Abstract: The Annual Protection and Advocacy of Individual Rights (PAIR) Program Performance Report (Form RSA-509) will be used to analyze and evaluate the effectiveness of eligible systems within individual states in meeting annual priorities and objectives. These systems provide services to eligible individuals with disabilities to protect their legal and human rights. RSA uses the form to meet specific data collection requirements of section 509 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, as amended

(the act), and its implementing federal regulations at 34 CFR Part 381. PAIR programs must report annually using the form, which is due on or before December 30 each year. Form RSA-509 has enabled RSA to furnish the President and Congress with data on the provision of protection and advocacy services and has helped to establish a sound basis for future funding requests. These data also have been used to indicate trends in the provision of services from year-to-year.

Notice of Proposed Information Collection Requests

AGENCY: Department of Education.

SUMMARY: The Leader, Information Collection Clearance Division, Regulatory Information Management Services, Office of Management, invites comments on the proposed information collection requests as required by the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995.

DATES: Interested persons are invited to submit comments on or before February 9, 2009.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: Section 3506 of the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995 (44 U.S.C. Chapter 35) requires that the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) provide interested Federal agencies and the public an early opportunity to comment on information collection requests. OMB may amend or waive the requirement for public consultation to the extent that public participation in the approval process would defeat the purpose of the information collection, violate State or Federal law, or substantially interfere with any agency's ability to perform its statutory obligations. The Leader, Regulatory Information Management Services, Office of Management, publishes that notice containing proposed information collection requests prior to submission of these requests to OMB. Each proposed information collection, grouped by office, contains the following: (1) Type of review requested, e.g. new, revision, extension, existing or reinstatement; (2) Title; (3) Summary of the collection; (4) Description of the need for, and proposed use of, the information; (5) Respondents and frequency of collection; and (6) Reporting and/or Recordkeeping burden. OMB invites public comment.

The Historically Black College and University Capital Financing Program

AGENCY: Office of Postsecondary Education, U.S. Department of Education.

ACTION: Notice of request for proposals.

SUMMARY: The U.S. Department of Education (Department) is seeking proposals from businesses interested in applying to serve as the "designated bonding authority" (DBA) under the Historically Black College and University (HBCU) Capital Financing Program, authorized under Title III, Part D of the Higher Education Act of 1965, as amended (HEA). This notice describes the duties of the DBA, the selection criteria to be used to select the DBA, the selection process, and the process for submitting proposals.

DATES: Notices of intent to submit a proposal must be received by the Department on or before December 29, 2008. Proposals must be received by the Department on or before January 30, 2009.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

General

The HBCU Capital Financing Program, authorized under Title III, Part D of the HEA, facilitates low-cost capital financing for HBCUs to enable them to continue and expand their educational mission and enhance their significant role in American higher education. Under this program, the Department provides financial insurance to guarantee up to $1,100,000,000 (approximately $650 million is already committed to current program borrowers) in loan principal and interest to qualifying HBCUs for specified kinds of capital projects. The Department provides this financing through an insurance agreement with a Designated Bonding Authority. To date, the Federal Financing Bank of the U.S. Treasury has purchased all bonds issued. Eligible borrowers under the program are limited to historically black colleges and universities as defined in section 322(2) of the HEA (20 U.S.C. 1061(2)).

The Designated Bonding Authority (DBA)

Section 314(d)(1) of the Higher Education Opportunity Act of 2008, Public Law 110-315 (HEOA), which amended the HEA, directs the Secretary to publish in the Federal Register a notice and request for proposals for any private for-profit organization or entity wishing to serve as the DBA following the enactment of the HEOA. Accordingly, through this notice, the Department seeks proposals from any private for-profit organization or entity wishing to serve as the DBA for the HBCU Capital Financing Program.

General Role and Responsibilities of the DBA

Under the HEA, the DBA issues taxable capital project construction bonds and plays a central role in administering and executing the HBCU Capital Financing Program. The DBA works with prospective borrowers to develop loan applications. With the approval of the Department, the DBA makes loans after determining, based on a credit review, that there is a reasonable expectation the loans will be repaid according to the terms of the loans. The DBA charges a rate of interest adequate to service the bond interest rate as well as to pay various costs of issuance including fees for the services of the DBA, costs to modify the loan documents, a Trustee, and fees for the services of other parties. These costs of issuance, however, must not exceed 2 percent of the principal amount of the proceeds of the bonds. The DBA monitors and enforces the loan agreements, including compliance with covenants and default provisions.

The DBA also has construction oversight responsibilities (including approval of construction plans, oversight of construction progress, and compliance with Federal and State building codes), and generally is the focal point of information for the HBCU Capital Financing Program. The DBA and other participants in the program are paid only by the operation of the program, and the Federal Government is not responsible for any of their fees.

Security for the bonds issued by the DBA includes investments, program loans, an escrow account funded with 5 percent of loan proceeds, and an insurance agreement executed by the Secretary or the Secretary's delegate and the DBA. This agreement will, subject to section 343(c)(1) of the HEA, 20 U.S.C. 1066b(c)(1), provide the full faith and credit of the United States to insure the payment of interest and principal on the bonds issued by the DBA.

The responsibilities of the DBA selected will be set forth in an agreement to insure to be negotiated with the Department. The DBA also will assume the responsibilities of the current DBA, including becoming the successor to the incumbent DBA with respect to loans made to date under an Agreement to Insure, dated May 8, 2001, a preceding Agreement to Insure, dated November 29, 1994, a June 13, 2007, Katrina Agreement to Insure, a master trust indenture, as amended and supplemented, and certain program financing agreements and bond purchase agreements. Copies of the agreements to insure used in the program to date, as well as copies of the master trust indenture, program financing agreements, and bond purchase agreements currently used in the program, will be provided to all entities that submit, in a timely manner, a written notice of intent to submit a proposal in accordance with this notice. We will also provide these entities with the current loan application form, credit criteria, loan agreement, and promotional literature as developed by the incumbent DBA. The HEOA may require modification of some or all of the foregoing documents.

Under the terms of section 315(d)(3) of the HEOA, the entity selected by the Department to serve as the DBA must undergo a performance review at least every three years. The statute authorizes the Secretary, based on this review, to use a revised competitive process, if the
