed mutually exclusive applications for the nine 400 MHz Air-Ground licenses. That public notice advised each applicant of the requirement to provide supplemental information by 6 p.m. ET on April 5, 2006, and warned that failure to do so by the deadline would result in dismissal of its application and ineligibility to participate in the auction.

3. The Bureau received no supplemental information regarding any of the nine applicants for Auction No. 67. Accordingly, each of the previously filed FCC Form 601 applications will be dismissed, thus eliminating the need to conduct Auction No. 67.
