POSTAL SERVICE

39 CFR Part 111

Insurance Claims Process Changes

AGENCY: Postal Service™.

ACTION: Proposed rule.

SUMMARY: The Postal Service proposes to revise its regulations governing the processing and adjudication of domestic mail insurance claims in order to streamline the claims process and to provide customers with more consistent service.

DATES: Submit comments on or before February 26, 2009.

ADDRESSES: Address all comments to the Manager, Mailing Standards, U.S. Postal Service, Room 3436, 475 L'Enfant Plaza, SW., Washington, DC 20260-3436. Copies of all comments will be available for inspection and photocopying between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m., Monday through Friday in the USPS Headquarters Library on the 11th Floor at the above address.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Monica Grein, 202-268-8411.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The Postal Service is proposing to revise its procedures for processing and adjudicating domestic mail insurance claims in order to streamline the claims process and to provide its customers with more consistent service. It proposes to do this by making its online claims processing service available to customers who purchase domestic insurance through any retail channel—i.e., usps.com, Automated Postal Center® kiosks, local Post Office™ facilities, or authorized PC Postage® providers. Currently, the online process can only be used by customers who purchase postage and insurance through Click-N-Ship® or eBay®. In addition, the proposal would allow Express Mail® customers to file online claims, even if no additional insurance was purchased. The proposal would also allow Collect on Delivery (COD) and Registered Mail™ claims to be filed by mail or at a Post Office; however, they could not be filed online.

The proposal would also permit a customer to file a claim by downloading a form from usps.com and mailing it directly to Postal Service Accounting Services in St. Louis, MO. Customers also could continue to file claim forms at a local Post Office.

Under the proposal, local Post Office facilities would no longer adjudicate insurance claims. To ensure consistency and service quality, all claims would be adjudicated by Accounting Services.

The proposal also would change the current damaged goods inspection policy for domestic claims. The proposal would require a customer to retain her or his damaged article and container, including packaging, wrapping, and any other contents received, until the claim is fully resolved. Customers would no longer be required to take these materials to the Post Office at the time a claim is filed. Rather, upon receiving a request from the Postal Service, they would be required to turn the materials over to their local Post Office for inspection, retention, and disposition in accordance with the claims decision.

This proposal also would update the Registered Mail section by changing the term uninsured Registered Mail to Registered Mail with no declared value to reflect current policy.

Although exempt from the notice and comment requirements of the Administrative Procedure Act [5 U.S.C. 553(b), (c)], regarding proposed rulemaking by 39 U.S.C. 410(a), the Postal Service invites comments on the following proposed revision of the Domestic Mail Manual, incorporated by reference in the Code of Federal Regulations. See 39 CFR part 111.
