Pursuant to FACA and EPA policy, notice is hereby given that the CASAC AMMS will hold three public teleconferences to discuss and deliberate on the topic below.

Background

The EPA is developing scientific and technical documents associated with the Ozone (O₃) National Ambient Air Quality Standard (NAAQS). The O₃ NAAQS FRM serves as the standard protocol for measuring ambient O₃ concentration values. The O₃ NAAQS FRM is used to assess whether a given geographic region is in full regulatory compliance with the appropriate O₃ NAAQS standard. The O₃ NAAQS FRM is also used to help assess the operational and laboratory-based performance of emerging monitoring technologies. The current O₃ NAAQS FRM (Ethylene-Chemiluminescence method) is no longer being manufactured, and the EPA's Office of Research and Development (ORD) is proposing addition of the Nitric Oxide (NO)-Chemiluminescence method as a second FRM for O₃. During the April 3, 2014 teleconference call, the CASAC AMMS will review the scientific and technical aspects of a draft document that supports ORD's recommendation to adopt the NO-Chemiluminescence method as a second FRM for measuring O₃. The April 8, 2014 AAMS teleconference will only be held if the subcommittee does not complete its deliberations on the topic being considered during the April 3, 2014 public teleconference.

Technical Contacts: Any technical questions concerning EPA's proposal to add the NO-Chemiluminescence method as a second FRM for O₃ should be directed to Mr. Eric S. Hall, National Exposure Research Laboratory, Office of Research and Development, U.S. EPA, 109 T.W. Alexander Drive, MD E205-03, Research Triangle Park, NC 27711-0001, telephone (919) 541-3147 or via email at hall.eric@epa.gov.
