

of crude oil quality. Regarding acquisitions, Form EIA-856, "Monthly Foreign Crude Oil Acquisition Report," seeks the FOB, landed costs and other features of crude oil acquisition, including crude oil type and quality. Firms importing 500,000 barrels or more in a reporting month are asked to identify the generic crude oil quality stream for each purchase, selecting from a list of several hundred options. (See Appendix A at http://www.eia.doe.gov/pub/oil_gas/petroleum/survey_forms/eia856i.pdf.) In addition, importers are asked to provide the API gravity of specific shipments. Current EIA reports derived from this information are typically limited to aggregations by country of origin and average prices for different levels of API gravity.

Customers of EIA analyses might benefit from a more detailed treatment of crude quality differentials as a factor affecting market dynamics. EIA is therefore considering what, if any, additional types of information it should collect, analyze, and disseminate on the pricing, landed costs, inventory, and supply levels of different types of crude oil.

l. Project Description: The existing Green Island Project utilizes the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers (Corps) Green Island-Troy lock and dam that consists of: (1) A dam with a main spillway with a fixed crest elevation of 14.33 feet mean sea level (msl); (2) an auxiliary spillway with a crest elevation of 16.33 feet msl; and (3) a 520-foot-long, 45-foot-wide lock.

The Green Island Project consists of: (1) 2-foot-high pneumatic flashboards along the top of the main spillway with a crest elevation of 16.33 feet msl; (2) a 700-acre impoundment with a normal water surface elevation of 16.33 feet msl; (3) a bulkhead and forebay structure located downstream and at the west end of the Corps dam; (4) a powerhouse containing four 1.5 megawatt (MW) generating units with a total installed capacity of 6.0 MW; (5) a 34.5-kilovolt (kV) underground transmission cable; and (6) appurtenant facilities.

Green Island Power Authority proposes to: (1) Lower the existing main spillway to a crest elevation of 12.5 feet msl, and install new hydraulically operated crest gates with a maximum crest gate elevation of 18.5 feet msl; (2) increase the auxiliary spillway elevation to 18.4 feet msl; (3) raise the impoundment elevation to 18.4 feet msl and increase the impoundment size to 708 acres; (4) install a new trash boom extending across and upstream of the forebay; (5) expand the existing powerhouse to the east and west and install four new 6.0 MW generating units, and replace the four existing generating units with four new 6.0 MW generating units with a total installed capacity of 48 MW; and (6) install a new 13.8-kV, 70-foot-long transmission line.

On January 15, 2010, Green Island Power Authority filed a resource-specific settlement agreement signed by it and the National Marine Fisheries Service, U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, and the New York State Department of Environmental Conservation. Under the settlement agreement, Green Island Power Authority would: (1) Construct two new Denil fish ladders for upstream passage; (2) construct a new fish exclusion screen and downstream fish passage facility; (3) construct three new eel ladders for upstream passage; and (4) develop plans for fishway effectiveness testing and monitoring, shortnose sturgeon monitoring and mitigation, and water quality and streamflow monitoring.
