

Register on June 17, 2010.³ The Commission received no comments on the proposal.

The proposed rule change would remove the disclosure requirements that a listed company must fulfill when it relies on certain exceptions to Nasdaq rules concerning the composition and independence of audit, compensation, and nominating committees, and replace them with references to equivalent disclosure requirements of Regulation S-K under the Securities Act of 1933. The proposal also would add a reference to the disclosures that a listed company must make pursuant to Rule 10A-3 under the Act when a listed company relies on certain exceptions to that rule. The proposal further would allow a listed company the option of disclosing on or through its website, instead of in its annual proxy (or similar document), when it has relied on the exception that permits the appointment of a non-independent director to a company's compensation or nominating committee in exceptional and limited circumstances.⁴ Finally, the proposal would permit the disclosure of waivers of a company's code of conduct, as required by Nasdaq Rule 5610, to be made on or through a listed company's website or, in certain circumstances, through a press release.

The Commission finds that the proposed rule change is consistent with the requirements of the Act and the rules and regulations thereunder applicable to a national securities exchange⁵ and, in particular, the requirements of Section 6 of the Act⁶ and the rules and regulations thereunder. The Commission finds specifically that the proposed rule change is consistent with Section 6(b)(5) of the Act⁷ because it would remove disclosure requirements in Nasdaq's rules that duplicate Commission disclosure requirements and replace them with direct references to those Commission requirements. In addition, the proposed rule change would afford Nasdaq-listed companies additional methods to make certain disclosures required by the Exchange's rules, thereby easing compliance for listed companies and allowing them to rely on technology to provide information to investors in a timelier manner, consistent with the goal of investor protection.

⁴ In general, directors serving on the compensation and nominating committees of listed companies must be independent. See Nasdaq Rules 5605(d)(1) and (2) and 5605(e)(1) and (2). Non-independent directors, however, are permitted under exceptional and limited circumstances. See Nasdaq Rules 5605(d)(3) and 5605(e)(3).

⁵ In approving this proposed rule change, the Commission notes that it has considered the proposed rule's impact on efficiency, competition, and capital formation. 15 U.S.C. 78c(f).

It is therefore ordered, pursuant to Section 19(b)(2) of the Act,⁸ that the proposed rule change (SR-NASDAQ-2008-014), as modified by Amendments No. 1 and 2 thereto, be, and it hereby is, approved.

Pursuant to Section 19(b)(1) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 ("Act"),¹ and Rule 19b-4 thereunder,² notice is hereby given that on July 20, 2010, The NASDAQ Stock Market LLC ("NASDAQ"), filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission ("Commission") the proposed rule change as described in Items I, II, and III below, which Items have been prepared by NASDAQ. II. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement of the Purpose of, and Statutory Basis for, the Proposed Rule Change

In its filing with the Commission, NASDAQ included statements concerning the purpose of and basis for the proposed rule change and discussed any comments it received on the proposed rule change. The text of these statements may be examined at the places specified in Item IV below. NASDAQ has prepared summaries, set forth in Sections A, B, and C below, of the most significant aspects of such statements.

A. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement of the Purpose of, and Statutory Basis for, the Proposed Rule Change

1. Purpose

NASDAQ is proposing to assess a fee for each MPID approved by NASDAQ for use by a member firm on NASDAQ's systems in excess of one. MPIDs are special numerical identifiers assigned to certain broker-dealers to identify the firms' transaction and quoting activity. NASDAQ administers the assignment of MPIDs, which may be requested by broker-dealers for use on NASDAQ systems, reporting to FINRA, or a combination of the two. NASDAQ member firms are assigned a unique Primary MPID upon gaining NASDAQ membership. A member firm may, however, request additional MPIDs beyond its Primary MPID, called Supplemental MPIDs. Currently, NASDAQ does not assess a fee for the privilege of using approved Supplemental MPIDs on NASDAQ. In recent years, member firms have increasingly adopted business structures and strategies that require multiple Supplemental MPIDs. Member firms use

Supplemental MPIDs to separate orders or quotes entered into the NASDAQ system for affiliates, segregated business units or trading desks, or sponsored access firms. Member firms may also use Supplemental MPIDs for secondary clearing and/or for reporting trades and other information to facilities of the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority ("FINRA") that are operated by NASDAQ (e.g., the FINRA/NASDAQ Trade Reporting Facility). As a result, NASDAQ has seen a large increase in the number of Supplemental MPIDs requested by individual member firms.

NASDAQ proposes to assess a monthly fee for each Supplemental MPID approved by NASDAQ for use by a member firm on NASDAQ's systems. Supplemental MPIDs that are used exclusively for reporting information to facilities of FINRA that are operated by NASDAQ will be excluded from this fee; however, a member firm would be assessed the proposed fee for every month that a Supplemental MPID is not used exclusively for such FINRA reporting purposes. NASDAQ believes that assessing a fee on Supplemental MPIDs will benefit the markets and investors because such a fee will promote efficiency in MPID use. NASDAQ notes that certain member firms possess many MPIDs through which very little activity occurs. These unused or underutilized MPIDs provide negligible benefit to the market, yet represent an administrative and regulatory burden to NASDAQ.

NASDAQ notes that the New York Stock Exchange ("NYSE") assesses fees for firm access to its floor, and NASDAQ believes such fees are analogous to the proposed fees for assignment of multiple MPIDs.³ Such NYSE fees are based on the number of individuals that a member firm wishes to employ on the floor of the exchange and include, among other things, an annual fee of $40,000 per trading license per floor broker, a $5,000 annual fee per handheld device used on the floor, and a $250 annual badge maintenance fee per badge. By contrast, to have multiple MPIDs on NASDAQ, a member would need to pay the proposed MPID fee in addition to an annual membership fee of $3,000 and a trading rights fee of $500 per month, totaling $9,000 annually.⁴ As such, NASDAQ's fees are significantly less than the analogous fees of NYSE. NASDAQ anticipates, however, that the proposed fees may provide NASDAQ with a profit.

Competition for order flow is fierce among the national securities exchanges and other trading venues. As a consequence, member firms may easily re-direct order flow away from a trading venue should they determine that the venue's fees are set too high. As noted above, use of multiple MPIDs is generally a business decision made by member firms, and to the extent that such firms believe the MPID fee is excessive they may eliminate unneeded Supplemental MPIDs or may choose to move their order flow to other markets.

2. Statutory Basis

NASDAQ believes that the proposed rule change is consistent with the provisions of Section 6 of the Act,⁵ in general, and Section 6(b)(4) of the Act,⁶ in particular, because it provides for the equitable allocation of reasonable dues, fees and other charges among members and issuers and other persons using any facility or system that NASDAQ operates or controls, and it does not unfairly discriminate between customers, issuers, brokers or dealers. Member firms will continue to have discretion to request NASDAQ approval to use Supplemental MPIDs on NASDAQ. Use of MPIDs beyond a member firm's Primary MPID is voluntary and solely determined by a member firm's needs. The proposed Supplemental MPID fee will be imposed on all member firms equally based on the number of Supplemental MPIDs approved for use on NASDAQ.

B. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement on Burden on Competition

NASDAQ does not believe that the proposed rule change will result in any burden on competition that is not necessary or appropriate in furtherance of the purposes of the Act, as amended. As the Commission has recognized,⁷ the market for transaction execution and routing services is highly competitive. Broker-dealers currently have numerous alternative venues for their order flow, including multiple competing selfregulatory organization markets, as well as broker-dealers and aggregators such as electronic communications networks. A member firm is able to select any venue of which it is a member or participant to send its order flow. As such, if member firms believe that the proposed fee for Supplemental MPIDs is excessive they may easily choose to move their order flow elsewhere. NASDAQ believes that its proposed fees are comparable to fees assessed by the NYSE for market access, but are set at lower levels than the corresponding NYSE fees. NASDAQ also believes that the proposed fee will encourage efficiency in member firms' use of MPIDs.

C. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement on Comments on the Proposed Rule Change Received From Members, Participants, or Others

Written comments were neither solicited nor received.

III. Date of Effectiveness of the Proposed Rule Change and Timing for Commission Action

The foregoing rule change has become effective pursuant to Section 19(b)(3)(A)(ii) of the Act⁸ and subparagraph (f)(2) of Rule 19b-4 thereunder.⁹ At any time within 60 days of the filing of the proposed rule change, the Commission may summarily abrogate such rule change if it appears to the Commission that such action is necessary or appropriate in the public interest, for the protection of investors, or otherwise in furtherance of the purposes of the Act.

The text of these statements may be examined at the places specified in Item IV below. The Exchange has prepared summaries, set forth in Sections A, B, and C below, of the most significant aspects of such statements.

A. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement of the Purpose of, and Statutory Basis for, the Proposed Rule Change

1. Purpose

The Exchange proposes to increase liquidity and to attract order flow by increasing the number of options to be included in the Exchange's current Rebates and Fees for Adding and Removing Liquidity in Select Symbols as well as removing three options. Currently, the Exchange has 81 symbols ³ (“Select Symbols”) to which this applies.

Specifically, the Exchange proposes to add the following four options to the Select Symbols: (i) BP p.l.c. Common Stock (“BP”), (ii) Baidu, Inc. Additionally, the Exchange proposes to remove the following three options from the Select Symbols: (i) ARIAD Pharmaceuticals, Inc. (“ARIA”), (ii) Star Scientific, Inc. (“CIGX”) and (iii) Palm, Inc. (“PALM”).
