Specifically, Northwest's states that its proposed Project consists of: (1) The construction of new expansion capacity; and (2) replacement and reliability work related the Northwest's existing system capacity. The proposed Project will provide 150,000 Dth/d of firm transportation capacity from the Greasewood and Meeker/White River Hubs in Rio Blanco County, Colorado to the Opal Hub area in Lincoln County, Wyoming which is created by utilizing new facilities as well as available unsubscribed capacity on Northwest's system. The new Project facilities consist of: (1) Approximately 15.5 miles of 30-inch diameter pipeline loop between milepost 422.2 to 437.7 in Lincoln County, Wyoming and (2) the replacement, construction and operation of compression facilities (net 3,980 ISO horsepower increase), at the Vernal Compressor Station in Uintah County, Utah. The replacement and reliability work consists of abandonment of the two Allison Delaval centrifugal compressor units (3,165 horsepower each) at the Vernal Compressor Station with a new Solar Taurus 70 turbine driven centrifugal compressor unit (10,310 horsepower). In addition, Northwest requests a pre-determination of roll-in for costs associated with the Project. Northwest states that the estimated total cost of the Project, including the removal costs of the existing facilities is approximately $59.4 million, of which approximately $46.7 million reflects the cost of expansion capacity and $12.7 million reflects the costs of replacement and reliability work at the Vernal Compressor Station.
