

band that was reallocated from television broadcast use as a result of the DTV transition. In 2000, the Commission designated 2.4 megahertz of the 700 MHz narrowband spectrum for statewide geographic licensing. In addition, the Commission also established “substantial service” performance requirements for the narrowband State licenses, which included five- and ten-year benchmarks for state licensees to establish specified levels of substantial service within their statewide license areas. The Commission determined that these benchmarks would be calculated based upon the anticipated completion date of the DTV transition: January 1, 2007. Accordingly, the Commission established its five- and ten-year benchmark deadlines listed in § 90.529 based upon this January 1, 2007 date. Subsequently, however, the Commission extended the DTV transition date to June 12, 2009.

2. In July 2011, the Commission issued a Declaratory Ruling establishing that the five- and ten-year substantial service deadlines set forth in § 90.529 begin with the June 12, 2009 amended DTV transition date. Accordingly, the five- and ten-year substantial service deadlines occur on June 13, 2014 and June 13, 2019, respectively.

3. In this Order, the Commission’s Public Safety and Homeland Security Bureau, on delegated authority, conforms the “substantial service” deadlines in § 90.529(b) for 700 MHz public safety state-licensees to comply with the deadlines listed in the Commission’s July 2011 Declaratory Ruling. Thus, this Order revises the language of § 90.529(b) to accurately reflect the date determined in the Declaratory Ruling.

4. The Order merely revises the language in § 90.529(b) to accurately reflect the substantial service deadlines. These revisions are thus ministerial, non-substantive, and editorial. Accordingly, the Bureau found good cause to conclude that notice and comment procedures are unnecessary and would serve no useful purpose. Because the rule revisions will not affect the substantive rights or interests of any licensee, the Bureau also found good cause to make these non-substantive, editorial revisions of the rules effective upon publication in the Federal Register.

5. The Bureau adopted this Order pursuant to its delegated authority to “conduct[] rulemaking proceedings” in matters pertaining to public safety and homeland security. Pursuant to § 0.392 of the Commission’s rules, the Bureau Chief is “delegated authority to perform all functions of the Bureau, described in . . . § 0.191” with certain specified exceptions. Specifically, § 0.392(e) provides that the Bureau can make ministerial amendments to rule parts, with specific exceptions “where novel questions of fact, law or policy are not involved.” None of those exceptions is present here.

Procedural Matters

A. Final Regulatory Flexibility Analysis

6. Because the Commission adopted this Order without the publication of a notice of proposed rulemaking, the Regulatory Flexibility Act, 5 U.S.C. 601 et seq., does not require the Commission to prepare a regulatory flexibility analysis.

B. Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995 Analysis

7. This document does not contain new or modified information collection requirements subject to the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995, Public Law 104–13. Therefore, it does not contain any new or modified information collection burden for small business concerns with fewer than 25 employees, pursuant to the Small Business Paperwork Relief Act of 2002, Public Law 107–198, see 44 U.S.C. 3506(c)(4).

Ordering Clauses

8. Accordingly, it is ordered that, pursuant to sections 1, 2, 4(i), 303(r), 332 and 337 of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, 47 U.S.C. 151, 152, 154(i), 303(r), 332 and 337, and §§ 0.191 and 0.392(e), 47 CFR 0.191, 0.392(e), the Order in WT Docket No. 96–86, DA 12–1942 is hereby adopted.

9. It is further ordered that, pursuant to 5 U.S.C. 553(d)(3), the rules adopted herein will become effective upon publication in the Federal Register.

10. It is further ordered that the Bureau shall send a copy of the Order in WT Docket No. 96–86, DA 12–1942 in a report to Congress and the General Accounting Office pursuant to the Congressional Review Act, 5 U.S.C. 801(a)(1)(A).

Endangered and Threatened Wildlife and Plants; Determination of Threatened Species Status for the Georgetown Salamander and Salado Salamander Throughout Their Ranges; Final Rule; Correction

AGENCY: Fish and Wildlife Service, Interior.

ACTION: Correcting amendments.

SUMMARY: We, the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, published a final rule in the Federal Register on February 24, 2014, to list the Georgetown salamander and Salado salamander as threatened throughout their ranges under the Endangered Species Act of 1973 (Act), as amended (Act). Inadvertently, we made a technical error in our regulatory text. This action makes the necessary correction to the List of Endangered and Threatened Wildlife. We are also taking this opportunity to revise another entry on the List to correct a typographical error.

DATES: This correction is effective April 11, 2014.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Susan Wilkinson, (703) 358–2506.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Salamander Corrections

In a final rule that published February 24, 2014 (79 FR 10236), we added the Georgetown salamander (Eurycea naufragia) and the Salado salamander (Eurycea chisholmensis) to the List of Endangered and Threatened Wildlife, which is presented in a table format in the Code of Federal Regulations at 50 CFR 17.11(h). However, we inadvertently left out the “When listed” number in the table entry for each of the two species.

A “When Listed” number is a footnote that directs readers to a list of publication dates printed in a list below the table. This field is not regulatory, but gives readers helpful information that enables them to find the final rule as it appeared in the Federal Register.

The Georgetown salamander and the Salado salamander should have the same “When listed” number: 829. Therefore, we are correcting the table to include the “When listed” number for both species. This change does not affect the status of either species under the Act.

Additional Correction

In this rulemaking document we also include language to correct a typographical error in the List of Endangered and Threatened Wildlife. When the vicuña was added to the List in 2002 (67 FR 37695, May 30, 2002), an error was introduced in the “Vertebrate population where endangered or threatened” column. “Ecuador” was erroneously presented as “Ecudator”. We take this opportunity to correct this error.

Regulation Promulgation

For the reasons given in the preamble, we amend part 17, subchapter B of chapter I, title 50 of the Code of Federal Regulations, as set forth below:

PART 17— [AMENDED]

- 1. The authority citation for part 17 continues to read as follows:

Authority: 16 U.S.C. 1361–1407; 1531–1544; 4201–4245; unless otherwise noted.

- 2. Amend § 17.11(h), the List of Endangered and Threatened Wildlife, by revising the entries for “Vicuña” under Mammals and the entries for “Salamander, Georgetown” and “Salamander, Salado” under Amphibians to read as set forth below:

§ 17.11 Endangered and threatened wildlife.
