Background

The law provides that a person shall not be considered disabled for purposes of the Social Security Disability Insurance or the Supplemental Security Income programs if his or her DAA is a contributing factor material to our determination of disability. Sections 223(d)(2)(C) and 1614(a)(3)(J) of the Social Security Act (Act) (42 U.S.C. 423(d)(2)(C) and 1382c(a)(3)(J)). If we find that a person is disabled and we have medical evidence of DAA, we must decide whether the DAA is material to our determination of disability. To do this, we evaluate which of the person's disabling physical and mental limitations would remain if he or she stopped using drugs or alcohol. We then determine whether any or all of these remaining limitations would be disabling. The DAA is material to our determination of disability when we find that the person's remaining limitations would not be disabling. 20 CFR 404.1535, 416.935.

To provide guidance on how we interpret the DAA provisions of the Act, we issued instructions to our employees in an Emergency Message on August 30, 1996.¹ We later included some of those instructions in our Program Operations Manual System (POMS).² Since 1996 we have used these instructions and our regulations³ to determine whether a person's DAA is a contributing factor material to our determination of disability.

Request for Comments

We are asking for your comments on the procedures we follow when evaluating DAA. In particular, we would like your opinion about what, if any, changes you think we should make to our instructions. For example, do you have any suggestions about:

- What evidence we should consider to be medical evidence of DAA?
- How we should evaluate claims of people who have a combination of DAA and at least one other physical impairment?
- How we should evaluate the claims of people who have a combination of DAA and at least one other mental impairment?
- Whether we should include using cigarettes and other tobacco products in our instructions?
- How long a period of abstinence or nonuse we should consider to determine whether DAA is material to our determination of disability?
- Whether there is any special guidance we can provide for people with DAA who are homeless?

Please see the information under ADDRESSES earlier in this document for methods to give us your comments. We will not respond to your comments, but we will consider them when we decide whether and how we should update our current instructions.

Dated: January 22, 2010.

Michael J. Astrue,
Commissioner of Social Security.
