SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

I. Background

FDA is announcing the availability of a draft guidance for tobacco retailers entitled “Enforcement Policy for Certain (Provisional) Tobacco Products That FDA Finds Not Substantially Equivalent.” In this draft guidance, FDA provides information on its enforcement policy regarding so-called provisional tobacco products that become subject to NSE orders under the FD&C Act. The provisional products addressed by this draft guidance are tobacco products that were first introduced or delivered for introduction into interstate commerce for commercial distribution after February 15, 2007, and prior to March 22, 2011, and for which a section 905(j) (21 U.S.C. 387e(j)) (or substantial equivalent) report was submitted no later than March 22, 2011. Because the FD&C Act permitted this specific group of products to remain on the market pending FDA’s review of the report, there will very likely be products at retail locations within the United States when FDA issues an order finding a tobacco product NSE. This draft guidance explains that FDA does not intend to take enforcement action for at least 30 calendar days from the date the NSE order issues for those products that are in the retailer’s current inventory at a specific retail location on the date FDA issues the NSE order.

This draft guidance is being issued consistent with FDA’s good guidance practices regulation (21 CFR 10.115). The draft guidance, when finalized, will represent the Agency’s current thinking on “Enforcement Policy for Certain (Provisional) Tobacco Products That FDA Finds Not Substantially Equivalent.” It does not create or confer any rights for or on any person and does not operate to bind FDA or the public. An alternative approach may be used if such approach satisfies the requirements of the applicable statutes and regulations.
