RIN 2900-AL28

Veterans Education: Incorporation of Miscellaneous Statutory Provisions

AGENCY: Department of Veterans Affairs.
ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: This document amends regulations governing various aspects of the education programs administered by the Department of Veterans Affairs. These amendments reflect some of the provisions of the Veterans Education and Benefits Expansion Act of 2001, the Veterans Benefits Act of 2003, and the Veterans Benefits, Health Care, and Information Technology Act of 2006. The changes include: Restoration of certain education benefits for individuals being ordered to active duty; restoration of Survivors' and Dependents' Educational Assistance to certain full-time National Guard members; an opportunity for certain Vietnam-era veterans to qualify for Montgomery GI Bill education benefits; an increase in the maximum amount an individual can receive under the Senior Reserve Officer Training Corps educational assistance program and still qualify for the Montgomery GI Bill—Active Duty program; establishment of an ending date of the eligibility period for spouses under the Survivors' and Dependents' Educational Assistance program; expansion of special restorative training benefits to certain disabled spouses or disabled surviving spouses; and providing educational benefits for an independent study course that leads to a certificate reflecting educational attainment offered by an institution of higher learning. The document also amends the education regulations by making changes to reflect current agency organization and nonsubstantive changes for the purpose of readability or clarity.

DATES: Effective Date: This final rule is effective January 15, 2008.

Applicability Dates. Amendments in this final rule are applied retroactively to conform to the effective date of statutory provisions. For more information concerning the dates of applicability, see the SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION section.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Lynn M. Nelson, Assistant Director, Policy and Program Administration (225), Education Service, Veterans Benefits Administration, Department of Veterans Affairs, 810 Vermont Avenue, NW., Washington, DC 20420, (202) 461-9827.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The Veterans Education and Benefits Expansion Act of 2001 (Pub. L. 107-103) ("Act") provides eligibility under the Montgomery GI Bill—Active Duty (MGIB) program to some additional Vietnam-era veterans. Previously, only certain Vietnam-era veterans who were eligible for benefits under the Vietnam-era GI Bill (38 U.S.C. chapter 34) on December 31, 1989, and who met specific active-duty requirements were eligible to convert to the MGIB program. The Act extends an opportunity to gain MGIB eligibility to additional veterans by modifying certain active-duty requirements. The eligibility period for veterans who became eligible under Public Law 107-103 began December 27, 2001. We are amending the regulations to reflect the changes in eligibility requirements.

The Act raised the maximum amount individuals entitled to educational assistance under the Senior Reserve Officer Training Corps (SROTC) program may receive and still remain eligible to elect the MGIB program. Before January 1, 2002, officers commissioned directly from a SROTC program who entered on active duty after September 30, 1996, and who received more than $2,000 in SROTC scholarship funds for each year of the program, were not eligible for the MGIB program. Under the Act, individuals who entered active duty after September 30, 1996, may become eligible for the MGIB program beginning January 1, 2002, if they received $3,400 or less in any year they participated in the SROTC scholarship program. We are amending the pertinent regulation to reflect the statutory change.

Section 103 of Public Law 107-103 restored education benefits under 38 U.S.C. chapters 30, 32, and 35 to certain individuals ordered to active duty. This provision applies to individuals ordered, by orders dated on or after September 11, 2001, to active duty under 10 U.S.C. 688, 12301(a), 12301(d), 12301(g), 12302, or 12304. In addition, the Veterans Benefits, Health Care, and Information Technology Act of 2006 (Pub. L. 109-461) permitted restoration of Survivors' and Dependents' Educational Assistance (DEA) entitlement under 38 U.S.C. chapter 35 to certain full-time National Guard members who were involuntarily ordered to full-time duty on or after September 11, 2001. Generally, most individuals are eligible for 36 months of full-time benefits (45 months under the DEA program). We refer to the 36 months of benefits as 36 months of "entitlement". For each day of full-time benefits that we pay, we deduct 1 day of entitlement. If an individual is ordered to duty as indicated above, and has to withdraw from his or her course(s), VA will pay benefits up to the date of withdrawal. Although under these circumstances we pay benefits, the individual's entitlement will not reflect this, provided the veteran received no credit for the course-work completed up to the point of withdrawal. For example, if someone started a course with 36 months of benefits available, and we paid for 2 months of benefits before he or she dropped the course, we would charge 2 months of entitlement. That individual would have 34 months of benefits remaining. Under the restoration-of-entitlement provisions, we will restore the 2 months of entitlement. So, although an individual received benefits for 2 months, his or her entitlement will not be reduced. We are amending the pertinent regulations to reflect these provisions of Public Law 107-103 and Public Law 109-461.

Section 103 of Public Law 107-103 permits VA to extend the DEA eligibility period for an eligible person who is ordered, by orders dated on or after September 11, 2001, to active duty under 10 U.S.C. 688, 12301(a), 12301(d), 12301(g), 12302, or 12304. The extension is equal to the time served on active duty, plus an additional four months. In addition, section 303 of the Veterans Benefits Act of 2003 (Pub. L. 108-183) permitted a similar extension for eligible persons who are National Guard members and who were involuntarily ordered to full-time duty on or after September 11, 2001.

Before enactment of Public Law 107-103, the U.S. Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims, in Ozer v. Principi, 14 Vet. App. 257, 262-264 (2001), decided that 38 U.S.C. 3512 did not contain or authorize a fixed or limited eligibility period for spouses who are entitled to DEA benefits. Section 108 of Public Law 107-103 amended section 3512 to provide that spouses who are entitled to DEA have a 10-year eligibility period to use DEA benefits. Beginning with eligibility determinations (whether administrative or judicial) made on or after December 27, 2001, spouses found eligible for DEA benefits will have 10 years to use those benefits. Under section 108 of Public Law 107-103, spouses whose eligibility determinations were made before December 27, 2001, are subject to this 10-year eligibility period if they are required to reapply for benefits, resulting in a determination on or after December 27, 2001. (Spouses are required to reapply for DEA benefits when they change their educational objective.) We are amending the rules to conform to these provisions of Public Law 107-103.

Section 109 of Public Law 107-103 permits payment of special restorative training (SRT) benefits to disabled spouses and disabled surviving spouses beginning December 27, 2001. The spouses and surviving spouses must be eligible for DEA benefits in order to qualify for SRT. Prior to the enactment of section 109, only disabled children eligible for DEA were eligible for this benefit. SRT is training that helps to overcome or lessen the effects of a physical or mental disability for the purposes of enabling an eligible person to pursue a program of education, special vocational program, or other appropriate goal. We are amending the pertinent regulations to make them conform to this statutory provision.

The Act also allows VA to pay veterans, servicemembers, and reservists educational assistance benefits for an independent study course that leads to a certificate that reflects educational attainment offered by an institution of higher learning. The independent study provisions in the Act amended 38 U.S.C. 3680A(a)(4). The provision applies to enrollment in courses on or after December 27, 2001. Prior to enactment, VA could provide education benefits only for independent study courses that were part of a standard college degree program. We are amending the pertinent regulations to reflect this change and to show that the new provision does not apply to DEA benefits for survivors and dependents. (Provisions concerning payment and non-payment of DEA for courses taken by independent study are in 38 U.S.C. 3523(a)(4), which was not amended by Pub. L. 107-103.)

In addition, we are amending provisions in the DEA regulations relating to definitions, SRT, and enrollment at the secondary school level for special assistance for the educationally disadvantaged, to reflect current agency organization, including by making changes in the designations of staff handling various functions.

Nonsubstantive changes are also made for the purpose of readability or clarity.

Administrative Procedure Act

Substantive changes made by this final rule merely reflect statutory requirements. Accordingly, there is a basis for dispensing with prior notice and comment and a delayed effective date under the provisions of 5 U.S.C. 553. Use of those procedures would be impracticable, unnecessary, and contrary to the public interest.

Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995

This document contains no provisions constituting a new collection of information under the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995 (44 U.S.C. 3501-3521).

The Office of Management and Budget (OMB) assigns a control number for each collection of information it approves. VA may not conduct or sponsor, and a person is not required to respond to, a collection of information unless it displays a currently valid OMB control number.

In § 21.3302 (concerning special restorative training), this final rule amends provisions concerning information collection requirements that are currently approved by OMB. The amended provisions remain within the scope of the approved collections of information. We are adding at the end of § 21.3302 an information collection approval parenthetical containing the OMB control numbers for the collections of information in that section, OMB control numbers 2900–0014 (Authorization and Certification of Entrance or Reentrance into Rehabilitation and Certification of Status), 2900–0073 (Enrollment Certification), and 2900–0156 (Notice of Change in Student Status).

Unfunded Mandates

The Unfunded Mandates Reform Act of 1995 requires, at 2 U.S.C. 1532, that agencies prepare an assessment of anticipated costs and benefits before issuing any rule that may result in the expenditure by State, local, and tribal governments, in the aggregate, or by the private sector, of $100 million or more (adjusted annually for inflation) in any given year. This final rule will have no such effect on State, local, and tribal governments, or on the private sector.

Executive Order 12866

Executive Order 12866 directs agencies to assess all costs and benefits of available regulatory alternatives and, when regulation is necessary, to select regulatory approaches that maximize net benefits (including potential economic, environmental, public health and safety, and other advantages; distributive impacts; and equity). The Executive Order classifies a “significant regulatory action,” requiring review by the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) unless OMB waives such review, as any regulatory action that is likely to result in a rule that may: (1) Have an annual effect on the economy of $100 million or more or adversely affect in a material way the economy, a sector of the economy, productivity, competition, jobs, the environment, public health or safety, or State, local, or tribal governments or communities; (2) create a serious inconsistency or otherwise interfere with an action taken or planned by another agency; (3) materially alter the budgetary impact of entitlements, grants, user fees, or loan programs or the rights and obligations of recipients thereof; or (4) raise novel legal or policy issues arising out of legal mandates, the President’s priorities, or the principles set forth in the Executive Order.

The economic, interagency, budgetary, legal, and policy implications of this rule have been examined, and it has been determined to be a significant regulatory action under the Executive Order because it may raise novel legal or policy issues arising out of legal mandates, the President’s priorities, or the principles set forth in the Executive Order.

Regulatory Flexibility Act

The Secretary of Veterans Affairs hereby certifies that this final rule will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities as they are defined in the Regulatory Flexibility Act, 5 U.S.C. 601–612. This final rule primarily affects only individuals. This rule reflects the statutory expansion to add certain disabled spouses and disabled surviving spouses to the categories of persons who may be eligible for training from small entities that choose to provide it. Although some small entities may provide special restorative training, any direct effect of this rule on such entities would be minuscule. This statutory change resulted in only 24 additional individuals receiving such training in the most recent year with available data. Pursuant to 5 U.S.C. 605(b), this final rule, therefore, is exempt from the initial and final regulatory flexibility analyses requirements of sections 603 and 604. Pursuant to 5 U.S.C. 603 and 604, an additional reason that those regulatory flexibility analyses requirements are not applicable to this final rule is that no notice of proposed rulemaking was required by law for this rulemaking.

Catalog of Federal Domestic Assistance

The Catalog of Federal Domestic Assistance numbers and titles for the programs affected by this final rule are 64.117, Survivors and Dependents Educational Assistance; 64.120, Post-Vietnam Era Veterans’ Educational Assistance; and 64.124, All-Volunteer Force Educational Assistance. This final rule also affects the Montgomery GI Bill—Selected Reserve program, for which there is no Catalog of Federal Domestic Assistance number.

BILLING CODE 8320-01-P

ENVIRONMENTAL PROTECTION AGENCY

40 CFR Part 52

[EPA-R05-OAR-2006-0276; FRL-8508-8]

Approval and Promulgation of Air Quality Implementation Plans; Indiana; Amendments to Lead Rules, Quemetco

AGENCY: Environmental Protection Agency (EPA).

ACTION: Direct final rule.

SUMMARY: On February 7, 2002, Indiana submitted revisions to its State Implementation Plan (SIP) for lead (Pb) as part of the State's incorporation of a Federal standard for secondary lead smelters. On October 3, 2006, and November 27, 2007, Indiana supplemented its request as it pertained to Quemetco, Incorporated (Quemetco), in Marion County. The requested SIP revision replaces the Pb emission limits for Quemetco with new, stringent limits. EPA has determined that the new limits will be protective of the Pb air quality standards, and is therefore approving them.

DATES: This direct final rule will be effective March 17, 2008, unless EPA receives adverse comments by February 14, 2008. If adverse comments are received, EPA will publish a timely withdrawal of the direct final rule in the Federal Register informing the public that the rule will not take effect.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Throughout this document whenever "we," "us," or "our" is used, we mean EPA. This supplementary information section is arranged as follows:

- I. Background: Pb SIP and NESHAP Rules
- II. What are the new limits for secondary lead smelters?
- III. How does removing Quemetco from Article 15 affect the Pb SIP?
- IV. Demonstration of Pb NAAQS Attainment
- V. What action is EPA taking?
- VI. Statutory and Executive Order Reviews

I. Background: Pb SIP and NESHAP Rules

Indiana's SIP rules for Pb are currently codified at 326 Indiana Administrative Code (IAC) 15, which is also referred to as Article 15. Article 15 covers lead-bearing emissions and fugitive dust from several facilities in Indiana, including secondary lead smelters. The SIP rules applicable to sources in Marion County, Indiana, were developed to ensure that Marion County would attain and maintain the Pb National Ambient Air Quality Standards (NAAQS).

EPA promulgated the National Emission Standards for Hazardous Air Pollutants (NESHAP) for secondary lead smelting on June 23, 1995 (60 FR 32587); amended on June 13, 1997 (62 FR 32209). Codified at 40 CFR part 63, subpart X, this NESHAP is a technology-based regulation intended to bring certain sources at secondary lead smelters to a specified level of air pollution control. Indiana incorporated the Maximum Achievable Control Technology (MACT) standard of the secondary lead smelter NESHAP, with certain adjustments, in 326 IAC 20-13. On August 22, 2006 (71 FR 48923), EPA approved Indiana's request for delegation of authority to implement and enforce the NESHAP for secondary lead smelting through 326 IAC 20-13.

The Federal NESHAP in Subpart X is expected to result in air quality benefits where it affects secondary lead smelters which were previously unregulated or which were previously subject to less stringent controls. In Indiana, however, the existing Marion County Pb SIP limits were already more stringent than the NESHAP's limits. Indiana believed that the Federal secondary lead smelter NESHAP would not fully protect the Pb NAAQS in Marion County. Therefore, when Indiana adopted the NESHAP into 326 IAC 20-13, the State adjusted it to make the rule's emission limits at least
