[Docket No. 060614165-6165-01]

RIN 0694-AD79

Defense Priorities and Allocations System (DPAS): Administrative and Technical Corrections

AGENCY: Bureau of Industry and Security, U.S. Department of Commerce.

ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: The Bureau of Industry and Security (BIS) is amending the Defense Priorities and Allocations System (DPAS) Regulation (15 CFR part 700) to make administrative and technical corrections. These amendments do not alter the substance or effect of the DPAS regulation.

DATES: This rule is effective July 13, 2006.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Liam McMnamin, Office of Strategic Industries and Economic Security, Bureau of Industry and Security, U.S. Department of Commerce, Telephone: (202) 482-2233.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Background

Under Title I of the Defense Production Act of 1950 (DPA), as amended, (50 U.S.C. App. 2061, et seq.), the President is authorized to require preferential acceptance and performance of contracts or orders supporting certain approved national defense and energy programs, and to allocate materials, services, and facilities in such a manner as to promote these approved programs. Additional priorities authority is found in section 18 of the Selective Service Act of 1948 (50 U.S.C. App. 468), 10 U.S.C. 2538, and 50 U.S.C. 82. The President delegated the priorities and allocations authorities of the DPA in Executive Order 12919 (June 3, 1994; amended by Executive Order 13286, February 28, 2003). As part of that delegation, the President designated the Secretary of Commerce to administer the Defense Priorities and Allocations System (DPAS). DPAS authority has also been extended to support emergency preparedness activities under Title VI of the Robert T. Stafford Disaster Relief and Emergency Assistance Act (Stafford Act), as amended (42 U.S.C. 5195, et seq.). The DPAS regulation is found at 15 CFR part 700.

As part of its periodic review of the DPAS regulation, the Department of Commerce has identified several typographical errors and outdated provisions in the DPAS regulation. Accordingly, this rule amends the DPAS regulation to correct those errors and delete outdated or obsolete provisions and language. This rule also amends the list of approved programs in Schedule I to the regulation.

Amendments to the DPAS Regulation

This rule revises the DPAS regulation by correcting the citation to the Defense Production Act’s definition of “national defense” in section 700.1(c) and notes that the definition of this term was amended in the December 2003 reauthorization of the Defense Production Act (Pub. L. 108-195) to include critical infrastructure protection and restoration.

This rule also corrects a typographical error in section 700.2(a) by replacing “Schedule 1” with “Schedule I.”

This rule removes erroneous references in section 700.2(c), 700.10(b), 700.18(b)(1)(i), 700.18(b)(2), and 700.55(b)(2) to copies of delegations of authority and memoranda of understanding being provided as appendices to part 700. The Department has not published these documents as appendices to part 700 since 1998, following a determination that these documents are of limited public interest because they describe administrative interagency agreements.

This rule replaces the words “Director, Federal Emergency Management Agency” with “Secretary of Homeland Security” in the definition of Approved Program in section 700.8 to reflect the amendments to Executive Order 12919 contained in Executive Order 13286.

This rule changes the program identification symbol examples in section 700.11(c) from “A1, B2, or H6” to read “A1, C2, or N1.” Program identification symbols indicate which approved program is being supported by a rated order. The “B2” symbol is not an approved program identification symbol and the “H6” symbol is not commonly used.

This rule corrects a citation error in section 700.18(a)(2)(iv)(b). Information on requesting priority rating authority is found in section 700.51, not in section 700.53.

This rule adds a sentence to section 700.18(b)(1)(i) clarifying that the Departments of Agriculture and Commerce have agreed that the Department of Defense may place rated contracts and orders for food resources in support of troops, including but not limited to, meals ready to eat (MRE), “tray-packs” (T-rations), A-rations, and B-rations. The 1991 agreement between the Departments of Agriculture and Commerce is recorded as Attachment A to the Department of Commerce’s delegation of authority to the Department of Defense. This rule also removes the erroneous reference in section 700.18(b)(1)(i) to a copy of the Department of Commerce’s delegation of authority to the Department of Defense being provided as an appendix to part 700.

This rule removes erroneous references to a memorandum of understanding between the Departments of Commerce and Interior in sections 700.18(b)(1)(vii) and 700.18(b)(2). The Department of Commerce terminated this memorandum of understanding in 1998.

This rule removes section 700.30(b). The Department of Commerce has rescinded DPAS Emergency Delegation 1. The Department of Commerce has reviewed its emergency preparedness plans and determined that DPAS Emergency Delegation 1 is not necessary to administer this regulation in a national emergency because the Department’s internal emergency plans provide for continuation of the DPAS and related activities.

This rule corrects a citation error in section 700.60(b). Administrative Subpoenas, Demands for Information, and Inspection Authorizations are discussed in section 700.71(c), not in section 700.71(b).

This rule changes the name “Office of Industrial Resource Administration,” referenced in sections 700.72(b) and 700.93, to “Office of Strategic Industries and Economic Security” to reflect the current name of that organization.

This rule corrects an error in section 700.81(b) related to the title of the official who has the discretion to accept an appeal after the prescribed 45-day period for good cause shown. The Assistant Secretary for Export Administration has this discretion.

This rule revises Schedule I to the regulation by adding a list of Homeland Security programs in the first column to reflect the Department of Commerce’s March 2006 DPAS delegation to the Department of Homeland Security.

This rule revises the current N1 program identification symbol and adds N2–N8 to the list of approved programs for priorities and allocations support in Schedule I’s first and second columns. The Department of Homeland Security provided the Department of Commerce with the list of Homeland Security programs approved for priorities and allocations support in June 2006.

This rule also replaces the words “Federal Emergency Management Agency” with “Department of Homeland Security” in Schedule I’s third column to reflect the March 2006 DPAS delegation to the Department of Homeland Security.

This rule changes the names of the Department of Defense agencies listed in footnote 1 to Schedule I to reflect the current organizational structure of the Department of Defense.

This rule also corrects an error in Appendix I to part 700 by replacing the former Form BXA–999, “Request for Special Priorities Assistance,” with a copy of the current Form BIS–999, “Request for Special Priorities Assistance.”

Rulemaking Requirements

1. This rule has been determined to be not significant for purposes of Executive Order 12866.

2. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, no person is required to respond to, nor shall any person be subject to a penalty for failure to comply with a collection of information, subject to the requirements of the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995 (44 U.S.C. 3501, et seq.) unless the collection of information displays a currently valid Office of Management and Budget control number. This rule does not involve any collections of information that are subject to the Paperwork Reduction Act.

3. This rule does not contain policies with federalism implications as this term is defined in Executive Order 13132.

4. The Department finds that there is good cause under 5 U.S.C. 553(b)(B) to waive the provisions of the Administrative Procedure Act (APA) requiring prior notice and the opportunity for public comment. Because these revisions are not substantive changes to the DPAS regulation, and because the nature of these changes is of little public interest, it is unnecessary to provide notice and opportunity for public comment under APA standards. In addition, the 30-day delay in effectiveness required by 5 U.S.C. 553(d) is not applicable because this rule is not a substantive rule. It is purely administrative in nature and does not affect the rights of the public. No other law requires that a notice of proposed rulemaking and an opportunity for public comment be given for this rule.

The analytical requirements of the Regulatory Flexibility Act (5 U.S.C. 601, et seq.) are not applicable because notice of proposed rulemaking and opportunity for public comment are not required to be given for this rule under the Administrative Procedure Act or by any other law.

Joint Final Rules: Application of the Definition of Narrow-Based Security Index to Debt Securities Indexes and Security Futures on Debt Securities

AGENCIES: Commodity Futures Trading
Commission and Securities and Exchange Commission.

ACTION: Joint final rules.

SUMMARY: The Commodity Futures Trading Commission ("CFTC") and the Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC") (together, the "Commissions") are adopting a new rule and amending an existing rule under the Commodity Exchange Act ("CEA") and adopting two new rules under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 ("Exchange Act"). The rules will modify the applicable statutory listing standards requirements to permit security futures to be based on individual debt securities or a narrow-based security index composed of such securities. In addition, these rules and rule amendment will exclude from the definition of "narrow-based security index" debt securities indexes that satisfy specified criteria. A future on a debt securities index that is excluded from the definition of narrow-based security index will not be a security future and may trade subject to the exclusive jurisdiction of the CFTC.

EFFECTIVE DATE: August 14, 2006.

I. Introduction

A. Background

Futures contracts on single securities and on narrow-based security indexes (collectively, "security futures") are jointly regulated by the CFTC and the SEC.³ The definition of narrow-based security index under both the CEA and the Exchange Act sets forth the criteria for such joint regulatory jurisdiction. Futures on indexes that are not narrow-based security indexes are subject to the exclusive jurisdiction of the CFTC. Under the CEA and the Exchange Act, an index is a narrow-based security index if it meets any one of four criteria.⁴ Further, the CEA and Exchange Act provide that, notwithstanding the statutory criteria, an index is not a narrow-based security index if a contract of sale for future delivery on the index is traded on or subject to the rules of a board of trade and meets such requirements as are jointly established by rule, regulation, or order of the Commissions.⁵

The statutory definition of narrow-based security index was designed primarily for indexes composed of equity securities, not debt securities.⁶ For example, while three criteria in the narrow-based security index definition

⁴ The four criteria are as follows: (1) It has nine or fewer component securities; (2) any one of its component securities comprises more than 30% of its weighting; (3) any group of five of its component securities together comprise more than 60% of its weighting; or (4) the lowest weighted component securities comprising, in the aggregate, 25% of the index's weighting have an aggregate dollar value of average daily trading volume ("ADTV") of less than $50 million (or in the case of an index with 15 or more component securities, $30 million). evaluate the composition and weighting of the securities in the index, another criterion evaluates the liquidity of an index's component securities. The liquidity criterion in the statutory definition of narrow-based security index, which is important for indexes composed of common stock, is not an appropriate criterion for indexes composed of debt securities because debt securities generally do not trade in the same manner as equity securities. In particular, because few debt securities meet the ADTV criterion in the statutory definition of narrow-based security index, most indexes composed of debt securities, regardless of the number or amount of underlying component securities in the index, would fall within the statutory definition of narrow-based security index.

On April 10, 2006, the Commissions proposed rules⁷ that would exclude debt securities indexes that satisfied certain criteria from the statutory definition of narrow-based security index. Futures on debt securities indexes that satisfy the criteria of the exclusion would not be security futures and thus would be subject to the exclusive jurisdiction of the CFTC. In addition, the proposed rules and rule amendment would modify the statutory listing standards to permit the trading of security futures on single debt securities and narrow-based security indexes composed of debt securities.

The Commissions received comment letters on the proposed rules from two futures exchanges, the Chicago Mercantile Exchange ("CME") and the Board of Trade of the City of Chicago ("CBOT"),⁸ and from the Futures Industry Association ("FIA").⁹ All of the commenters generally supported the Commissions' proposal. The CME and the CBOT requested the opportunity for public comment on the listing standards

In addition, the FIA supported the comments of the CME and the CBOT and urged the Commissions to propose a regulatory standard governing the offer and sale of security futures contracts on indexes composed of non-U.S. equities that trade on or are subject to the rules of exchanges or boards of trade located outside of the United States. Because the proposed rules did not relate to indexes composed of non-U.S. equities, the Commissions are not addressing this comment in this release.
