SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The Assistant Secretary of Labor for Occupational Safety and Health invites interested individuals to submit nominations for membership on WPAC.

Background. The WPAC advises the Secretary of Labor (the Secretary) and the Assistant Secretary of Labor for Occupational Safety and Health (the Assistant Secretary) on ways to improve the fairness, efficiency, and transparency of OSHA's whistleblower investigations. WPAC is a continuing advisory body and operates in compliance with the Federal Advisory Committee Act (5 U.S.C. App. 2) and its implementing regulations (see "Authority and Signature" section).

WPAC membership.

WPAC is comprised of 12 members, who the Secretary appoints to staggered terms not to exceed two years. OSHA is seeking to fill 12 positions on WPAC that will become vacant on January 1, 2015. Because this is the first time that OSHA is staggering terms for WPAC members, six members will be appointed to one-year terms and six will be appointed to two-year terms. Thereafter, all members will be appointed to two-year terms. The composition of WPAC and categories of new members to be appointed to one-year terms are as follows:

- Two management representatives who are employers or are from employer associations in industries covered by one or more of the whistleblower laws;
- Two labor representatives who are workers or from worker advocacy organizations in industries covered by one or more of the whistleblower laws;
- One member represents the State OSH Plan states; and
- One public representative from colleges, universities, non-partisan think tanks, and/or other entities, that have extensive knowledge and expertise on whistleblower statutes and issues.

The composition of WPAC and categories of new members to be appointed to two-year terms are as follows:

- Two management representatives who are employers or are from employer associations in industries covered by one or more of the whistleblower laws;
- Two labor representatives who are workers or from worker advocacy organizations in industries covered by one or more of the whistleblower laws; and
- Two public representatives from colleges, universities, non-partisan think tanks, and/or other entities, that have extensive knowledge and expertise on whistleblower statutes and issues.

In addition, the committee will also have three Ad hoc/voting members who are regular government employees from other Federal Government agencies. They will be selected by the Secretary of Labor from Departments that have jurisdiction over statutes with whistleblower provisions, for example, the Securities and Exchange Commission (Sarbanes-Oxley Act), or the Department of Transportation's Federal Aviation Administration (Wendell H. Ford Aviation Investment and Reform Act for the 21st Century), or the Federal Railroad Administration (Federal Railroad Safety Act).

If a vacancy occurs before a term expires, the Secretary may appoint a new member who represents the same interest as the predecessor to serve for the remainder of the unexpired term. The committee meets at least two times a year.

Nomination requirements. Any individual or organization may nominate one or more qualified persons for membership. Submissions of nominations must include the following information:

1. The nominee's name, contact information and current occupation or position;
2. The nominee's resume or curriculum vitae, including prior membership on WPAC and other relevant organizations, associations and committees;
3. Category of membership (management, labor, state plan, or academic/extensive whistleblower knowledge) the nominee is qualified to represent;
4. A summary of the nominee's background, experience and qualifications that address the nominee's suitability to serve on WPAC;
5. Articles or other documents the nominee has authored that indicate the nominee's knowledge, experience and expertise in whistleblowing; and
6. A statement that the nominee is aware of the nomination, is willing to regularly attend and participate in WPAC meetings, and has no apparent conflicts of interest that would preclude membership on WPAC.

Membership selection. WPAC members will be selected on the basis of their experience, knowledge, and competence in the field of whistleblower protection. The information received through this nomination process, in addition to other relevant sources of information, will assist the Secretary in appointing members to serve on WPAC. In selecting WPAC members, the Secretary will consider individuals nominated in response to this Federal Register notice, as well as other qualified individuals.

Before candidates are appointed, the U.S. Department of Labor (Department) conducts a basic background check using publically available, Internet-based sources.

The Department is committed to bringing greater diversity of thought, perspective and experience to its advisory committees. In addition, the Department encourages nominees of all races, genders, ages, disabilities and sexual orientations to apply.

The additional material must clearly identify your electronic or FAX submission by name and docket number (Docket No. OSHA-2014-0004) so that the materials can be attached to your submission.
