This report describes the Bureau's fair lending activities in prioritization, supervision, enforcement, rulemaking, interagency coordination, and outreach for calendar year 2017.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

1. Fair Lending Report of the Bureau of Consumer Financial Protection, December 2018

Message from Mick Mulvaney, Acting Director

This Fair Lending Report of the Bureau of Consumer Financial Protection describes the Bureau's fair lending activities for 2017, consistent with its statutory mandate to ensure that consumers are protected from discrimination (12 U.S.C. 5511(b)(2)). These efforts included:

- Providing oversight and enforcement of Federal laws intended to ensure the fair, equitable, and nondiscriminatory access to credit for both individuals and communities that are enforced by the Bureau, including the Equal Credit Opportunity Act

(ECOA)¹ and the Home Mortgage Disclosure Act (HMDA);²

- Coordinating fair lending efforts of the Bureau with other Federal agencies and State regulators, as appropriate, to promote consistent, efficient, and effective enforcement of Federal fair lending laws; and
- Working with private industry, fair lending, civil rights, consumer and community advocates on the promotion of fair lending compliance and education.

This report fulfills the Bureau's statutory responsibility to, among other things, report annually to Congress on public enforcement actions taken by other agencies with administrative enforcement responsibilities under ECOA, and assessments of the extent to which compliance with ECOA has been achieved (15 U.S.C. 1691f). It also fulfills the statutory requirement that the Bureau, in consultation with HUD, report annually on the utility of HMDA's requirement that covered lenders itemize certain mortgage loan data (12 U.S.C. 2807).

Sincerely,

Mick Mulvaney,

*Message from Patrice Alexander Ficklin
Director, Office of Fair Lending and Equal Opportunity.*

In 2017, the Office of Fair Lending and Equal Opportunity completed its sixth full year of stewardship over the Bureau's efforts to fulfill its fair lending mandate. 2017 was distinguished as a year in which the Office continued to focus on promoting fair, equitable and nondiscriminatory access to credit in mortgage lending, deepened its supervisory work in servicing and small business lending, and embarked on new efforts to encourage innovation in expanding credit access.

Mortgage lending remained a priority for the Bureau's fair lending supervisory and enforcement activity, focusing on redlining, underwriting, pricing, steering, servicing and HMDA data integrity. The Bureau announced a significant HMDA enforcement action in 2017, reinforcing the importance of the legal requirement that covered mortgage lenders must report accurate data about mortgage transactions. HMDA data is a critical component of the effective enforcement of fair lending laws.

Beyond mortgages, we know that other lending markets play a vital role in allowing consumers to fully participate as stakeholders in our economy, strengthening our communities, and expanding opportunities to build wealth for businesses and consumers alike. In 2017, the Bureau announced an enforcement action addressing discrimination in the terms and conditions of credit cards, and conducted significant fair lending supervisory activity in student loan servicing and small business lending.

The Office continued to partner with colleagues across the Bureau in outreach to support innovation that promotes "fair, equitable, and nondiscriminatory access to credit for both individuals and communities," culminating in the Bureau's issuance of its first no-action letter (NAL) to Upstart Network, Inc., a company that uses alternative data in making credit and pricing decisions. I led the Bureau's engagement with Upstart, in furtherance of our interest in exploring methods of achieving fair lending compliance in conjunction with the use of alternative data and the potential benefits of such data in expanding credit access.

As 2017 drew to a close, the Office welcomed Acting Director Mick Mulvaney, and began work to implement his commitment to enforce the fair lending laws under the Bureau's jurisdiction.

I am proud of the Office's work not only in 2017, but also throughout its history in fulfilling its Dodd-Frank mandate to protect America's consumers from lending discrimination and promote credit access. To that end, I am excited to share our progress with this, our sixth, Fair Lending Report.³

Sincerely,

Patrice Alexander Ficklin
