

pregnancy prevention (19 OAH grantees and 13 ACYF grantees). Grants are funded for 5 years at levels ranging from $400,000 to $4 million per year. Interventions for these different programs vary widely in terms of duration (from 1 day to 4 years), setting (schools, clinics, or community based settings), populations served (middle school students, high school students, parents of teens) and content (e.g., youth development programs or sex education programs). Funding requirements for the grantees included the collection and reporting of data for performance measurement. The performance measure collection is important to OAH and ACYF because it will provide the agency with data both to effectively monitor these programs, and to comply with accountability and Federal performance requirements for the 1993 Government Performance and Results Act (Pub. L. 103–62).

Proposed Project: Outcome Evaluation of Teenage Pregnancy Prevention: Integrating Services, Programs, and Strategies through Community-wide Initiatives—OMB No. 0990–NEW–Office of Adolescent Pregnancy Programs.

The Office of Adolescent Health and the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) are working collaboratively to address the high pregnancy rate of women between the ages of 15–19 by demonstrating the effectiveness of innovative, multi-component, community-wide initiatives in preventing teen pregnancy and reducing rates of teen births in communities with the highest rates, with a focus on reaching African American and Latino youth aged 15–19. Components of these efforts include (1) Implementing evidence-based or evidence-informed prevention programs; (2) linking teens to quality health services; (3) educating stakeholders (community leaders, parents and other constituents) about relevant evidence-based or evidence-informed strategies to reduce teen pregnancy and data on needs and resources in target communities; and (4) supporting the sustainability of the community-wide teen pregnancy prevention effort.

The main objective for the proposed Outcome Evaluation of Teenage Pregnancy Prevention: Integrating Services, Programs, and Strategies through Community-wide Initiatives is to measure risk behaviors, pregnancies, and use of contraceptives and family planning services among youth. The data collection instrument for the proposed study is a modified version of a recently approved survey (OMB No. 0970–0360 Expiration date 7/31/2013). Clearance is being requested to expand the utilization of a modified version of the previously-approved instrument.

The Outcome Evaluation of Teenage Pregnancy Prevention: Integrating Services, Programs, and Strategies through Community-wide Initiatives will focus on the combined change of two proportions: (1) The proportion of youth who have not engaged in sexual intercourse during the past 12 months and (2) the proportion of youth who have engaged in sexual intercourse but have used contraception consistently during the past 12 months. To determine if the change in this proportion of interest in the intervention community is significantly different from the control community is one of the most important parameters to be estimated. Power analysis determined that 1,200 surveys per community will be sufficient to detect this difference. The precise number of youth surveyed will depend on the response rates, and will be between 1,200 and 1,500 per community.
