OMB Approval Date: July 21, 2007.

Form No.: Not applicable.

Estimated Annual Burden: 5,300 responses; 0.7 hours (42 minutes) per response; 3,710 hours total per year.

Nature and Extent of Confidentiality:

Because the information that communications companies input to DIRS is sensitive, for national security and/or commercial reasons, DIRS filings shall be treated as presumptively confidential upon filing. The Federal Communications Commission's Public Safety & Homeland Security Bureau Launches Disaster Information Reporting System, 72 FR 52879 (Sept. 17, 2007); The FCC's Public Safety & Homeland Security Bureau Launches Disaster Information Reporting System (DIRS), Public Notice, 22 FCC Rcd 16757 (PSHSB 2007). Through DIRS, wireless, wireline, broadcast, and cable communications providers can provide their emergency contact information and report communications infrastructure status and situational awareness information during times of crisis (e.g., status of their communications equipment, restoration efforts, and source and status of their power supply). The Commission will be able to use this information to ensure that the public and public safety, public health, and other emergency and defense personnel have effective communications services available to them in the immediate aftermath of a disaster.
