Before being granted access to Security Records, a user must first be granted access to the Department of State computer system, and user access is not granted until a background investigation has been completed.

Remote access to the Department of State network from non-Department owned systems is authorized only to unclassified systems and only through a Department-approved access program. Remote access to the unclassified network is configured with the Office of Management and Budget Memorandum M-07-16 security requirements, which include but are not limited to two-factor authentication and time out function.

All Department of State employees and contractors with authorized access have undergone a thorough background security investigation. Access to the Department of State, its annexes and posts abroad is controlled by security guards and admission is limited to those individuals possessing a valid identification card or individuals under proper escort. All paper records containing personal information are maintained in secured file cabinets in restricted areas, access to which is limited to authorized personnel. Access to computerized files is password-protected and under the direct supervision of the system manager. The AGENCY: Office of the United States Trade Representative.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Arthur Tsao, Assistant General Counsel, Office of the United States Trade Representative, 600 17th Street NW., Washington, DC 20508, (202) 395–3150.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: Section 127(b) of the Uruguay Round Agreements Act (“URAA”) (19 U.S.C. 3537(b)(1)) requires that notice and opportunity for comment be provided after the United States submits or receives a request for the establishment of a WTO dispute settlement panel. Consistent with this obligation, USTR is providing notice that a dispute settlement panel has been requested and established pursuant to the WTO Dispute Settlement Understanding (“DSU”). The panel will hold its meetings in Geneva, Switzerland.

Major Issues Raised by the United States

The United States has requested the establishment of a panel to consider Indonesia’s import restricting measures on the importation of horticultural products, animals, and animal products. In particular, Indonesia imposes non-automatic import licensing regimes for horticultural products and for animals and animal products pursuant to which an importer must complete multiple steps prior to importing those products into Indonesia. The legal instruments through which Indonesia maintains these measures are set out in the panel request.

Indonesia imposes a non-automatic import licensing regime for horticultural products pursuant to which an importer must complete multiple steps prior to importing a horticultural product into Indonesia. These steps include, first, an importer must obtain a Horticultural Product Import Recommendation (“RIPH”) certificate from the Ministry of Agriculture. When issuing the RIPH certificate, the Ministry of Agriculture considers factors such as production and availability of similar products domestically, domestic consumption of the product, and potential of the imported product to distort the market.

Second, an importer must apply to receive a designation as a Producer Importer of Horticultural Products or Registered Importer of Horticultural Products from the Ministry of Trade. Third, for each imported product, the importer must apply to the Minister of Trade for an import license by submitting the RIPH certificate and the designation.

Indonesia also imposes a non-automatic import licensing regime and quotas for animals and animal products pursuant to which an importer must complete multiple steps prior to importing an animal or animal product into Indonesia. These steps include, first, importers must receive an Import Approval Recommendation (“RPP”) from the Ministry of Agriculture to import animals or animal products. After receiving the RPP, the importer must then apply for an import license with the Ministry of Trade. The Ministry of Trade only allows the importation of the product if, among other factors, domestic production and supply of the product do not meet “demand for public consumption at reasonable price.”

Indonesia’s government also sets the quotas for animals and animal products twice a year, which is enforced through the import licensing regime.

Through these measures, Indonesia appears to have acted inconsistently with the following obligations: Articles X:3(a) and XI:1 of the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade 1994; Article 4.2 of the Agreement on Agriculture; and Articles 3.2 and 3.3 the Agreement on Import Licensing Procedures.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Background

Under 49 U.S.C. 31136(e) and 31315, FMCSA may grant an exemption from the Federal Motor Carrier Safety

Regulations for a 2-year period if it finds "such exemption would likely achieve a level of safety that is equivalent to or greater than the level that would be achieved absent such exemption." FMCSA can renew exemptions at the end of each 2-year period. The 25 individuals listed in this notice have each requested such an exemption from the vision requirement in 49 CFR 391.41(b)(10), which applies to drivers of CMVs in interstate commerce. Accordingly, the Agency will evaluate the qualifications of each applicant to determine whether granting an exemption will achieve the required level of safety mandated by statute.
