2. Tips for preparing your comments. When submitting comments, remember to:

- i. Identify the document by docket ID number and other identifying information (subject heading, Federal Register date and page number).
- ii. Follow directions. The Agency may ask you to respond to specific questions or organize comments by referencing a Code of Federal Regulations (CFR) part or section number.
- iii. Explain why you agree or disagree; suggest alternatives and substitute language for your requested changes.
- iv. Describe any assumptions and provide any technical information and/or data that you used.
- v. If you estimate potential costs or burdens, explain how you arrived at your estimate in sufficient detail to allow for it to be reproduced.
- vi. Provide specific examples to illustrate your concerns and suggest alternatives.
- vii. Explain your views as clearly as possible, avoiding the use of profanity or personal threats.
- viii. Make sure to submit your comments by the comment period deadline identified.

3. Environmental justice. EPA seeks to achieve environmental justice, the fair treatment and meaningful involvement of any group, including minority and/or low income populations, in the development, implementation, and enforcement of environmental laws, regulations, and policies. To help address potential environmental justice issues, the Agency seeks information on any groups or segments of the population who, as a result of their location, cultural practices, or other factors, may have atypical or disproportionately high and adverse human health impacts or environmental effects from exposure to the pesticide(s) discussed in this document, compared to the general population.

II. What Action is the Agency Taking?

Under section 5 of the Federal Insecticide, Fungicide, and Rodenticide Act (FIFRA), 7 U.S.C. 136c, EPA can allow manufacturers to field test pesticides under development. Manufacturers are required to obtain an EUP before testing new pesticides or new uses of pesticides if they conduct experimental field tests on 10 acres or more of land or one acre or more of water. Following the review of the application and any comments and data received in response to this solicitation, EPA will decide whether to issue or deny the amended EUP request, and if issued, the conditions under which it is to be conducted. Any issuance of an amended EUP will be announced in the Federal Register.

Therefore, pursuant to 40 CFR 172.11(a), the Agency has determined that the following amended EUP application may be of regional and national significance, and therefore is seeking public comment on the following amended EUP application: 524-EUP-104. (EPA-HQ-OPP-2012-0780). On March 1, 2013, EPA approved an application from Monsanto Company, 800 Lindbergh Blvd., St. Louis, MO 63167, for an experimental use permit (EPA Reg. No. 524-EUP-104) for the PIPs corn events MON 87410 and MON 87411. A notice of issuance of the EUP was published in the Federal Register on November 21, 2013 (78 FR 69849) (FRL-9403-1). The corn events MON 87410 and Mon 87411 were approved for experimental use in combination with single and combined traits that produce active ingredients derived from Bacillus thuringiensis (Bt) and target lepidoptera and corn rootworm (CRW). The EUP allowed planting through February 28, 2015.

In a subsequent application, dated October 3, 2013, Monsanto has proposed to amend this permit (524-EUP-104) to plant MON 87411 in combination with other single- and combined-event PIPs that have been previously registered. The acreage to be planted under the proposed amendment over the 2-year period (2014–2016) are: 13,300 acres of event combinations containing MON 87411, 7,032 acres of other unregistered PIP combinations, 11,057 acres of registered PIPs to be used in comparators, and 14,653 acres of non-PIP and border plants.

The PIP events comprising the single or combined trait products in this EUP include MON 89034, TC1507, MIR162, MON 88017, DAS-59122-7, and MON 87411. The proposed new corn event, MON 87411, contains a suppression cassette with an inverted repeat sequence (DvSnf7) derived from Diabrotica virgifera. The expression of the DvSnf7 suppression cassette results in the formation of a double stranded RNA (dsRNA) transcript. The researchers postulate that when PIP-produced Dv49 dsRNA is consumed by the pest, it down regulates the targeted pest's Snf7 gene, resulting in CRW mortality. MON 87411 also produces the Cry3Bb1 protein to protect against CRW larval feeding.

The Bt proteins to be used in the single or combination traits in the proposed amended EUP include Cry1A.105, Cry2Ab2, Cry IF, Vip3Aa20, Cry3Bb1, and Cry34Abl/Cry35Abl. The environmental and human health safety of these proteins has been demonstrated, and they are respectively exempted from the requirement of a tolerance (40 CFR 174.502, 174.519, 174.520, 174.501, 174.518, 174.506). A permanent tolerance exemption has been established for nucleic acids that are part of the PIPs proposed for testing, including the dsRNA from MON 87411 (40 CFR 174.507).

The tests will be conducted in the U.S. territory of Puerto Rico and in the states including: Alabama, Arkansas, California, Colorado, Florida, Georgia, Hawaii, Idaho, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Kentucky, Louisiana, Michigan, Minnesota, Mississippi, Missouri, Nebraska, North Carolina, North Dakota, Ohio, Oklahoma, Pennsylvania, South Carolina, South Dakota, Tennessee, Texas, Washington and Wisconsin.

Proposed protocols for the EUP include: (1) Seed development and increase for future testing including nursery observations of traits in various genetic backgrounds; and (2) product characterization work, including phenotypic and agronomic observations, efficacy, yield benefit evaluations and regulatory data generation.

General Description of Collection: The collection involves forms used by the FDIC to obtain information from individual depositors and deposit brokers necessary to supplement the records of failed depository institutions to make determinations regarding deposit insurance coverage for depositors of failed institutions. The information provided allows the FDIC to identify the actual owners of an account and each owner's interest in the account.

Current Action: The FDIC is proposing modifications, which may be considered substantive and material, to the following forms: 7200/10, Declaration for Combined Contribution Plan; 7200/12, Declaration for Defined Benefit Plan; and 7200/14, Declaration for Health and Welfare Plan. The content of the forms was revised to reflect current deposit insurance rules and regulations; to focus on the collection of information required for an insurance determination; and to incorporate applicable Code of Federal Regulations (both FDIC and non-FDIC) citations. The FDIC also proposes modifications, which may be considered non-substantive and nonmaterial, to the following forms: 7200/04, Declaration for Government Deposit; 7200/05, Declaration for Revocable Living Trust; 7200/06, Declaration of Independent Activity; 7200/07, Declaration of Independent Activity for Unincorporated Association; 7200/08, Declaration of Joint Ownership Deposit; 7200/09, Declaration of Testamentary Deposit; 7200/11, Declaration of IRA Keogh Deposit; 7200/13, Declaration of Custodian Deposit; 7200/15, Declaration for Plan and Trust; and 7200/18, Declaration for Irrevocable Trust. Finally, the FDIC proposes to add two new forms: 7200/24, Claimant Verification Form, 7200/24, and Depositor Interview Form, 7200/06. The purpose of the new forms is to facilitate collection of specific information that the FDIC will need in calculating insurance coverage after a bank failure.

Request for Comment

Comments are invited on: (a) Whether these collections of information are necessary for the proper performance of the FDIC's functions, including whether the information has practical utility; (b) the accuracy of the estimate of the burden of the information collection, including the validity of the methodology and assumptions used; (c) ways to enhance the quality, utility, and clarity of the information to be collected; and (d) ways to minimize the burden of the information collection on respondents, including through the use of automated collection techniques or other forms of information technology.
