Please note that comments submitted in response to this Notice are public record. Before including any detailed personal information, you should be aware that your comments as submitted, including your personal information, will be available for public review.

Abstract of proposed collection:

The Directorate of Defense Trade Controls (DDTC), located in the Political-Military Affairs Bureau of the Department of State, has the principal mission of licensing the permanent export, temporary export, and temporary import of defense articles, defense services, and related technical data as enumerated in the United States Munitions List (USML), and to ensure that the sale, transfer, or brokering of such items are in the interest of U.S. national security and foreign policy. To this end, DDTC has historically utilized several form-based submissions to collect information from applicants for export or temporary import licenses. However, as new programmatic requirements have been promulgated, whether in response to changing geopolitical events, legislation, or interagency requirements, many aspects of the forms used by DDTC have become outdated.

This information collection will supersede forms DSP-5, DSP-6, DSP-61, DSP-62, DSP-71, and DSP-74 which are currently used by DDTC. Over a period of several months, DDTC staff have revised and updated the data collection fields to more closely mirror the needs of industry and federal government partners. Moreover, DDTC has acquired a new case management IT solution to modernize its business processes. As a part of this modernization process, licensing operations will move from the current, largely form-based submissions to an intuitive system which will allow both industry users and DDTC staff to smoothly and securely navigate the submission and review process. In addition, DDTC has worked closely with its interagency partners to construct this new licensing application to collate with the International Trade Data System (ITDS), a cornerstone of President Obama's export control reform initiative. Therefore, this information collection has been designed to both dovetail with the ITDS system in addition to achieving a higher level of usability and security for DDTC's current industry users.

Methodology:

This information will be collected via electronic submission to the Directorate of Defense Trade Controls. In the case of a major system outage, a continuity-of-operations plan has been developed to ensure submissions to DDTC can continue. A paper version of the form may be made available in cases of hardship or to those respondents who do not have internet access.

Dated: June 6, 2016.

Lisa Aguirre,

Managing Director, Directorate of Defense Trade Controls, Department of State.
