Application Details

Permit Application: 2014–029

1. Applicant: William Detrich, Dept. of Marine and Environmental Sciences, Northeastern University Marine Science Center.

Activity for Which Permit is Requested

ASPAs; A permit is requested to enter ASPA 152 (Western Bransfield Strait) and ASPA 153 (Eastern Dallmann Bay) using the ARSV Laurence M. Gould to capture Antarctic fish by trawling and trapping. The collected fish would be used to study the effects of a warming Southern Ocean on development of the embryos of Antarctic fishes. Data collected under this permit would be part of a long-term (28 year) dataset. Approximately 50 hours of trawling would be conducted in ASPA 152 and approximately 20 hours would be conducted in ASPA 153. Sixteen traps would be set and allowed to soak for a total of 3 days.

It is anticipated that that approximately 400 hundred individual fish representing four species of ice fish (Notothenia coriiceps, Chaenocephalus aceratus, Champscephalus gunnari, Gobionotothen gibberifrons) would be captured in the ASPAs and used in the study. Live fishes would be transported to the aquarium facilities at Palmer Station for experimentation. Breeding and biochemical experiments would be conducted. All experimental animals would be humanely euthanized and properly disposed of outside the ASPAs

Location

ASPAs 152 Western Bransfield Strait and ASPA 153 Eastern Dallmann Bay.

Dates
