Posting of Station Licenses and Related Information

AGENCY: Federal Communications Commission.

ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: In this document, the Federal Communications Commission (FCC or Commission) eliminates provisions of our rules that require broadcasters to post and maintain copies of their licenses and related information in specific locations. These rules have become redundant and obsolete now that licensing information is readily accessible online through the Commission’s databases, including CDBS, LMS, and ULS. It therefore finds that eliminating these rules, which apply in some form to all broadcast licensees, will serve the public interest.

DATES: Effective February 8, 2019.

Synopsis

I. Report and Order

1. In this Report and Order (Order), we eliminate the provisions in parts 1, 5, 73 and 74 of our rules that require the posting and maintenance of broadcast licenses and related information in specific locations.¹ In May 2018, the Federal Communications Commission (Commission) issued a Notice of Proposed Rulemaking (NPRM) (83 FR 30901) seeking comment on whether to eliminate license posting rules that appeared to be redundant and obsolete now that licensing information is readily accessible online through the Commission’s databases. Commenters in this proceeding unanimously support the elimination of these rules. As detailed below, we find that eliminating these requirements, which apply in some form to all broadcast licensees, will serve the public interest. In doing so, we advance the Commission’s goal of modernizing our media rules and remove unnecessary regulatory burdens that impede competition and innovation in the media marketplace.

2. Broadcast license posting rules predate the establishment of the Commission. As explained in the NPRM, the Federal Radio Commission promulgated the earliest iteration of broadcast license posting requirements on record in 1930. Subsequent Commission decisions revised and expanded to new broadcast services license posting obligations and requirements to maintain records at specific locations, but provided no explicit rationale for such rules. Based on the text and history of these rules, the NPRM noted that the intended purpose of the rules may have been to ensure that information regarding station authorizations, ownership, and contact information was readily available and easily accessible to the Commission and public. Commenters in this proceeding do not identify any alternative purpose or use for these rules and maintain that, with the advent of online sources for licensee information, the burdens that compliance with these rules imposes on licensees clearly outweigh any original benefits they may have provided.

3. Consistent with our proposals in the NPRM, we eliminate the license posting rules applicable to broadcasters and the related rules that require records to be maintained at specific locations.² We agree with commenters that “while the posting rule[s] may have made sense almost 90 years ago” they no longer serve the public interest given that all Commission licenses and related authorizations required to be displayed or maintained are now available “24/7” through publicly accessible online databases. Specifically, broadcast station licenses and other authorizations are currently accessible online through several Commission databases, including the Commission’s Consolidated Database System (CDBS), Licensing Management System (LMS), and Universal Licensing Service (ULS).³

² Specifically, we eliminate the following rules, each of which applies specifically to broadcast licensees: 47 CFR 73.1230 (all broadcast licensees), 74.564 (aural broadcast auxiliary stations), 74.664 (television broadcast auxiliary stations), 74.765 (LPTV and TV translator stations), and 74.1265 (FM translator and booster stations). In addition, we amend the following rules to eliminate license posting obligations: 47 CFR 1.62(a)(2) (which currently requires all Commission licensees to post information pertaining to license renewal applications as well as the license itself, so that it applies only to non-broadcast licensees), 5.203(b) (removing the requirement to post experimental licenses), 74.432(j) (removing the requirement that remote pickup station licenses be “posted at the transmitter, or posted at the control point of the station”), 74.832(j) (removing the requirement that low power auxiliary station licenses be “posted at the transmitter, or posted at the control point of the station”). The NPRM incorrectly proposed to amend paragraph (a)(3)(viii) of 47 CFR 74.787, instead of paragraph (a)(5)(viii). This has been corrected in the Final Rules. We also note that one additional change not captured in the NPRM is in the Final Rules below.

For full power and Class A television stations and AM and FM radio stations, licenses and related authorizations are also accessible through the Commission’s Online Public Inspection File.⁴ In addition, the public may access orders and dispositions regarding station construction or facilities operation, which are required to be physically posted pursuant to two of our existing rules, through the Commission’s online licensing databases.

4. We also find the additional posting requirements in §§ 74.765(b) and 74.1265(b) of our rules to be unnecessary for similar reasons. These provisions require that LPTV, translator, and booster stations post at the transmitter site the station’s call sign; the name, address, and telephone number of the licensee or local representative of the licensee; and “the name and address of a person and place where the station records are maintained.” As Nexstar notes in its comments, much of the information required to be posted under these rules is available on the station licenses or authorizations themselves, which as noted above, the public may easily access online via CDBS, LMS, or ULS. This information includes the station’s call sign and the name and address of the station’s licensee. Although LPTV, translator, and booster stations are not required to maintain public inspection files, they must include the contact information, including a telephone number, of personnel that may serve as a general point of contact on various Commission forms, which are publicly available via our online licensing databases. We therefore find no continued need for broadcasters to separately identify a local representative or a custodian of station records and point of contact, through LMS, <https://enterprise.filing.fcc.gov/dataentry/login.html> and/or ULS, <http://wireless.fcc.gov/uls/index.htm?job=home>. While most broadcast licenses are accessible through CDBS and LMS, licenses for aural and television broadcast auxiliary services are accessible through ULS. In addition, information regarding broadcast license renewal applications, which must be posted pursuant to § 1.62(a) of the rules, is available online via CDBS and LMS. 47 CFR 1.62(a) (requiring posting of, “in addition to the original license, any acknowledgment received from the Commission that the renewal application has been accepted for filing or a signed copy of the application for renewal of license which has been submitted by the licensee”).

display such information.⁵ Moreover, no commenter has provided any justification for continuing to require broadcasters to post or maintain at specific locations a physical copy of their licenses, authorizations, or general or local contact information.

5. We further find that requirements to physically display licensing documents at the site of broadcast facilities are often ineffective. As NAB illustrates, requirements that mandate posting at the transmission site can be of little benefit to the public because certain transmission sites, including those of booster and translator stations, “are often in areas surrounded by security fencing, thereby limiting the public access to these facilities and any posted information.” Further, provisions mandating that broadcasters post licenses and other authorizations at the “principal [control] point of the transmitter” have been rendered obsolete by the internet, which has enabled broadcasters to transition to dial-up or IP systems that manage their transmitter stations remotely through a smartphone or personal computer. This trend, in conjunction with the elimination of the broadcast main studio rule, has rendered the physical posting of licenses out of step with technology and our other rules. We agree with NAB that “posting physical documents at transmission facilities is redundant and provides no meaningful value to the public,” and we eliminate these requirements.

6. There is no evidence in the record suggesting that eliminating license posting and related requirements would undermine any public safety objectives. HC2 explains that posted information “is often barely visible because the posting is well above eye level, or obscured by other equipment, or damaged and faded as a result of weather” and is therefore not useful during emergencies.⁶ In these circumstances, the contact information first responders need is readily available through the Commission databases.⁷

⁷ We acknowledge that natural disasters may in some instances limit the ability of first responders

Commenters also explain that because licensees typically do not own the towers on which their antennas are placed, eliminating requirements to have licensees' information physically displayed would not likely impede a first responder's ability to contact the appropriate person during an emergency. In many cases, antenna structure registration numbers allow first responders and others to rapidly identify the owner of a tower structure in the event of a tower lighting outage, collision or other problem, removing the need for licensee contact information.

7. For the foregoing reasons, we find that the provisions in parts 1, 5, 73 and 74 of our rules requiring the physical posting and maintenance of broadcast licenses and related information at specific locations are redundant, obsolete, and unduly burdensome. Accordingly, we find that eliminating these requirements, as well as associated cross-references to them and similar requirements, is in the public interest and that the benefits of eliminating these requirements outweigh any costs of doing so.

II. Procedural Matters

A. Final Regulatory Flexibility Act Analysis

8. As required by the Regulatory Flexibility Act of 1980, as amended (RFA),⁸ an Initial Regulatory Flexibility Analysis (IRFA) was incorporated in the Notice of Proposed Rulemaking (NPRM) in MB Docket 18–121.⁹ The Commission sought written public comments on proposals in the NPRM, including comment on the IRFA. The Commission received no direct comments on the IRFA. The present Final Regulatory Flexibility Analysis (FRFA) conforms to the RFA.

9. Need for, and Objectives of, the Report and Order. The Report and Order (Order) arises from a Public Notice issued by the Commission in May 2017, launching an initiative to modernize the Commission's media regulations, and the subsequent NPRM.¹⁰ It eliminates provisions of the Commission's rules which require the posting and maintenance of broadcast licenses and related information in specific locations. Numerous parties in those proceedings argued for the elimination of these rules on the basis that they are redundant and obsolete.

10. Specifically, the Order eliminates: Section 73.1230, which requires broadcast stations to post their station license and other authorizations at “the principal control point of the transmitter” and prescribes the manner of such posting;¹¹ § 73.801, which applies § 73.1230 to low power stations;¹² § 74.1265, which requires FM booster and translator stations to physically display their call sign and other information at the antenna site;¹³ §§ 74.564 and 74.664, applicable to aural and television broadcast auxiliary stations,¹⁴ respectively, which require stations to post licenses and any other authorizations “in the room in which the transmitter is located” and prescribes the manner of such posting;¹⁵ §§ 74.432(j) and 74.832(j), which require remote pickup station and low power auxiliary station licensees to post licenses either at the transmitter or station control point;¹⁶ § 5.203(b),¹⁷ which requires broadcast licensees to post experimental authorizations along with their station license; § 1.62(a)(2),¹⁸ which requires all Commission licensees, including broadcast entities, to post information pertaining to license renewal applications as well as the license itself; and § 74.765, which requires LPTV and TV translator to physically display their call sign together with the name, address, and telephone number of the licensee or local representative of the licensee and the name and address of a person and place where station records are maintained at the antenna site. Sections 74.765(a) and 74.1265(a) also contain record maintenance obligations that this Order eliminates because they are duplicative of §§ 74.781 and 74.1281, respectively.

11. The Order also removes similar requirements and cross-references to licenses posting rules as follows: Section 0.408 (cross-referencing the license posting rules); § 73.158(b), which requires any updated descriptions of directional antenna monitoring points to be “posted with the existing station license”; § 73.801, which applies § 73.1230 to LPFM stations; § 73.1715(a), which requires broadcast licensees authorized to share time to file written agreements with the Commission and post with the station license; § 73.1725(c), requiring “the licensee of a secondary station which is authorized to operate limited time” to post approval of its limited time operating schedule with the station license); § 73.1870(b)(3), which states that “the designation of the chief operator [for full power and Class A stations] must be in writing with a copy of the designation posted with the station license.”; § 74.733(i), which states that “[t]he provisions of § 74.765 concerning posting of station license shall apply to a UHF translator signal booster”; § 74.781(c), which states that “[t]he name of the person keeping [LPTV and TV translator] station records, together with the address of the place where the records are kept, shall be posted in accordance with § 74.765(c) of the rules.”; § 74.787(a)(5)(viii), which applies § 74.765 to digital low power television and television translator stations; § 74.789; and § 74.1281, which references § 74.1265(b). These rule changes are intended to reduce outdated regulations and unnecessary regulatory burdens that can impede competition and innovation in media markets.

12. Summary of Significant Issues Raised by Public Comments in Response to the IRFA. No comments were filed in response to the IRFA.

13. Response to Comments by the Chief Counsel for Advocacy of the Small Business Administration. Pursuant to the Small Business Jobs Act of 2010, which amended the RFA, the Commission is required to respond to any comments filed by the Chief Counsel for Advocacy of the SBA and to provide a detailed statement of any change made to the proposed rules as a result of those comments.¹⁹ The Chief Counsel did not file any comments in response to this proceeding.

14. Description and Estimate of the Number of Small Entities to Which Rules Will Apply. The RFA directs agencies to provide a description of and, where feasible, an estimate of the number of small entities that will be affected by the rules adopted.²⁰ The to access these databases. For instance, immediately after Hurricane Maria, over 95 percent of Puerto Rico's wireless cell sites were out of service. On a going forward basis, we commit to monitoring the impact of this rule change on first responders' ability to access the contact information they need in the event of an emergency.

⁸ See 5 U.S.C. 603. The RFA, see U.S.C. 601–612, has been amended by the Small Business Regulatory Enforcement Fairness Act of 1996 (SBREFA), Public Law 104–121, Title II, 110 Stat. 857 (1996). The SBREFA was enacted as Title II of the Contract with America Advancement Act of 1996 (CWA AAA).

RFA generally defines the term “small entity” as having the same meaning as the terms “small business,” “small organization,” and “small governmental jurisdiction.”²¹ In addition, the term “small business” has the same meaning as the term “small business concern” under the Small Business Act.²² A “small business concern” is one which: (1) Is independently owned and operated; (2) is not dominant in its field of operation; and (3) satisfies any additional criteria established by the SBA.²³ The final rules adopted herein affect small television and radio broadcast stations. A description of these small entities, as well as an estimate of the number of such small entities, is provided below.

15. Television Broadcasting. This Economic Census category “comprises establishments primarily engaged in broadcasting images together with sound.”²⁴ These establishments operate television broadcast studios and facilities for the programming and transmission of programs to the public.²⁵ These establishments also produce or transmit visual programming to affiliated broadcast television stations, which in turn broadcast the programs to the public on a predetermined schedule. Programming may originate in their own studio, from an affiliated network, or from external sources. The SBA has created the following small business size standard for such businesses: Those having $38.5 million or less in annual receipts.²⁶ The 2012 Economic Census reports that 751 firms in this category operated in that year. Of that number, 656 had annual receipts of less than $25,000,000, and 95 had annual receipts of $25,000,000 or more.²⁷ Based on this data, we estimate that the majority of commercial television broadcasters are small entities under the applicable SBA size standard.

16. In addition, the Commission has estimated the number of licensed commercial television stations to be 1,349.²⁸ Of this total, 1,277 stations had revenues of $38.5 million or less, according to Commission staff review of the BIA Kelsey Inc. Media Access Pro Television Database (BIA) on October 1, 2018. Such entities, therefore, qualify as small entities under the SBA definition. The Commission has estimated the number of licensed noncommercial educational (NCE) television stations to be 412.²⁹ The Commission, however, does not compile and does not have access to information on the revenue of NCE stations that would permit it to determine how many such stations would qualify as small entities.

17. We note, however, that in assessing whether a business concern qualifies as “small” under the above definition, business (control) affiliations³⁰ must be included. Our estimate, therefore likely overstates the number of small entities that might be affected by our action, because the revenue figure on which it is based does not include or aggregate revenues from affiliated companies. In addition, another element of the definition of “small business” requires that an entity not be dominant in its field of operation. We are unable at this time to define or quantify the criteria that would establish whether a specific television broadcast station is dominant in its field of operation. Accordingly, the estimate of small businesses to which the proposed rules would apply does not exclude any television station from the definition of a small business on this basis and therefore could be over-inclusive.

18. There are also 1,911 LPTV stations and 389 Class A stations.³¹ Given the nature of these services, we will presume that all of these entities qualify as small entities under the above SBA small business size standard.

19. Radio Stations. This economic Census category “comprises establishments primarily engaged in broadcasting aural programs by radio to the public.”³² The SBA has created the following small business size standard for this category: Those having $38.5 million or less in annual receipts.³³ Census data for 2012 shows that 2,849 firms in this category operated in that year.³⁴ Of this number, 2,806 firms had annual receipts of less than $25,000,000, and 43 firms had annual receipts of $25,000,000 or more.³⁵ Therefore, based on the SBA’s size standard, the majority of such entities are small entities.

20. Apart from the U.S. Census, the Commission has estimated the number of licensed commercial AM radio stations to be 4,626 stations³⁶ and the number of commercial FM radio stations to be 6,737, for a total number of 11,363.³⁷ Of this total, 11,362 stations had revenues of $38.5 million or less, according to Commission staff review of the BIA Kelsey Inc. Media Access Pro Television Database (BIA) on October 1, 2018. In addition, the Commission has estimated the number of noncommercial educational FM radio stations to be 4,130.³⁸ NCE stations are non-profit, and therefore considered to be small entities.³⁹ Therefore, we estimate that the majority of radio broadcast stations are small entities.

21. Low Power FM Stations. The same SBA definition that applies to radio stations would apply to low power FM stations. As noted above, the SBA has created the following small business size standard for this category: Those having $38.5 million or less in annual receipts.⁴⁰ The Commission has estimated the number of licensed low power FM stations to be 1,966.⁴¹ In addition, as of June 30, 2017, there were a total of 7,453 FM translator and FM booster stations.⁴² Given the nature of these services, we will presume that these licensees qualify as small entities under the SBA definition.

22. We note again, however, that in assessing whether a business concern qualifies as “small” under the above definition, business (control) affiliations⁴³ must be included. Because we do not include or aggregate revenues from affiliated companies in determining whether an entity meets the applicable revenue threshold, our estimate of the number of small radio broadcast stations affected is likely overstated. In addition, as noted above, one element of the definition of “small business” is that an entity not be dominant in its field of operation. We are unable at this time to define or quantify the criteria that would establish whether a specific radio broadcast station is dominant in its field of operation. Accordingly, our estimate of small radio stations potentially affected by the proposed rules includes those that could be dominant in their field of operation. For this reason, such estimate likely is over-inclusive.

23. Description of Reporting, Record Keeping, and Other Compliance Requirements for Small Entities. In this section, we identify the reporting, recordkeeping, and other compliance requirements in the Order and consider whether small entities are affected disproportionately by any such requirements.

24. Reporting Requirements. The Order does not adopt new reporting requirements.

25. Recordkeeping Requirements. The Order does not adopt new recordkeeping requirements.

26. Other Compliance Requirements. The Order does not adopt new compliance requirements. Because no commenter provided information specifically quantifying the costs and administrative burdens of complying with the existing recordkeeping requirements, we cannot precisely estimate the impact on small entities of eliminating them. The adopted rule revisions remove certain record keeping requirements for all affected broadcast licensees, including small entities. Numerous parties in the Modernization of Media Regulation Initiative, including all parties which commented on the NPRM have requested that the Commission remove broadcast license posting requirements and related record keeping requirements and no parties in this proceeding opposed such proposals.

27. Steps Taken to Minimize Significant Economic Impact on Small Entities, and Significant Alternatives Considered. The RFA requires an agency to describe any significant alternatives that it has considered in reaching its approach, which may include the following four alternatives (among others): (1) The establishment of differing compliance or reporting requirements or timetables that take into account the resources available to small entities; (2) the clarification, consolidation, or simplification of compliance or reporting requirements under the rule for small entities; (3) the use of performance, rather than design, standards; and (4) an exemption from coverage of the rule, or any part thereof, for small entities.⁴⁴

28. The Order eliminates recordkeeping obligations requiring the posting of broadcast stations’ license and other authorizations.⁴⁵ These actions are intended to modernize the Commission’s regulations and reduce costs and recordkeeping burdens for affected entities, including small entities. Under the revised rules, affected entities no longer will need to expend time and resources posting licenses and related information already available to the Commission, and most of which is publicly accessible by electronic means.

B. Paperwork Reduction Analysis

29. This document eliminates, and thus does not contain new or revised, information collection requirements subject to the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995 (PRA), Public Law 104–13, 44 U.S.C. 3501–3520. In addition, therefore, it does not contain any new or modified “information burden for small business concerns with fewer than 25 employees” pursuant to the Small Business Paperwork Relief Act of 2002, Public Law 107–198, 44 U.S.C. 3506(c)(4).

Coastal Migratory Pelagic Resources of the Gulf of Mexico and Atlantic Region; Commercial Trip Limit Increase for King Mackerel in the Atlantic Southern Zone

AGENCY: National Marine Fisheries Service (NMFS), National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration (NOAA), Commerce.

ACTION: Temporary rule; trip limit increase.

SUMMARY: NMFS increases the commercial trip limit for king mackerel in or from Federal waters in an area off the Florida east coast between the border of Flagler and Volusia Counties and the border of Miami-Dade and Monroe Counties in the Atlantic southern zone to 75 fish per day. This commercial trip limit increase is necessary to maximize the socioeconomic benefits associated with harvesting the commercial quota of Atlantic migratory group king mackerel. DATES: This temporary rule is effective from 12:01 a.m., local time, on February 7, 2019, through February 28, 2019.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Karla Gore, NMFS Southeast Regional Office, telephone: 727-824-5305, email: karla.gore@noaa.gov.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The fishery for coastal migratory pelagic fish

includes king mackerel, Spanish mackerel, and cobia, and is managed under the Fishery Management Plan for the Coastal Migratory Pelagic Resources of the Gulf of Mexico and Atlantic Region (FMP). The FMP was prepared by the Gulf of Mexico and South Atlantic Fishery Management Councils and is implemented by NMFS under the authority of the Magnuson-Stevens Fishery Conservation and Management Act (Magnuson-Stevens Act) by regulations at 50 CFR part 622. All weights for Atlantic migratory group king mackerel (Atlantic king mackerel) below apply as either round or gutted weight.

On April 11, 2017, NMFS published a final rule to implement Amendment 26 to the FMP in the Federal Register (82 FR 17387). That final rule adjusted the management boundaries, zones, and annual catch limits for Atlantic king mackerel. The commercial quota for Atlantic king mackerel in the southern zone is 4,001,920 lb (1,815,240 kg) for the current fishing year, March 1, 2018, through February 28, 2019 (50 CFR 622.384(b)(2)(ii)). The seasonal quotas are 2,401,152 lb (1,089,144 kg) for the period March 1 through September 30 (50 CFR 622.384(b)(2)(ii)(A)), and 1,600,768 lb (726,096 kg) for October 1 through the end of February (50 CFR 622.384(b)(2)(ii)(B)).

The Atlantic king mackerel southern zone encompasses an area of Federal waters south of a line extending from the state border of North Carolina and South Carolina, as specified in 50 CFR 622.2, and north of a line extending due east from the border of Miami-Dade and Monroe Counties, Florida (50 CFR 622.369(a)(2)(ii)). From October 1 through January 31, the commercial trip limit for king mackerel in or from the southern zone that may be possessed on board or landed from a federally permitted vessel is 50 fish per day (50 CFR 622.385(a)(1)(ii)(C)).

However, if NMFS determines that less than 70 percent of the Atlantic southern zone commercial quota specified in 50 CFR 622.384(b)(2)(ii)(B) has been harvested by February 1, then during the month of February, the commercial trip limit for king mackerel in or from a specified area of the southern zone that may be possessed on board or landed from a federally permitted vessel is increased to 75 fish per day (50 CFR 622.385(a)(1)(ii)(D)). The area of the southern zone in which the commercial trip limit increase applies is in Federal waters south of 29°25' N lat., which is a line that extends due east from the border of Flagler and Volusia Counties, Florida, and north of 25°20'24" N lat., which is
