AGENCY: National Institute for Occupational Safety and Health (NIOSH) of the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC), Department of Health and Human Services (HHS).

ACTION: Notice of draft document for public comment.

SUMMARY: On May 1, 2015, the Director of the National Institute for Occupational Safety and Health (NIOSH) of the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC), published a notice in the Federal Register [80 FR 24930] announcing the availability of and a request for comments for the draft immediately dangerous to life or health (IDLH) values and support technical documents, entitled IDLH Values Profiles, for 14 chemicals. Written comments were to be received before the end of the comment period on June 30, 2015. Due to subsequent requests from the public, this Notice announces that NIOSH is seeking further comments on the draft IDLH Value Profile for peracetic acid (CAS #79-21-0) <http://www.cdc.gov/>

niosh/docket/review/docket156a/pdfs/g1-013-peracetic-acid-cas-79-21-0.pdf for an additional 60 days.

DATES: Electronic or written comments on the draft IDLH Value Profile for peracetic acid must be received by October 11, 2016.

ADDRESSES: You may submit comments, identified by CDC-2016-0074 and docket number NIOSH 156-B, by either of the two following methods:

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The proposed IDLH value and draft IDLH Value Profile for peracetic acid is based on the process outlined in the NIOSH Current Intelligence Bulletin 66—Derivation of Immediately Dangerous to Life or Health (IDLH) Values <http://www.cdc.gov/niosh/docs/2014-100/pdfs/2014-100.pdf>. The draft IDLH Value Profile was developed to provide the scientific rationale behind the derivation of the proposed IDLH value for peracetic acid. This includes a detailed summary of the health hazards of acute exposure to high airborne concentrations of peracetic acid and the rationale for the proposed IDLH value for peracetic acid.

To facilitate the review of this draft document, NIOSH requests that the following questions be taken into consideration:

1. Does this document clearly outline the health hazards associated with acute (or short-term) exposures to peracetic acid? If not, what specific information is missing from the document?

2. Are the rationale and logic behind the derivation of an IDLH value for peracetic acid clearly explained? If not, what specific information is needed to clarify the basis of the IDLH value?

- 3. Are the conclusions supported by the data?
- 4. Are the tables clear and appropriate?
- 5. Is the document organized appropriately? If not, what improvements are needed?
- 6. Are you aware of any scientific data reported in governmental publications, databases, peer-reviewed journals, or other sources that should be included within this document?

Director, National Institute for Occupational Safety and Health, Centers for Disease Control and Prevention.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: In compliance with 44 U.S.C. 3507, FDA has submitted the following proposed collection of information to OMB for review and clearance.

Manufactured Food Regulatory Program Standards—OMB Control Number 0910-0601—Extension

In the Federal Register of July 20, 2006 (71 FR 41221), FDA announced the availability of a draft document entitled “Manufactured Food Regulatory Program Standards (MFRPS).” These program standards have since been finalized and updated multiple times. The current standards are the framework that States should use to design and manage their manufactured food programs. The current version expires on September 30, 2016, and FDA is proposing to update and submit for issuance with a new expiration date. The current and proposed versions of the standards are available at the docket number identified in brackets at the heading of this document. Persons with access to the Internet may submit email requests for a single copy of the draft manufactured food standards to OP-ORA@fda.hhs.gov. There are 42 State programs enrolled, in which each State may receive up to $300,000 each year for a period of 5 years provided there is significant conformance with the 10 standards.

In the first year of implementing the program standards, the State program conducts a baseline self-assessment to determine if it meets the elements of each standard. The State program should use the worksheets and forms contained in the draft program standards; however, it can use alternate forms that are equivalent. The State program maintains the documents and verifies records required for each standard. The information contained in the documents must be current and fit-for-use. If the State program fails to meet all program elements and documentation requirements of a standard, it develops a strategic improvement plan that includes the following: (1) The individual program element or documentation requirement of the standard that was not met, (2) improvements needed to meet the program element or documentation requirement of the standard, and (3) projected completion dates for each task.

In the Federal Register of February 12, 2016 (81 FR 7544), FDA published a 60-day notice requesting public comment on the proposed collection of information. We received two comments. However, these comments did not address the information collection.

FDA estimates the burden of this collection of information as follows:

TABLE 1—ESTIMATED ANNUAL REPORTING BURDEN ¹

| Respondent | Number of respondents | Number of responses per respondent | Total annual responses | Average burden per response | Total hours |
|--|-----------------------|------------------------------------|------------------------|-----------------------------|-------------|
| State Departments of Agriculture or Health | 42 | 1 | 42 | 376 | 15,792 |

¹ There are no capital costs or operating and maintenance costs associated with this collection of information.
