Copy Testing of FDA's General Market Youth Tobacco Prevention Campaigns (OMB Control Number—0910—New)

The 2009 Family Smoking Prevention and Tobacco Control Act (Tobacco Control Act) (Public Law 111–31) amends the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act (the FD&C Act) to grant FDA authority to regulate the manufacture, marketing, and distribution of tobacco products to protect public health and to reduce tobacco use by minors. Section 1003(d)(2)(D) of the FD&C Act (21 U.S.C. 393(d)(2)(D)) supports the development and implementation of FDA public education campaigns related to tobacco use. Accordingly, FDA is currently developing and implementing youth-targeted public education campaigns to help prevent tobacco use among youth and thereby reduce the public health burden of tobacco. The campaigns will feature televised advertisements along with complementary ads on radio, on the Internet, in print, and through other forms of media.

FDA requests OMB approval to collect information needed to assess the potential effectiveness of draft (or "rough-cut") youth tobacco prevention campaign advertisements prior to launch. This information will be collected through copy testing as part of the message development phase. Copy testing involves showing rough-cut versions of campaign advertisements to a small sample of the campaign target audience to ensure understanding of messages and assess any potential unintended consequences. Copy testing of FDA's rough-cut general market youth tobacco prevention campaign advertisements is needed to ensure development and execution of meaningful and effective public education tactics.

FDA plans to conduct three voluntary cross-sectional studies involving youth ages 12 to 17 to copy test the Agency's general market youth tobacco prevention campaign advertisements:

1. Youth Experimenter Copy Testing: The study will be designed to obtain insights into potential effectiveness and unintended consequences of advertisements designed to target general market youth ages 12–17 who are currently experimenting with tobacco products (i.e., have smoked between 1 and 100 cigarettes).

2. Youth Non-Trier Copy Testing: The study will be designed to obtain insights into potential effectiveness and unintended consequences of advertisements designed to target general market youth ages 12–17 who have not tried tobacco but are most at risk of initiation.

3. Youth Rural Smokeless Copy Testing: The study will be designed to obtain insights into potential effectiveness and unintended consequences of advertisements designed to target general market youth ages 12–15 who reside in rural areas, with a focus on males at risk of smokeless tobacco initiation.

In each study, each study participant will view a maximum of two rough cut tobacco prevention advertisements. After reviewing the advertisements, each participant will respond to questions traditionally used in formative testing of advertisements to assess his or her receptivity to the advertisements. Study data will be used to refine rough-cut television advertisements prior to campaign launch. The study data will be collected from participants of an Internet panel.

FDA’s burden estimate is based on prior experience with Internet panel studies similar to the Agency’s plan presented in this document. To obtain the target number of completed surveys (“completes”) for the Youth Experimenter Copy Testing, 3,600 youth respondents and their parent or legal guardian will be contacted through a screening and consent process. The estimated burden per response for the screening and consent is 5 minutes (0.083 hours) per respondent, for a total of 300 hours. An estimated 1,200 youth respondents will then complete the copy test survey. The estimated burden per response is 10 minutes (0.17 hours) for the Youth Experimenter Copy Testing survey, for a total of 200 hours.

To obtain the target number of completes for the Youth Non-Trier Copy Testing, 1,800 youth respondents and their parent or legal guardian will be contacted through a screening and consent process. The estimated burden per response for screening and consent is 5 minutes (0.083 hours) per respondent, for a total of 150 hours. An estimated 600 youth respondents will then complete the copy test survey. The estimated burden per response is 10 minutes (0.17 hours) for the Youth Experimenter Copy Testing survey, for a total of 100 hours.

To obtain the target number of completes for the Youth Rural Smokeless Copy Testing, 1,800 youth respondents and their parent or legal guardian will be contacted through a screening and consent process. The estimated burden per response for screening and consent is 5 minutes (0.083 hours) per respondent, for a total of 150 hours. An estimated 600 youth respondents will then complete the copy test survey. The estimated burden per response is 10 minutes (0.17 hours) for the Youth Rural Smokeless Copy Testing survey, for a total of 100 hours.

The target number of completed copy testing surveys for all respondents is 2,400. The total estimated burden is 1,000 hours.
