SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The Treasury Department's mission is to maintain a strong economy and create economic and job opportunities by promoting the conditions that enable economic growth and stability at home and abroad; strengthen national security by combating threats and protecting the integrity of the financial system; and manage the United States Government's finances and resources effectively. Through Executive Order 12333, the Department is specifically tasked with the collection (overtly or through publicly available sources) of foreign financial information and, in consultation with the Department of State, foreign economic information.

In 2004 and 2005, Congress ratified a realignment of the Treasury Department's intelligence function with the statutory creation of the Office of Intelligence and Analysis (OIA) within the Office of Terrorism and Financial Intelligence. In ratifying this realignment, Congress recognized the need for intelligence support and expertise in the Department's national security roles. OIA, headed by the Assistant Secretary for Intelligence and Analysis, became the successor to the Special Assistant to the Secretary (National Security) and the Office of Intelligence Support (OIS) within the Department. Pursuant to the National Security Act of 1947, as amended and Executive Order 12333, as amended, OIA is an element of the national Intelligence Community. OIA has statutory responsibility for the receipt, analysis, collation, and dissemination of intelligence and counterintelligence information related to the operations and responsibilities of the entire Department, including all components and bureaus. OIA's functions under 31 U.S.C. 311 and 312 include: carrying out its responsibilities while building a robust analytical capability on terrorist financing; coordinating and overseeing the work of intelligence analysts in all Treasury Department components; focusing intelligence efforts on the highest priorities of the Department; ensuring that the intelligence needs of the Office of Foreign Assets Control (OFAC) and the Financial Crimes Enforcement Network (FinCEN) are met; providing intelligence support to senior Department officials on a wide range of international economic and other relevant issues; carrying out the intelligence support functions previously assigned to OIS; serving in a liaison capacity with the intelligence community; and representing the Department in a variety of intelligence-related activities.

This system of records supports OIA in performing its roles of collecting (overtly and through publicly-available sources), collating, analyzing, producing, and disseminating national security information. It encompasses diverse national security information related to OIA's mission, including that presently located throughout the Departmental Offices Local Area Network, Treasury Secure Data Network, and the Treasury Financial Intelligence Network. The system may include records from other systems of records, such as those of FinCEN and OFAC, obtained in the course of OIA's duties. In maintaining its records, OIA is obligated to comply with generally-applicable laws such as the Privacy Act of 1974, 5 U.S.C. 552a, and the Internal Revenue Code, as well as with those obligations required of an Intelligence Community element pursuant to Executive Order 12333, as amended. Any information from a system of records for which an exemption is claimed under 5 U.S.C. 552a(j) or (k), and which may also be included in this system of records, retains the same exempt status such information has in the system for which such exemption is claimed.

Notwithstanding provisions of the Privacy Act, as a member of the Intelligence Community OIA also conducts its mission in conformance with the requirements of Executive Order 12333, as amended, including its requirements governing the collection, retention, and dissemination of information concerning U.S. persons in a manner that protects the privacy and constitutional rights of such persons. Accordingly, OIA may acquire information that identifies a particular U.S. person, retain it within or disseminate it from the system of records, as appropriate, only when it is determined that the U.S. person information is necessary for the conduct of OIA's mission, responsibilities, and functions and otherwise falls into one of a limited number of authorized categories.

In a notice of proposed rulemaking, which is published separately in the Federal Register, the Department is proposing to exempt records maintained in this system from certain Privacy Act requirements pursuant to 5 U.S.C. 552a(k).

As required by 5 U.S.C. 552a(r) of the Privacy Act, a report on this new system of records has been provided to the United States House of Representatives Committee on Oversight and Government Reform, the United States House of Representatives Permanent Select Committee on Intelligence, the United States Senate Committee on Homeland Security and Governmental Affairs, the United States Senate Select Committee on Intelligence, and the Office of Management and Budget.
