SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

I. Background on Electronic Rulemaking Management

OGP’s Office of Regulation Management manages two programs that deliver shared regulatory IT services. The eRulemaking Program Management Office manages regulations.gov and the Federal Docket Management System (FDMS). The Regulatory Information Service Center (RISC) manages RegInfo.gov and the RISC/OIRA Consolidated Information System (ROCIS). GSA’s strategy for Rulemaking Modernization is three-fold:

1. Better integrate data and information technology among Federal regulatory information systems to support data analytics, both for rulemakers and members of the public.
2. Apply innovative approaches to promote public access, accountability, and transparency.
3. Reduce duplication and increase efficiency across the Federal rulemaking landscape through improved processes and technologies.

Docket No. GSA–2020–0002; Sequence No. 16 at regulations.gov will contain background documents on various topics on the regulatory process within a docket.

You can discover more about the Office of Regulation Management and its regulatory work at: <https://www.gsa.gov/policy-regulations/regulations/how-you-can-improve-regulations>.

You can discover more about e-Rulemaking, including FDMS and www.Regulations.gov at: <https://www.fdms.gov/fdms/public/aboutus> and <https://www.regulations.gov/aboutProgram>.

II. Public Meetings

GSA will be conducting a virtual public meeting on April 30, 2020, from 2 p.m. to 4 p.m., ET. This is a rescheduled meeting originally announced in notice 84 FR–72364 for March 25, 2020. GSA has selected presenters on topics that relate to:

- General challenges and opportunities for analysis across multiple regulations, including use cases. For example, a single regulated entity may be subject to requirements from multiple overlapping or inconsistent regulations.
- How desirable is it to enhance public participation across the entire life cycle of a rulemaking, from law, to regulation, to U.S. Code? What are the benefits?
- What types of data analysis tools or reports would be useful for the public?
- What types of regulatory trends or information should be analyzed to benefit the regulatory process?
- What technologies or policies could assist with sharing of data or interoperability of regulatory management systems across the Federal government?
- What are the challenges and opportunities for third party service providers to use regulatory information alone or in combination with other data to deliver services or analysis?
- What technologies or policies could assist with increasing public access to data for or through third party applications?

Check for additional information regarding meeting logistics on regulations.gov, “Docket No. GSA–2020–0002; Sequence No. 16.” as dates approach. Updates will also be on the EventBrite registration page at <https://regulatorydata.eventbrite.com>. Questions may be directed to eRulemaking@gsa.gov.

Meeting Accommodations: A full transcript of the meeting will be made available on regulations.gov within two weeks.

Closed captioning is available during the meeting and will be automatically presented through your browser. Technical support will be available in the webinar chat room should anyone have difficulty.

Specific suggestions on service management, including performance measures and approaches for ongoing customer engagement would also be helpful.

Comments are also welcome on related technology services, including any specific recommendations for how technology can be applied to achieve specific business needs for regulatory management.

GSA also welcomes any references to existing research, processes, services, or technologies directly related to regulation management or related to functions that can be applied to regulation management.

Please note that comments on individually proposed rulemakings or other agency actions should be addressed to the specific agency and any dockets that they have created for that action. The role of GSA is that of a shared service provider for supporting public participation and government efficiencies in the regulatory process.

Director, eRulemaking Program Management Office, Office of Regulation Management, Office of Government-wide Policy, General Services Administration.
