I. Background and Explanation

The Consolidated and Further Continuing Appropriations Act, 2012 (Pub. L. 112-55, approved November 18, 2011) limited the conversion of 60,000 public housing and Mod Rehab units under the first component of RAD.¹ The applications for RAD conversions under the first component exceeded this unit cap and an applicant waiting list started in approximately ¹ The first component of RAD allows projects funded under the public housing and Mod Rehab programs to convert to long-term Section 8 rental assistance contracts with their current subsidy levels under the RAD demonstration program.

October 2013. HUD published this waiting list on the RAD Web site, www.hud.gov/rad.²

The FY 2015 Appropriations Act increased the RAD first component authorization to 185,000 units. For all applications that fall below the 185,000 unit cap, HUD will provide CHAPs to all eligible applicants whose applications meet the eligibility and selection criteria set forth in PIH Notice 2012-32, Rev. 1 (2012 RAD Notice).³ HUD understands that some applicants may need to amend or update information in their applications because of the delay incurred in awaiting further authorization. To the extent that an application is complete and meets the eligibility and selection criteria set forth in the 2012 RAD Notice, HUD will issue a CHAP for that application. To the extent that review of an application requires additional or updated information, that application will be held until the needed information is provided.

HUD understands that some applicants have been waiting in excess of one year on the waiting list and may be approaching financing deadlines. HUD will review applications as expeditiously as possible and reserves the right to proceed with its review of applications in the manner it deems most expedient. HUD may consider deal-specific factors including program financing requirements in determining the order with which it processes applications. Applications that require a CHAP by a certain deadline in order to secure project financing may be reviewed prior to other applications in order to maximize resources and support the successful conversion of all transactions. Following CHAP issuance, HUD will assign a Transaction Manager to the transaction who will be able to address any questions or concerns regarding the conversion process.

II. Opportunity for Public Comment

HUD welcomes comment on the update of the review process provided in this notice.

Date: January 22, 2015.

Acting Assistant Secretary for Public and Indian Housing.

Biniam T. Gebre,
Acting Assistant Secretary for Housing—Federal Housing Commissioner.
