SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Title: Food and Nutrition Service Evaluation of the Fresh Fruit and Vegetable Program.

OMB Number: Not Yet Assigned.

Expiration Date: Not Yet Determined.

Type of Request: New collection.

Abstract: The Fresh Fruit and Vegetable Program (FFVP) is intended to fight childhood obesity and improve overall diet quality by teaching children more healthful eating habits. The FFVP began as a pilot project in four states pursuant to provisions of the Farm Security and Rural Investment Act of 2002 (Pub. L. 107-171). Schools selected to participate in the FFVP are reimbursed for providing free fresh fruits and vegetables to students during the school day, outside of normal school breakfast and lunch meals. Under section 4304 of the Food, Conservation, and Energy Act of 2008 (Pub. L. 110-246), the Richard B. Russell National School Lunch Act (NSLA) was amended to authorize the expansion of the FFVP to selected schools nationwide, including Guam, Puerto Rico, and the Virgin Islands. This was accomplished by incorporating the FFVP into its own section in the NSLA, section 19, 42 U.S.C. 1770. As part of this authorizing legislation, the Secretary of Agriculture was tasked in section 19(h) with conducting an evaluation of the FFVP. The legislation states:

“(1) In General.—The Secretary shall conduct an evaluation of the program, including a determination as to whether children experienced, as a result of participating in the program—

(A) Increased consumption of fruits and vegetables;

(B) other dietary changes, such as decreased consumption of less nutritious foods; and

(C) such other outcomes as are considered appropriate by the Secretary.”

The evaluation of the FFVP has two main objectives: (1) To examine how the FFVP is currently being implemented, and (2) to estimate program impacts on participating students. To address these objectives, FNS has specified 36 research questions that are grouped into six broad research categories for the evaluation:

1. Description of participating schools.

2. Description of participating children.

3. Description of FFVP implementation.

4. Examine impacts of FFVP on school environment.

5. Examine program impacts on children including consumption of fresh fruits and vegetables, consumption of other foods, nutritional status and attitudes towards fresh fruits and vegetables.

6. Examine contextual effects of nutrition education and delivery systems on FFVP.

To evaluate program impacts on participating students, data will be collected from 6,144 students in grades 4-6 in 256 public elementary schools in 16 states as well as parents, teachers, school food service managers and principals. Half (128) of the sampled schools will participate in the FFVP and the other half (128) will be non-FFVP participating schools. To examine the implementation of the FFVP, data will be collected from an additional 448 schools that participate in the FFVP to provide a random sample of all schools participating in the program. Implementation data will also be collected from the 128 participating schools in the impact study, thus totaling 576 schools for the implementation study.

Affected Public: State, Local and Tribal, Individuals and Households—Respondent groups identified include: (1) State Child Nutrition (CN) Directors; (2) Directors of School Food Authorities (SFAs); (3) School Principals; (4) School food service managers; (5) Teachers; (6) Students (grades 4, 5 and 6); and (7) Parents of sampled students.

Estimated Number of Respondents: The total estimated number of respondents is 18,854. This includes: 7,680 students (80% will complete interview; subsample will complete a second 24-hour dietary recall); 7,680 parents (80% will complete brief questionnaire); 768 teachers (90 percent will complete brief questionnaire); 256 school food service managers (95 percent will complete brief interview); 816 school principals (86 percent will complete Web survey); 816 SFA directors (86 percent will complete Web survey), and 54 State CN Directors (90 percent will complete Web survey), 16 of whom will provide some additional administrative data for the impact study states.

Estimated Number of Responses per Respondent: Two major types of data collection activities will be used: Web surveys with three respondent groups and in-school data collection with five different respondent groups. State CN Directors or designees will be asked to participate in two Web surveys, and those agencies in the 16 impact study states will provide additional detail on FFVP applications and reimbursements. SFA Directors and Principals will each participate in one Web survey. School food service managers will be interviewed in person two times on sample days for information about foods served in FFVP, and school meals (School Breakfast Program and National School Lunch Program) on those days. Teachers and parents of sampled students will each complete one short questionnaire. Sampled students will all participate in an individual 24-hour dietary recall which may be assisted by a one-day food diary. A subsample of the students will complete a second 24-hour dietary recall on a nonconsecutive day, which may be assisted by a one-day food diary.

Estimated Total Annual Responses: 19,180.

Estimated Time per Response: About 30 minutes (0.48 hours). The estimated time of response varies from 3 to 65 minutes depending on respondent group, as shown in the table below.

Estimated Total Annual Burden on Respondents: 508,668 minutes (8,477.8 hours). See the table below for estimated total annual burden for each type of respondent. The burden estimates assume the use of a one-day food diary completed by sampled students and a second one-day food diary completed by a 10% subsample of students which may be deemed necessary for collecting usual intake of foods and/or nutrients. If the food diaries are not included, the burden estimates would be lower.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Title: Nursery and Christmas Tree Production Survey and Nursery and Floriculture Chemical Use Survey.

OMB Control Number: 0535-0244.

Expiration Date of Approval: January 31, 2010.

Type of Request: To revise and extend a currently approved information collection for a period of three years.

Abstract: The primary objective of the National Agricultural Statistics Service (NASS) is to prepare and issue State and national estimates of crop and livestock production, prices, and disposition, as well as economic statistics, environmental statistics related to agriculture and also to conduct the Census of Agriculture.

This includes estimates of production and value of key nursery products and chemical use by nursery and floriculture production operations.

The Nursery and Floriculture Chemical Use Survey, is conducted every 3 years; it measures chemical usage, related to the production of nursery and floriculture crops in six major producing States. The resulting publication, is part of the NASS series on Agricultural Chemical Usage, and it summarizes rates of application, total amount of active ingredients applied, and use of pest management practices.
