SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: On January 22, 2016, Treasury published in the Federal Register a request for information on the Evolution of the Treasury Market Structure.<sup>1</sup> The RFI seeks public comment on several specific questions that will inform the ongoing work related to the next steps identified in the Joint Staff Report: The U.S. Treasury Market on October 15, 2014. The RFI is intended, in part, to seek information and viewpoints from a diverse group of stakeholders, including the general public, buy and sell-side market participants, academics, and industry groups regarding these and other structural changes in the Treasury market, and their implications for the depth, liquidity, and functioning of the market. The RFI is also intended to develop a holistic view of trading and risk management practices across U.S. Treasury futures and cash markets—including the various trading venues and modes of execution present in the cash market—and it seeks input on potential improvements in Treasury market policies, practices, and conduct.

<sup>1</sup> 81 FR 3928 (January 22, 2016), <https://www.federalregister.gov/articles/2016/01/22/2016-01246/evolution-of-the-treasury-market-structure-request-for-comments>.

Given the market evolution, access to timely and comprehensive data across related markets is increasingly important to fully assess new developments, and analyze market events. Accordingly, we are interested in the most efficient and effective ways for the official sector to obtain additional market data and in ways to more effectively monitor diverse but related markets. Finally, we are interested in the potential benefits and costs of additional transparency with respect to Treasury market trading activity and trading venue policies and practices.
