SUMMARY: Notice is hereby given of the following hearing of the U.S.-China Economic and Security Review Commission.

Name: Carolyn Bartholomew, Chairman of the U.S.-China Economic and Security Review Commission.

The Commission is mandated by Congress to investigate, assess, evaluate and report to Congress annually on “the national security implications and impact of the bilateral trade and economic relationship between the United States and the People’s Republic of China.” Pursuant to this mandate, the Commission will hold a public hearing in Washington, DC on May 23–25, 2007 to address “The Extent of the Government’s Control of China’s Economy, and Implications for the United States.”

Background

This event is the third in a series of public hearings the Commission will hold during its 2007 report cycle to collect input from leading experts in academic, business, industry, government and the public on the impact of the economic and national security implications of the U.S. bilateral trade and economic relationship with China. The May 23–25 hearing is being conducted to obtain commentary about the Chinese government’s control of key industries, the effect on the United States and the world economy, and whether such control violates the principles of the WTO.

The May 23–25 hearing will address “The Extent of the Government’s Control of China’s Economy, and Implications for the United States,” and will be co-chaired by Commissioners Jeffrey Fiedler, Kerri Houston and Michael R. Wessel.

Information on this hearing, including a detailed hearing agenda and information about panelists, will be made available on the Commission’s Web site closer to the hearing date. Detailed information about the Commission, the texts of its annual reports and hearing records, and the products of research it has commissioned can be found on the Commission’s Web site at <http://www.uscc.gov>.

Any interested party may file a written statement by May 23, 2007, by mailing to the contact below.
