In order to meet the requirements of the Uniform Code of Military Justice and Rules for Courts-Martial that will take effect on January 1, 2019, in accordance with Executive Order 13825 titled “2018 Amendments to the Manual for Courts-Martial,” this notice includes the following updates:

(1) Routine Use “J” is required to meet the requirements of the Manual for Courts-Martial, United States (2019 ed.), Pt. II, Rules for Courts-Martial 1106 and 1106A; and

(2) Routine Use “K” is required to meet the requirements of the Manual for Courts-Martial, United States (2019 ed.), Pt. II, Rule for Courts-Martial 1112(b).

Routine Use “J” will allow the accused and crime victims or their counsel to access the court-martial records in order to prepare matters to be submitted to the convening authority within the time limit prescribed in the Rules for Court Martial. Routine Use “K” will allow the accused, a victim of an offense of which the accused was charged, if the victim testified during the proceedings, and any victim named in a specification of which the accused was charged, to receive a copy of the record of trial upon request per the Rules for Courts-Martial. Routine Uses “J” and “K” are new and will be

Additionally, DHS/USCG is modifying Routine Use “E” and adding Routine Use “F” to conform to OMB Memorandum M–17–12 “Preparing for and Responding to a Breach of Personally Identifiable Information” (January 3, 2017). Routine Use “I” from the previous version of this SORN regarding the sharing of statistical data about the information in this system of records has been removed. All routine uses have been renumbered to account for these changes. Lastly, DHS is making non-substantive changes to the text and formatting of this SORN to align with previously published DHS SORNs.

Consistent with DHS’s information sharing mission, records covered by this SORN may be shared with other DHS Components that have a need to know the information to carry out their national security, law enforcement, immigration, intelligence, or other homeland security functions. In addition, DHS/USCG may share information with appropriate federal, state, local, tribal, territorial, foreign, or international government agencies consistent with the routine uses set forth in this system of records notice.

This modified system will be included in DHS’s inventory of record systems.

II. Privacy Act

The Privacy Act embodies fair information practice principles in a statutory framework governing the means by which Federal Government agencies collect, maintain, use, and disseminate individuals’ records. The Privacy Act applies to information that is maintained in a “system of records.” A “system of records” is a group of any records under the control of an agency from which information is retrieved by the name of an individual or by some identifying number, symbol, or other identifying particular assigned to the individual. In the Privacy Act, an individual is defined to encompass U.S. citizens and lawful permanent residents. Additionally, the Judicial Redress Act (JRA) provides covered persons with a statutory right to make requests for access and amendment to covered records, as defined by the JRA, along with judicial review for denials of such requests. In addition, the JRA prohibits disclosures of covered records, except as otherwise permitted by the Privacy Act.

- Explain why he or she believes the Department would have information being requested;
- Identify which component(s) of the Department he or she believes may have the information;
- Specify when the individual believes the records would have been created; and
- Provide any other information that will help the FOIA staff determine which DHS component agency may have responsive records.

If an individual's request is seeking records pertaining to another living individual, the first individual must include a statement from the second individual certifying his/her agreement for the first individual to access his/her records.

Without the above information, the component(s) may not be able to conduct an effective search, and the individual's request may be denied due to lack of specificity or lack of compliance with applicable regulations.
