

attempt to clear during overnight trading sessions.

In particular, OCC's overnight monitoring and escalation mechanism, which includes the ability for OCC to require additional intra-day margin, increase a clearing member's margin requirement, invoke an exchange's kill switch, or use any combination thereof, should provide OCC with the necessary mechanisms to ensure securities and funds which are in its custody or control. The obligation for OCC and clearing members to maintain and enforce adequate staffing by employing the use of a designated on-call Market Risk duty officer should also help assure that clearing activities and margin levels are being adequately monitored during the overnight trading hours, which in turn should facilitate the safeguarding of securities and funds which are in the custody or control of OCC or for which it is responsible.

III. Conclusion

On the basis of the foregoing, the Commission finds that the proposal is consistent with the requirements of the Act and in particular with the requirements of Section 17A of the Act¹⁹ and the rules and regulations thereunder.

It is therefore ordered, pursuant to Section 19(b)(2) of the Act,²⁰ that the proposed rule change (SR-OCC-2014-24) be, and it hereby is, approved.

For the Commission, by the Division of Trading and Markets, pursuant to delegated authority.²¹

Brent J. Fields,
Secretary.
