Respondent did not report the violations, Tr. 170, and in his brief he trivialized the violations as just “mistakes” of the sort that “[c]lerks, and other people who work for doctors, make.” Resp. Br. (Pt. II) at 22. Notwithstanding the illegal nature of these acts (which had happened shortly after Respondent began his arrangement with Just USA), and that Respondent had no way of confirming the validity of Just USA’s representation that its employees had used his name and registration to backdate prescriptions only once or twice, Respondent continued to work for them.

Moreover, when confronted with the evidence showing that that he had prescribed to persons in those seven States, Respondent’s did not accept responsibility for having done so, but rather blamed others.

I thus conclude that Respondent has not accepted responsibility for his misconduct and that he has failed to rebut the Government’s prima facie showing that his continued registration “would be inconsistent with the public interest.” 21 U.S.C. 823(f). Accordingly, Respondent’s registration will be

³³ While the Show Cause Order did not expressly reference Respondent’s registration number XS2352653, which authorizes him to dispense narcotic drugs for the purposes of maintenance or detoxification treatment, the holding of a practitioner’s registration under 21 U.S.C. 823(f) is a prerequisite for obtaining the separate registration required to conduct narcotic treatment under 21 U.S.C. 823(g). See id. § 823(g)(2)(D)(i). Accordingly, the revocation of Respondent practitioner’s registration requires the revocation of his registration under 21 U.S.C. 823(g).
