History and Description of the Cultural Items

Sometime in the 20th century, two cultural items were removed from Wrangell, AK. One of the objects, a S'aaxw (hat), was acquired by Axel Rasmussen prior to his death in 1945. In 1948, it was acquired by the Portland Art Museum (PAM). In 1955-56, the PAM deaccessioned the object and sold it to the Birmingham Museum of Art (accession number 1956.48.26).

The other object, a Keet Koowaal (Killerwhale with a Hole in its Fin), was purchased by the Birmingham Museum of Art in 2000 from Axis Gallery in NY (accession number 2000.83). Axis Gallery had purchased it in May 2000 from Mac Grimmer, who had purchased it from Alan Steele in April 2000. According to Axis Gallery, this object was once in the collection of Patricia Withof, and prior to that, it was in an English private collection.

Based on consultation with the Central Council of the Tlingit & Haida Indian Tribes, the Birmingham Museum of Art can reasonably show that these objects of cultural patrimony are culturally affiliated with the Tlingit and Haida Indian Tribes.

Determinations Made by the Birmingham Museum of Art

Officials of the Birmingham Museum of Art have determined that:

- Pursuant to 25 U.S.C. 3001(3)(D), the two cultural items described above have ongoing historical, traditional, or cultural importance central to a Native American group or culture itself, rather than property owned by an individual.

- Pursuant to 25 U.S.C. 3001(2), there is a relationship of shared group identity that can be reasonably traced between the objects of cultural patrimony and the Central Council of the Tlingit & Haida Tribes.

Additional Requestors and Disposition

Lineal descendants or representatives of any Indian Tribe or Native Hawaiian organization not identified in this notice that wish to claim these cultural items should submit a written request with information in support of the claim to Emily G.
