Port Dolphin will also require permits from the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) pursuant to the provisions of the Clean Air Act, as amended, and the Clean Water Act, as amended.

Construction of the deepwater port would be expected to take approximately 11 months with startup of commercial operations following construction, should a license be issued. The deepwater port would be designed, constructed and operated in accordance with applicable codes and standards.

BILLING CODE P

DEPARTMENT OF TRANSPORTATION

Federal Railroad Administration

Petition for Waiver of Compliance

In accordance with Part 211 of Title 49 Code of Federal Regulations (CFR), notice is hereby given that the Federal Railroad Administration (FRA) received a request for a waiver of compliance with certain requirements of its safety standards. The individual petition is described below; including the party seeking relief, the regulatory provisions involved, the nature of the relief being requested, and the petitioner's arguments in favor of relief.

Kenwood U.S.A. Corporation

[(Waiver Petition Docket Number FRA-2009-0059)]

Kenwood U.S.A. Corporation (Kenwood) seeks a waiver of compliance from certain provisions of 49 CFR part 232, Brake System Safety Standards for Freight and Other Non-Passenger Trains and Equipment. Specifically, § 232.409(d)—Inspection and Testing of end-of-train devices, which requires the telemetry equipment to be tested for accuracy and calibrated if necessary at least every 368 days. It also requires that the date and location of the last calibration or test, as well as the name of the person performing the calibration or test, be legibly displayed on a weather-resistant sticker or other marking device affixed to the outside of both the front and the rear unit.

This waiver will cover all Kenwood model NX-800-K UHF digital transceivers manufactured on or after August 24, 2007. This transceiver is competitive with a digitally synthesized radio produced by Wabtec, for which a similar waiver was granted (see Docket Number FRA-2004-18895); and Kenwood requests that its product be treated in a similar fashion.

Kenwood states that its NX-800-K device is inherently stable, reflecting the state of the art in digital synthesized transceivers. Test results submitted by Kenwood as part of its Federal Communications Commission (FCC) authorization process confirm the extreme frequency stability of this digital synthesized device. This compliance meets the (FCC) TIA-603 standard and current FCC Part 90 service rule specifications for railroad applications. Kenwood states that, as such, annual re-certification is unnecessary and administratively burdensome. Kenwood further states that the annual re-certification requirement was developed at the time when such radios were crystal controlled and stability was an issue, and that the rule has no application to digitally synthesized modern transceivers. Kenwood believes that the spirit of the rule is not violated by the requested waiver inasmuch as the radio design obviates the need for the annual certification and measurements.
