

historical categorization data for each establishment would be useful for those who want to make business decisions using the information. FSIS currently only maintains the most recent monthly individual establishment posting on its website. FSIS will also continue providing aggregate sampling results relative to categories for establishments producing young chicken or turkey carcasses, raw chicken parts, or NRTE comminuted chicken and turkey products.⁵ FSIS will continue to maintain the most recent year of aggregate data reports on its website as well.

FSIS intends to use the revised categorization and any follow-up sampling methodology, as well as the web posting procedures announced in this notice, for any establishment subject to a pathogen reduction performance standard for Salmonella or Campylobacter at a future time, including beef and pork establishments. FSIS will announce any expanded use of the revised procedures in the Federal Register and will request public comment.

Additional Public Notification

Public awareness of all segments of rulemaking and policy development is important. Consequently, FSIS will announce this Federal Register publication online through the FSIS web page located at: <http://www.fsis.usda.gov/federal-register>.

FSIS also will make copies of this publication available through the FSIS Constituent Update, which is used to provide information regarding FSIS policies, procedures, regulations, Federal Register notices, FSIS public meetings, and other types of information that could affect or would be of interest to our constituents and stakeholders. The Constituent Update is available on the FSIS web page. Through the web page, FSIS is able to provide information to a much broader, more diverse audience. In addition, FSIS offers an email subscription service, which provides automatic and customized access to selected food safety news and information. This service is available at: <http://www.fsis.usda.gov/subscribe>. Options range from recalls to export information, regulations, directives, and notices. Customers can add or delete subscriptions themselves, and have the option to password protect their accounts.
