Interagency Operations Advisory Group (IOAG)—Industry Exchange; WebcastAGENCY: National Aeronautics and Space Administration.ACTION: Notice of webcast.

SUMMARY: In accordance with The National Aeronautics and Space Act, The National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) announces a webcast for U.S. industry on the Interagency Operations Advisory Group (IOAG)—Industry Exchange.

DATES: Monday, July 15, 2019, 1 p.m.–3 p.m., Eastern Time.ADDRESSES: Virtual. Participation information available upon approval of RSVP.FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Ms. Barbara Adde, Director of Policy and Strategic Communications, Space Communications and Navigation Program Office, NASA Headquarters, Washington, DC 20546, (202) 358–1912 or Barbara.adde@nasa.gov.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: NASA is pleased to invite U.S. space industry to participate in a webcast on Monday, July 15, 2019 from 1:00–3:00 p.m. ET. The purpose of this meeting is to share the potential benefits of involvement with the IOAG and receive feedback on whether companies have an interest in pursuing this interaction. The Interagency Operations Advisory Group (IOAG) provides a forum for identifying common needs across multiple international space agencies for coordinating space communications policy, high-level procedures, technical interfaces, and other matters related to interoperability and space communications. Following the webcast, you will be asked to complete a survey about your interest in discussing this opportunity further with NASA. On Tuesday, September 17, 2019, the IOAG will hold an Exchange with international industry to discuss interoperability and the future challenges of space operations with a focus on the provision of communications services. Companies that expressed interest in exploring a relationship with the IOAG via the survey and follow up meetings with NASA will be invited to participate in the international meeting hosted by the United Kingdom Space Agency (UKSA) at the Goonhilly Earth Station. Participation may be in person or remotely. To learn more about the IOAG-Industry Exchange and the IOAG's membership, working groups, and responsibilities please visit <https://www.ioag.org/About/workshop.aspx>. Information on how to join the webcast will be sent to the email address provided in the RSVP below.

Records Schedules; Availability and Request for CommentsAGENCY: National Archives and Records Administration (NARA).ACTION: Notice of availability of proposed records schedules; request for comments

SUMMARY: The National Archives and Records Administration (NARA) publishes notice of certain Federal agency requests for records disposition authority (records schedules). We publish notice in the Federal Register and on regulations.gov for records schedules in which agencies propose to dispose of records they no longer need to conduct agency business. We invite public comments on such records schedules.

DATES: NARA must receive comments by August 12, 2019.ADDRESSES: You may submit comments by either of the following methods. You must cite the control number, which appears on the records schedule in parentheses after the name of the agency that submitted the schedule.

- Federal eRulemaking Portal: <http://www.regulations.gov>.

- Mail: Records Appraisal and Agency Assistance (ACR); National Archives and Records Administration; 8601 Adelphi Road; College Park, MD 20740–6001.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Records Management Operations by email at request.schedule@nara.gov, by mail at the address above, or by phone at 301-837-1799.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Public Comment Procedures

We are publishing notice of records schedules in which agencies propose to dispose of records they no longer need to conduct agency business. We invite public comments on these records schedules, as required by 44 U.S.C. 3303a(a), and list the schedules at the end of this notice by agency and subdivision requesting disposition authority.

In addition, this notice lists the organizational unit(s) accumulating the records or states that the schedule has agency-wide applicability. It also provides the control number assigned to each schedule, which you will need if you submit comments on that schedule. We have uploaded the records schedules and accompanying appraisal memoranda to the regulations.gov docket for this notice as "other" documents. Each records schedule contains a full description of the records at the file unit level as well as their proposed disposition. The appraisal memorandum for the schedule includes information about the records.

We will post comments, including any personal information and attachments, to the public docket unchanged. Because comments are public, you are responsible for ensuring that you do not include any confidential or other information that you or a third party may not wish to be publicly posted. If you want to submit a comment with confidential information or cannot otherwise use the regulations.gov portal, you may contact request.schedule@nara.gov for instructions on submitting your comment.

We will consider all comments submitted by the posted deadline and consult as needed with the Federal agency seeking the disposition authority. After considering comments, we will post on regulations.gov a "Consolidated Reply" summarizing the comments, responding to them, and noting any changes we have made to the proposed records schedule. We will then send the schedule for final approval by the Archivist of the United States. You may elect at regulations.gov to receive updates on the docket, including an alert when we post the Consolidated Reply, whether or not you submit a comment. You may request additional information about the disposition process through the contact information listed above.

We will post schedules on our website in the Records Control Schedule (RCS) Repository, at <https://www.archives.gov/records-mgmt/rcs>, after the Archivist approves them. The RCS contains all schedules approved since 1973.

Background

Each year, Federal agencies create billions of records. To control this accumulation, agency records managers prepare schedules proposing retention periods for records and submit these schedules for NARA's approval. Once approved by NARA, records schedules provide mandatory instructions on what happens to records when no longer needed for current Government business. The records schedules authorize agencies to preserve records of continuing value in the National Archives or to destroy, after a specified period, records lacking continuing administrative, legal, research, or other value. Some schedules are comprehensive and cover all the records of an agency or one of its major subdivisions. Most schedules, however, cover records of only one office or program or a few series of records. Many of these update previously approved schedules, and some include records proposed as permanent.

Agencies may not destroy Federal records without the approval of the Archivist of the United States. The Archivist grants this approval only after thorough consideration of the records' administrative use by the agency of origin, the rights of the Government and of private people directly affected by the Government's activities, and whether or not the records have historical or other value. Public review and comment on these records schedules is part of the Archivist's consideration process.
