NATIONAL CREDIT UNION ADMINISTRATION

12 CFR Part 790

RIN 3133-AF04

Office Name Change

AGENCY: National Credit Union Administration (NCUA).

ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: The NCUA Board (Board) is issuing a final rule to update its regulations to reflect the renaming of its “Office of Public and Congressional Affairs.” The office was recently renamed the “Office of External Affairs and Communications.”

DATES: The final rule is effective August 8, 2019.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Thomas I. Zells, Staff Attorney, Office of General Counsel, at 1775 Duke Street, Alexandria, VA 22314 or telephone: (703) 548-2478.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

- I. Background
- II. Regulatory Procedures

I. Background

The Board renamed the “Office of Public and Congressional Affairs” to the “Office of External Affairs and Communications” on July 18, 2019. The new name for the office better encapsulates its scope and duties. This rulemaking amends part 790 of the NCUA’s regulations to reflect the office’s new name.

II. Regulatory Procedures

A. Final Rule Under the Administrative Procedure Act (APA)

Generally, the APA requires a federal agency to provide the public with notice and an opportunity to comment on agency rulemakings.¹ This rule is exempt from the APA’s notice and comment requirement because it only addresses the NCUA’s organization and structure.²

B. Effective Date

The APA also generally requires publication of a rule in the Federal Register at least 30 days before the effective date of the rule. Agencies can dispense with the 30-day requirement for good cause.³ The NCUA finds good cause to dispense with the 30-day effective date requirement, as this rule is technical rather than substantive. The rule will be effective immediately upon publication.

C. Regulatory Flexibility Act

The Regulatory Flexibility Act (RFA) generally requires that, in connection with a final rule, an agency prepare and make available for public comment a final regulatory flexibility analysis that describes the impact of the final rule on small entities. A regulatory flexibility analysis is not required, however, if the agency certifies that the rule will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities (defined for purposes of the RFA to include credit unions with assets less than $100 million)⁴ and publishes its certification and a short, explanatory statement in the Federal Register together with the rule. The final rule makes only technical changes and will not have an impact on small credit unions. Accordingly, the NCUA certifies that this final rule will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small credit unions.

D. Paperwork Reduction Act

This final rule contains no provisions constituting a collection of information under the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995.⁵

E. Executive Order 13132

Executive Order 13132 encourages independent regulatory agencies to consider the impact of their actions on state and local interests. In adherence to fundamental federalism principles, the NCUA, an independent regulatory agency as defined in 44 U.S.C. 3502(5), voluntarily complies with the executive order. This rulemaking will not have a substantial direct effect on the states, on the connection between the national government and the states, or on the distribution of power and responsibilities among the various levels of government. The NCUA has determined that this final rule does not constitute a policy that has federalism implications for purposes of the executive order.

F. Assessment of Federal Regulations and Policies on Families

The NCUA has determined that this final rule will not affect family well-being within the meaning of Section 654 of the Treasury and General Government Appropriations Act, 1999.⁶

Airworthiness Directives; Airbus SAS Airplanes

AGENCY: Federal Aviation Administration (FAA), DOT.

ACTION: Final rule; request for comments.

SUMMARY: The FAA is adopting a new airworthiness directive (AD) for certain Airbus SAS Model A319-111, -112, -115, and -131 airplanes, and Model

A320-214 and -232 airplanes. This AD was prompted by a report of the fracture of a main landing gear (MLG) sliding tube axle, and an investigation that determined the cause to be an incorrect repair. This AD requires a repetitive magnetic particle inspection (MPI) of affected MLG sliding tubes for discrepancies; a one-time Barkhausen noise inspection (BNI) or alternative non-destructive test (NDT) inspection, and a detailed visual inspection of affected MLG sliding tube axles for discrepancies; and corrective actions if necessary, as specified in a European Union Aviation Safety Agency (EASA) AD, which is incorporated by reference. Accomplishing the BNI and applicable corrective actions, or replacing the affected parts, constitutes terminating action for the repetitive MPI. The FAA is issuing this AD to address the unsafe condition on these products.

DATES: This AD becomes effective August 23, 2019.

The Director of the Federal Register approved the incorporation by reference of a certain publication listed in this AD as of August 23, 2019.

We must receive comments on this AD by September 23, 2019.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Discussion

The EASA, which is the Technical Agent for the Member States of the European Union, has issued EASA Emergency AD 2019-0151-E, dated June 28, 2019 ("EASA Emergency AD 2019-0151-E") (also referred to as the Mandatory Continuing Airworthiness Information, or "the MCAI"), to correct an unsafe condition for certain Airbus SAS Model A319-111, -112, -115, and -131 airplanes, and Model A320-214 and -232 airplanes. The MCAI states:

An occurrence was reported where, during pushback of an aeroplane, a MLG sliding tube axle fractured. Investigation results revealed an incorrect accomplishment of a repair at the previous overhaul of the chromium plated axle diameters, which resulted in the overheat damage to the sliding tube axle journal(s). This initiated a crack which, under fatigue effects, led to fracture of the MLG sliding tube axle. A limited number of MLG sliding tubes has been identified that may have been subject to the same incorrect repair.

This condition, if not detected, could lead to MLG sliding tube axle fracture, possibly resulting in MLG collapse, damage to the aeroplane, and injury to occupants.

To address this potential unsafe condition, SAFRAN Landing Systems issued the SB [service bulletin] (later revised), providing the list of affected parts and inspection instructions. Consequently, EASA issued AD 2019-0147 to require a one-time inspection of affected parts and, depending on findings, accomplishment of applicable corrective action(s).

Since that [EASA] AD was issued, after chrome removal on one affected part, a crack was found on the inner chromed land area. Airbus issued the AOT [Alert Operators Transmission] to provide instructions for repetitive magnetic particle inspections
