

practices for how Federal agencies collect, maintain, use, and disseminate personal information. Consistent with provisions of the Privacy Act of 1974, contractors that design, develop, maintain, or operate a system of records on individuals; require access to a system of records; or handle personally identifiable information, are required to be properly trained on the compliance requirements, applicable laws, and appropriate safeguards for the security and confidentiality of personally identifiable information. The training documentation shall be maintained by contractors and provided to the Government upon request. It is anticipated that the Government would request documentation only rarely.

B. Analysis of Public Comments

Two respondents submitted public comments on the estimated annual burden. Analysis of the public comments for the proposed rule on areas other than the estimated annual burden will be addressed with the issuance of the final rule. The analysis of public comments on the estimated annual burden is summarized as follows:

Comments: Two respondents stated that the public's Paperwork Reduction Act estimated annual reporting burden was understated.

Response: The Paperwork Reduction Act, 44 U.S.C. chapter 35, addresses the Government's collection of information and the public's burden associated with any reporting or recordkeeping requirements of the information. The reporting burden will be minimal. Contractors will have to provide training documentation only rarely, i.e., when there is an indication of non-compliance with the privacy training requirements and it is necessary to review documentation in order for the Government to ensure effective contractor management and oversight. The recordkeeping requirements are minor, and are not subject to specific formatting or template requirements. Contractors will have to maintain evidence of completed privacy training. Notwithstanding the minimum reporting and recordkeeping requirements, the estimated annual burden is increased.

C. Annual Reporting Burden

DoD, GSA, and NASA have increased the estimated annual burden from what was published in the Federal Register at 76 FR 63896, on October 14, 2011, as part of a proposed rule under FAR Case 2010-013, Privacy Training. The increase in the total burden is attributed to the clarification that the reporting requirement is applicable to commercial-item contracts. DoD, GSA, and NASA decided that exempting commercial-item contracts and subcontracts would exclude a significant portion of Government contracts that involve the design, development, operation, or maintenance of a system of records on individuals and would therefore diminish the effectiveness of the rule.

Therefore, DoD, GSA, and NASA estimate the annual burden associated with this information collection as follows:

Respondents: 21,025.

Responses per Respondent: 5.

Total Annual Responses: 105,125.

Hours per Response: .25.

Total Burden Hours: 26,281.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

A. Purpose

The Affidavit of Individual Surety SF 28 is used by all executive agencies, including the Department of Defense, to obtain information from individuals wishing to serve as sureties to Government bonds. To qualify as a surety on a Government bond, the individual must show a net worth not less than the penal amount of the bond on the SF 28. It is an elective decision on the part of the maker to use individual sureties instead of other available sources of surety or sureties for Government bonds. We are not aware if other formats exist for the collection of this information.

The information on SF 28 is used to assist the contracting officer in determining the acceptability of individuals proposed as sureties.

B. Discussion and Analysis

The analysis of the public comment is summarized as follows:

Both commenters support the extension of this information collection. In addition to supporting the extension, both commenters suggested some revisions/enhancements to the current Standard Form 28.

Comments: One commenter stated that SF 28 does not achieve its intended purpose in assisting contracting officers in determining whether individuals proposed as sureties are financially sound with the resources to support the obligations pledged for a Federal construction contract. The commenter states that the SF 28 has not prevented individual sureties from pledging the same assets for multiple bonds and recommends that the SF 28 be enhanced to ensure that the assets pledged to the Federal government can be accessed if needed. The Federal government should require any assets pledge other than real estate be placed in escrow only in a Federal insured financial institution and that a copy of the escrow agreement be filed with the SF 28 that shows the Federal government would have unrestricted access if needed. In addition, SF 28 should include questions relating to the criminal background, debarments and cease and desist orders from the state insurance departments. The SF 28 should also specify documentation to demonstrate the value of the assets, verify that it has been pledged to the United States and is free of tax liens or other encumbrances.

The other commenter acknowledges that changes have been made in the past to strengthen the form but points out that the current SF 28 would benefit from greater specificity on the information required of individual sureties relating to the pledging of assets, especially information relating to assets other than real estate. Also, additional information should be provided on the SF 28 to assist contracting officers in their efforts to select an acceptable individual surety (such as disclosure of Federal tax liens against the individual surety and disclosure of personal insolvency proceedings).

Response: As in the past, these suggestions will be taken into consideration and if deemed warranted a FAR case will be opened to revise the standard form. At that time, the estimated total annual public hour and cost burden will be adjusted if necessary.

C. Annual Reporting Burden

Based on a comprehensive reassessment performed, this information collection resulted in no change in the total burden hours from the previous information collection that was published in the Federal Register at 76 FR 60050 on September 28, 2011. The previous assessment performed resulted in a change to the "Response per Respondent" and "Hours per Response" categories. The 1.43, responses per respondent, was lowered to 1. to adequately reflect this category. A respondent has to respond completely not partially when submitting this form. The "Hours per Response" category was decreased to .3 (18 minutes) from .4 (24 minutes) to reflect the benefits of being able to submit the required information electronically, as respondents no longer have to print and physically mail forms.

Respondents: 500.

Responses per Respondent: 1.

Total Responses: 500.

Hours per Response: 0.3.

Total Burden Hours: 150.

Obtaining Copies Of Proposals:

A. Purpose

The information relative to the place of performance and owner of plant or facility, if other than the prospective contractor, is a basic requirement when contracting for supplies or services (including construction). A prospective contractor must affirmatively demonstrate its responsibility. Hence, the Government must be apprised of this information prior to award. The contracting officer must know the place of performance and the owner of the
