

emissions are estimated to result in 48 excess incidences of cancer per year nationwide and a 3×10^{-2} maximum individual risk (MIR).

Information collected are needed by the EPA to determine: (a) Whether a hazardous waste contains sufficiently low concentrations of volatile organics to allow the waste to be managed in a tank, surface impoundment, or container without the use of emission controls; and (b) for units requiring emission controls, whether the controls are being properly operated and maintained. These notifications, reports, and records are essential in determining compliance with the applicable standards. Semiannual reports of excess emissions are also required.

Any owner or operator subject to the provisions of this part shall maintain a file of these measurements, and retain the records for at least three years following the date of such measurements, maintenance reports, and records. Performance tests reports are required as this is the Agency's record of a source's initial capability to comply with the emission standard, and they serve as a record of the operating conditions under which compliance was achieved.

All reports are sent to the delegated state or local authority. In the event that there is no such delegated authority, the reports are sent directly to the EPA regional office. This information is being collected to assure compliance with 40 CFR (part 264, subpart CC, and part 265, subpart CC) as authorized in sections 112 and 114(a) of the Clean Air Act. The required information consists of emissions data and other information that have been determined to be private.

An agency may not conduct or sponsor, and a person is not required to respond to, a collection of information unless it displays a currently valid OMB Control Number. The OMB Control Number for EPA regulations, listed in 40 CFR part 9 and 48 CFR chapter 15, are identified on the form and/or instrument, if applicable.

Burden Statement: The annual public reporting and recordkeeping burden for this collection of information is estimated to average 114 hours per response. Burden means the total time, effort, or financial resources expended by persons to generate, maintain, retain, or disclose, and provide information to or for a Federal agency. This includes the time needed to review instructions; develop, acquire, install, and utilize technology and systems for the purposes of collecting, validating, and verifying information, processing and maintaining information, and disclosing and providing information. All existing ways will have to adjust to comply with any previously applicable instructions and requirements that have subsequently changed; train personnel to be able to respond to a collection of information; search data sources; complete and review the collection of information; and transmit or otherwise disclose the information.

Respondents/Affected Entities: Tanks, surface impoundments and containers.

Estimated Number of Respondents: 6,209.

Frequency of Response: Occasionally, annually, and semiannually.

Estimated Total Annual Hour Burden: 711,400.

Estimated Total Annual Cost: $80,708,869, which includes $68,290,869 in labor costs, no capital/startup costs, and $12,418,000 in operation and maintenance (O&M) costs.

Changes in the Estimates: There is no change in the number of affected facilities or the number of responses as compared to the previous ICR.

There is however, a small decrease in the estimated labor burden hours, as currently identified in the OMB Inventory of Approved Burdens. The decrease is not due to any program changes. The change in the labor burden hours occurred because the previous ICR rounded their calculations and this renewal did not. There is an increase in the cost estimates as compared to the previous ICR. The change in the cost estimates came about by the updated labor rates, which resulted in an increase in the labor costs.

Proposed Project: National Blood Collection and Utilization Survey—Reinstatement without Change—OMB No. 0990-0313—The Office of the Advisory Committee on Blood Safety and Availability.

Abstract: The NBCUS is a biennial survey of the blood collection and utilization community to produce reliable and accurate estimates of national and regional collections, utilization and safety of all blood products.

The objective of the NBCUS is to produce reliable and accurate estimates of national and regional collections, utilization, and safety of all blood products—red blood cells, fresh frozen plasma, and platelets, as well as related cellular therapy products. This survey will significantly improve the federal government's capacity to understand the dynamics of blood supply, safety and availability, and to provide a quantitative basis for assessing strategic and regulatory agendas. An important purpose of the 2011 survey is to help the federal government continue to monitor trends in blood availability since a variety of factors have come to play that have reduced the number of people eligible to give blood and, as stated in the evolving National Strategic Plan for Blood, this information is critical to ensure an adequate supply of safe blood in the United States.
