7 CFR Part 301

[Docket No. APHIS–2012–0003]

Asian Longhorned Beetle; Quarantined Areas in Massachusetts, Ohio, and New York

AGENCY: Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service, USDA.

ACTION: Interim rule and request for comments.

SUMMARY: We are amending the Asian longhorned beetle regulations to make changes to the list of quarantined areas by adding portions of Worcester County, MA, and Clermont County, OH, to the list of quarantined areas. We are also removing a portion of Suffolk County, NY, from the list of quarantined areas based on our determination that the area meets our criteria for removal. These actions are necessary to prevent the artificial spread of Asian longhorned beetle to noninfested areas of the United States and to relieve restrictions on certain areas that are no longer necessary.

DATES: This interim rule is effective May 30, 2012. We will consider all comments that we receive on or before July 30, 2012.

ADDRESSES: You may submit comments by either of the following methods:

- Federal eRulemaking Portal: Go to http://www.regulations.gov/#!documentDetail;D=APHIS-2012-0003-0001.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:Background

The Asian longhorned beetle (ALB, Anoplophora glabripennis), an insect native to China, Japan, Korea, and the Isle of Hainan, is a destructive pest of hardwood trees. The ALB regulations in 7 CFR 301.51–1 through 301.51–9 (referred to below as the regulations) restrict the interstate movement of regulated articles from quarantined areas to prevent the artificial spread of ALB to noninfested areas of the United States.

On October 25, 2011, an ALB infestation was discovered in the central portion of Shrewsbury in Worcester County, MA. On June 17, 2011, an ALB infestation was discovered in the townships of Monroe and Tate, and in the East Fork State Park in Clermont County, OH. These States have quarantined the infested areas and are restricting the intrastate movement of regulated articles from the quarantined areas to prevent the further spread of ALB within each State. Federal regulations are necessary to restrict the interstate movement of regulated articles from the quarantined areas to prevent the interstate spread of ALB.

The regulations in § 301.51–3(a) provide that APHIS will list as a quarantined area each State, or each portion of a State, where ALB has been found by an inspector, where the Administrator has reason to believe that ALB is present, or where the Administrator considers regulation necessary because of its inseparability for quarantine purposes from localities where ALB has been found.

Less than an entire State will be quarantined only if (1) the Administrator determines that the State has adopted and is enforcing restrictions on the intrastate movement of regulated articles that are equivalent to those imposed by the regulations on the interstate movement of regulated articles and (2) the designation of less than an entire State as a quarantined area will be adequate to prevent the artificial spread of ALB.

In accordance with these criteria and the recent ALB findings described above, we are adding the Town of Shrewsbury in Worcester County, MA, and a portion of the Township of Monroe, the entire Township of Tate, and the entire acreage of East Fork State Park in Clermont County, OH, to the list of quarantined areas in § 301.51–3(c). The quarantined areas are described in detail in the regulatory text of this document.

In 2000, APHIS established a quarantined area in Islip, Suffolk

County, NY, after ALB was first detected in the area in order to prevent the artificial spread of ALB. After the completion of control and regulatory activities, and based on the results of at least 3 years of negative surveys of all regulated host plants within the quarantined area, APHIS determined that the villages of Bayshore, East Islip, and Islip Terrace in the Town of Islip, Suffolk County, NY, have met the criteria for removal of the Federal quarantine for ALB.

Therefore, in this interim rule, we are amending the list of quarantined areas in § 301.51–3(c) by removing the villages of Bayshore, East Islip, and Islip Terrace in the Town of Islip, Suffolk County, NY. This action relieves restrictions on the movement of regulated articles from those areas that are no longer warranted.

Immediate Action

Immediate action is necessary to help prevent ALB from spreading to noninfested areas of the United States. In addition, this rule also relieves restrictions on certain areas that are no longer warranted. Under these circumstances, the Administrator has determined that prior notice and opportunity for public comment are contrary to the public interest and that there is good cause under 5 U.S.C. 553 for making this action effective less than 30 days after publication in the Federal Register.

We will consider comments we receive during the comment period for this interim rule (see DATES above). After the comment period closes, we will publish another document in the Federal Register. The document will include a discussion of any comments we receive and any amendments we are making to the rule.

Executive Order 12866 and Regulatory Flexibility Act

This interim rule is subject to under Executive Order 12866. However, for this action, the Office of Management and Budget has waived its review under Executive Order 12866.

In accordance with 5 U.S.C. 603, we have performed an initial regulatory flexibility analysis, which is summarized below, regarding the economic effects of this rule on small entities. The full analysis may be viewed on the Regulations.gov Web site (see ADDRESSES above for instructions for accessing Regulations.gov) or obtained from the person listed under FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT.

This rule amends the ALB regulations by adding certain areas in Massachusetts and Ohio to the list of quarantined areas. This rule also removes certain areas in New York from quarantine based on surveys that indicate these areas have met the criteria for release from regulation. Potentially, about 30 entities may be affected in the expanded quarantine area in Massachusetts, and about 80 entities may be affected in Ohio. These businesses include landscape companies, tree service companies, firewood dealers, construction companies, waste haulers, and other operations that move regulated articles from the quarantined areas. Additional costs of operating such businesses under ALB quarantine are small, and principally derive from self-inspection and certification of regulated material under compliance agreements. In Islip, New York, the approximately 90 entities that have been affected by the quarantine will benefit from its removal by no longer having to satisfy movement restrictions. Most if not all of the businesses that will be affected by this rule in the three States are small entities.

Executive Order 12372

This program/activity is listed in the Catalog of Federal Domestic Assistance under No. 10.025 and is subject to Executive Order 12372, which requires intergovernmental consultation with State and local officials. (See 7 CFR part 3015, subpart V.)

Executive Order 12988

This rule has been reviewed under Executive Order 12988, Civil Justice Reform. This rule: (1) Preempts all State and local laws and regulations that are in conflict with this rule; (2) has no retroactive effect; and (3) does not require administrative proceedings before parties may file suit in court challenging this rule.

Paperwork Reduction Act

This interim rule contains no information collection or recordkeeping requirements under the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995 (44 U.S.C. 3501 et seq.).
