Section 307(d)(7)(B) of the CAA sets forth the criteria for reconsideration. That section states that “(o)nly an objection to a rule or procedure which was raised with reasonable specificity during the period for public comment (including any public hearing) may be raised during judicial review. If the person raising an objection can demonstrate to the Administrator that it was impractical to raise such objection within such time or if the grounds for such objection arose after the period for public comment (but within the time specified for judicial review) and if such objection is of central relevance to the outcome of the rule, the Administrator shall convene a proceeding for reconsideration of the rule and provide the same procedural rights as would have been afforded had the information been available at the time the rule was proposed.”

The EPA has carefully considered the petitions and supporting information. In separate letters to the petitioners, the EPA Administrator, Gina McCarthy, denied in part and granted in part the Kohler Company petition, denied the BIA and TCNA petitions, and explained the reasons for the denials. These letters and the accompanying enclosures are available in the dockets for this action.

IV. Conclusion

For the reasons discussed in the letters and accompanying enclosure to the petitioners, the petitions to reconsider the final NESHAP for BSCP Manufacturing and final NESHAP for Clay Ceramics Manufacturing are denied in part and granted in part.

Dated: May 12, 2016.
