Title: Conflicts of Interest Policies and Procedures by Futures Commission Merchants and Introducing Brokers (OMB Control No. 3038-0078). This is a request for an extension of a currently approved information collection.

Abstract: On April 3, 2012, the Commission adopted Commission regulation 1.71 (Conflicts of interest policies and procedures by futures commission merchants and introducing brokers)<sup>2</sup> pursuant to section 4d(c)<sup>3</sup> of the Commodity Exchange Act (CEA). Commission regulation 1.71 requires generally that, among other things, futures commission merchants (FCM)<sup>4</sup> and introducing brokers (IB)<sup>5</sup> develop conflicts of interest procedures and disclosures, adopt and implement written policies and procedures reasonably designed to ensure compliance with their conflicts of interest and disclosure obligations, and maintain specified records related to those requirements.<sup>6</sup> The Commission believes that the information collection obligations imposed by Commission regulation 1.71 are essential (i) to ensuring that FCMs and IBs develop and maintain the conflicts of interest systems, procedures and disclosures required by the CEA, and Commission regulations, and (ii) to the effective evaluation of these registrants' actual compliance with the CEA and Commission regulations.

An agency may not conduct or sponsor, and a person is not required to respond to, a collection of information unless it displays a currently valid OMB control number. On April 9, 2019, the Commission published in the Federal Register notice of the proposed extension of this information collection and provided 60 days for public comment on the proposed extension, 84 FR 14098 (60-Day Notice). The Commission did not receive any relevant comments on the 60-Day Notice.

Burden Statement: The Commission is revising its estimate of the burden for this collection to reflect the current number of registered FCMs and IBs. Accordingly, the respondent burden for this collection is estimated to be as follows:

Estimated Number of Respondents: 1,244.

Estimated Average Burden Hours per Respondent: 44.5.

Estimated Total Annual Burden Hours: 55,358.

Frequency of Collection: As applicable.

There are no capital costs or operating and maintenance costs associated with this collection.

Abstract: Under the Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act, the Bureau is tasked with researching, analyzing, and reporting on topics relating to the Bureau's mission, including developments in markets for consumer financial products and services, consumer awareness, and consumer behavior. Under this generic information collection plan, the Bureau collects data through controlled trials in field and economic laboratory settings. This research is used for developmental and informative purposes to increase the Bureau's understanding of consumer credit markets and household financial decision-making. Basic research projects will be submitted under this clearance.

In consultation with OMB, the Bureau is proposing to modify this generic information collection plan to provide for public notice and opportunity to comment to OMB for each request submitted under this generic information collection plan.

Information Collections

Title of Collection: Savings and Debt Study.

Generic Information Collection Plan.

Affected Public: Individuals or households.

Estimated Number of Respondents: 2,000.

Estimated Total Annual Burden Hours: 500.

Abstract: This study will explore consumers' perceptions and motivations around the experience of managing savings and credit card debt simultaneously. The goal of this project is to better understand consumers' preferences for savings and debt management strategies, which can inform the development of useful and effective financial educational materials.

Title of Collection: Vague Language in Disclosures Study.

Affected Public: Individuals or households.

Estimated Number of Respondents: 9,200.

Estimated Total Annual Burden Hours: 2,800.

Abstract: This is a research project designed to generate foundational knowledge relevant to the design of disclosures. This project will provide knowledge about how vague language influences the efficacy of disclosures. Learning about the effects of vague language on consumer understanding and use of disclosures will provide Bureau researchers with information that may help them anticipate how consumers will respond to a disclosure.

Title of Collection: Tiered Disclosure Study.

Affected Public: Individuals or households.

Estimated Number of Respondents: 315.

Estimated Total Annual Burden Hours: 630.

Abstract: In this laboratory research, we will conduct a project related to financial disclosure. This study will examine the effects of different methods of disclosure simplification, each designed to help consumers make choices. In order to estimate these effects, participants will make choices in a marketplace environment that we construct. These marketplaces will vary in terms of the disclosure form and function. All respondents will be members of an institution's participant pool who also express interest in taking part in this research study. Participants will come to the institution's laboratory to participate. The data that results from this project will be analyzed for research purposes only.

Title of Collection: Financial Scale Development Testing.

Affected Public: Individuals or households.

Estimated Number of Respondents: 2,058.

Estimated Total Annual Burden Hours: 562.

Abstract: In this research, we will develop a scale measuring financial behaviors. Specifically, we focus on the tendency of consumers to take action(s) to mitigate financial challenges that they anticipate. Previous research has distinguished between consumers who do and do not foresee these types of challenges. However, research has not established whether the tendency to engage in these behaviors can be measured in a reliable way. Specifically, no valid scales currently exist to measure this trait. Our research fills this gap. To develop this scale, we will perform two types of data collection. First, we will perform in-depth interviews with a small sample of consumers to ensure that our questionnaire is easy to understand and does not cause respondent confusion. Second, we will conduct a series of rounds of data collection in which we will collect responses to the questionnaire from U.S. consumers aged 18 and older. We will analyze the responses received in each round of data collection to refine the questionnaire. Respondents will be sampled from an internet panel. All participants will volunteer to participate. The data that results from this project will be analyzed for research purposes only.

Title of Collection: Disclosure Market Study.

Affected Public: Individuals or households.

Estimated Number of Respondents: 240.

Estimated Total Annual Burden Hours: 480.

Abstract: This study examines the effect of different disclosure regimes on market outcomes. In order to estimate these effects, we will invite people to participate in laboratory research in which they will make choices in a marketplace environment that we construct. These marketplaces will vary in terms of the disclosure requirements. This laboratory study builds upon earlier work conducted by the Bureau that examines how the number of product attributes in a disclosure affects outcomes including consumers' choice of providers and realized market prices. The earlier study found that when the number of attributes of a product increased (keeping product quality and features constant), consumers selected the more expensive product ten times more often, and market prices increased by over 30%. This study builds on that work by examining whether and how the findings change with increased competition in the market.

Request for Comments: The Bureau issued a 60-day Federal Register notice on February 6, 2019, 84 FR 2175, Docket Number: CFPB-2019-0005. Comments were solicited and continue to be invited on: (a) Whether the collection of information is necessary for the proper performance of the functions of the Bureau, including whether the information will have practical utility; (b) The accuracy of the Bureau's estimate of the burden of the collection of information, including the validity of the methods and the assumptions used; (c) Ways to enhance the quality, utility, and clarity of the information to be collected; and (d) Ways to minimize the burden of the collection of information on respondents, including through the use of automated collection techniques or other forms of information technology. Comments may address the overall information collection request plan of any or all of the individual collections. Comments submitted in response to this notice will be reviewed by OMB as part of its review of this request. All comments will become a matter of public record.
