Paperwork Reduction Act

Under the Paperwork Reduction Act, the Agencies may not conduct or sponsor an information collection unless it displays a currently valid OMB control number. NCUA is requesting comment on a proposed information collection. This notice supplements the notice previously published at 71 FR 40785 (July 18, 2006).

Title of Information Collection: Identity Theft Red Flags and Address Discrepancies under FACTA.

Frequency of Response: On occasion.

Affected Public: Credit unions.

Abstract: NCUA, along with the other agencies, are proposing regulations requiring credit unions to establish reasonable policies and procedures to address the risk of identity theft and to assess the validity of a request for a change of address under certain circumstances. The proposed regulation would require creation of an identity theft program and report to a board of directors at least annually on compliance with the proposed regulation. Staff must be trained to implement the program and issuers of credit and debit cards would be required to establish policies and procedures to assess the validity of a change of address request, including notification to the cardholder.

Estimated burden: NCUA and the other Agencies estimate it will initially take 25 hours to create a program as required by the proposed regulation, 4 hours to prepare an annual report, and 2 hours to train staff. It is estimated that credit and debit card issuers will require an additional 4 hours to develop policies and procedures regarding assessment of the validity of a change of address request.

Number of respondents: 5,245.

Estimated time per response: 39 hours.

Training: 2 hours.

Policies and procedures for assessment of validity of changes of address: 4 hours.

Policies and procedures to respond to notices of address discrepancy: 4 hours.

Total estimated annual burden: 204,555.

Comments are invited on:

(a) Whether the collection of information is necessary for the proper performance of the NCUA's and the Agencies' functions including whether the information has practical utility;

(b) The accuracy of the estimates of the burden of the information collection, including the validity of the methodology and assumptions used.

(c) Ways to enhance the quality, utility, and clarity of the information to be collected;

(d) Ways to minimize the burden of the information collection on respondents including through the use of automated collection techniques or other forms of information technology; and

(e) Estimates of capital or start up costs and costs of operation, maintenance, and purchase of service to provide information.

NUCLEAR REGULATORY COMMISSION

[Docket No. 50-250]

Florida Power and Light Company; Notice of Consideration of Issuance of Amendment to Facility Operating License, Proposed No Significant Hazards Consideration Determination, and Opportunity for a Hearing

The U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission (the Commission) is considering issuance of an amendment to Facility Operating License No. DPR-31, issued to Florida Power and Light Company (the licensee), for operation of the Turkey Point Nuclear Plant, Unit 3, located in Miami-Dade County, Florida.

The proposed amendment would revise Technical Specifications (TSs)  $\frac{3}{4}$ .1.3.1,  $\frac{3}{4}$ .1.3.2,  $\frac{3}{4}$ .1.3.5, and  $\frac{3}{4}$ .1.3.6 to allow the use of an alternate method of determining rod position for the control rod M-6, which has an inoperable rod position indicator (RPI), until repairs can be conducted but no later than the next outage, which is scheduled for fall 2007.

The proposed amendment also includes administrative changes to remove the existing notes regarding the RPI of the Unit 4 Rod F-8. The RPI system for F-8 was repaired during Unit 4 refueling operations in 2005; thus, the associated TS revisions are no longer in effect.

The reason for the exigency is the unanticipated failure of the Turkey Point Unit 3 Analog RPI for control rod M-6 in Control Rod Bank C. Additionally, there is a concern that exercising the movable incore detectors every 8 hours (90 times per month) to comply with the compensatory actions required by the current Action Statement a. of TS 3.1.3.2 will result in excessive wear.

Before issuance of the proposed license amendment, the Commission will have made findings required by the Atomic Energy Act of 1954, as amended (the Act) and the Commission's regulations.

Pursuant to Title 10, Code of Federal Regulations (10 CFR), Section 50.91(a)(6) for amendments to be granted under exigent circumstances, the NRC staff must determine that the amendment request involves no significant hazards consideration. Under the Commission's regulations in 10 CFR 50.92, this means that operation of the facility in accordance with the proposed amendment would not (1) involve a significant increase in the probability or consequences of an accident previously evaluated; or (2) create the possibility of a new or different kind of accident from any accident previously evaluated; or (3) involve a significant reduction in a margin of safety. As required by 10 CFR 50.91(a), the licensee has provided its analysis of the issue of no significant hazards consideration, which is presented below:

1. Will operation of the facility in accordance with this proposed change involve a significant increase in the probability or consequences of an accident previously evaluated?

No. The proposed change provides an alternative method for verifying rod position of one control rod. The proposed change meets the intent of the current specification in that it ensures verification of position of the control rod once every eight (8) hours. The proposed change provides only an alternative method of monitoring control rod position and does not change the assumption or results of any previously evaluated accident.

Therefore, operation of the facility in accordance with the proposed amendment would not involve a significant increase in the probability or consequences of an accident previously evaluated.

2. Will operation of the facility in accordance with this proposed change create the possibility of a new or different kind of accident from any accident previously evaluated?

No. As described above, the proposed change provides only an alternative method of determining the position of one control rod. No new accident initiators are introduced by the proposed alternative manner of performing rod position verification. The proposed change does not affect the reactor protection system or the reactor control system. Hence, no new failure modes are created that would cause a new or different kind of accident from any accident previously evaluated.

Therefore, operation of the facility in accordance with the proposed amendments would not create the possibility of a new or different kind of accident from any accident previously evaluated.

3. Will operation of the facility in accordance with this proposed change involve a Significant reduction in a margin of safety?

No. The bases of Specification 3.1.3.2 state that the operability of the rod position indicators is required to determine control rod positions and thereby ensure compliance with the control rod alignment and insertion limits. The proposed change does not alter the requirement to determine rod position but provides an alternative method for determining the position of the affected rod. As a result, the initial conditions of the accident analysis are preserved and the consequences of previously analyzed accidents are unaffected.

Therefore, operation of the facility in accordance with the proposed amendments would not involve a significant reduction in the margin of safety.

The NRC staff has reviewed the licensee's analysis and, based on this review, it appears that the three standards of 10 CFR 50.92(c) are satisfied. Therefore, the NRC staff proposes to determine that the amendment request involves no significant hazards consideration.

The Commission is seeking public comments on this proposed determination. Any comments received within 14 days after the date of publication of this notice will be considered in making any final determination.

Normally, the Commission will not issue the amendment until the expiration of the 14-day notice period. However, should circumstances change during the notice period, such that failure to act in a timely way would result, for example, in derating or shutdown of the facility, the Commission may issue the license amendment before the expiration of the 14-day notice period, provided that its final determination is that the amendment involves no significant hazards consideration. The final determination will consider all public and State comments received. Should the Commission take this action, it will publish in the Federal Register a notice of issuance. The Commission expects that the need to take this action will occur very infrequently.

Written comments may be submitted by mail to the Chief, Rulemaking, Directives, and Editing Branch, Division of Administrative Services, Office of Administration, U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission, Washington, DC 20555-0001, and should cite the publication date and page number of this Federal Register notice. Written comments may also be delivered to Room 6D59, Two White Flint North, 11545 Rockville Pike, Rockville, Maryland, from 7:30 a.m. to 4:15 p.m. Federal workdays. Documents may be examined, and/or copied for a fee, at the NRC's Public Document Room, located at One White Flint North, 11555 Rockville Pike (first floor), Rockville, Maryland.

The filing of requests for hearing and petitions for leave to intervene is discussed below. Within 60 days after the date of publication of this notice, the licensee may file a request for a hearing with respect to issuance of the amendment to the subject facility operating license and any person whose interest may be affected by this proceeding and who wishes to participate as a party in the proceeding
